U.S. POPULATION (CONTINENTAL) IS 122,728,873

With Possessions It's 137,501,561.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—(AP)—The population of continental United States on the basis of official preliminary census figures is 122,728,873.

This figure was compiled tonight from official announcements given Associated Press bureaus by census supervisors in the various states after completing the enumeration, which began April 2.

Only one district in the United States—in Clearfield county, Pennsylvania—was incomplete, but a preliminary estimate tonight by the census supervisor placed its population at [illegible].

The total figure for the United States' population is, however, subject to revision in the census bureau's official announcement, which is not expected for another week or more.

Territories of the United States and outlying possessions, not included in the continental United States total, bring the nation's grand total of population to 137,501,561. This figure includes an estimate for the Philippine Islands, whose census is controlled by the insular government, which has not made an enumeration for several years.

Compared with Decade Ago.

The population of the United States and all of its possessions, and comparative figures of ten years ago, follow:

	1930.	1920.
Continental U. S.	122,728,873	105,710,620
Alaska	59,000	55,036
American Samoa	9,956	8,056
Guam	18,521	13,275
Hawaii	386,336	255,912
Panama canal zone	39,469	22,858
Porto Rico	1,543,713	1,299,809
Philippine Islands	12,604,100	10,350,640
Virgin Islands	22,102	26,051
Military, naval, and civil serv. abroad	89,381	117,238
Totals	137,501,561	117,850,395

The country has had the largest numerical increase for continental United States in its history during the last ten years, despite restricted immigration and a declining birth rate. There was an increase of 17,018,253 people in the decade, compared with the previous record increase for a ten year period of 15,977,691, made between 1900 and 1910.

In rate of growth the last decade made a better showing than that which ended in 1920. The increase was 16.1 per cent, compared with 14.9 per cent from 1910 to 1920, and 21.0 per cent from 1900 to 1910.

Compared with 1790.

The following table shows how the nation has grown since 1790, when the first census was taken:

	Population.	Increase pct.
1930	122,728,873	16.1
1920	105,710,620	14.9
1910	91,972,266	21.0
1900	75,994,575	20.7
1890	62,947,714	25.5
1880	50,155,783	30.1
1870	38,558,371	22.8
1860	31,443,321	35.6
1850	23,191,876	35.9
1840	17,069,453	32.7
1830	12,866,020	33.5
1820	9,638,453	33.1
1810	7,239,881	36.4
1800	5,308,483	35.1
1790	3,929,214	....

California had the largest rate of growth of any state, but was exceeded by New York in numerical increase. California's rate of growth was 64.6 per cent and her numerical increase was 2,215,421. New York's rate was 14 per cent and her numerical increase was 2,224,328.

Florida, second to California in increase percentage, rated a 51.4 per cent growth, with a numerical gain of 497,499. New Jersey, third in increase rate, added 26.8 per cent, a numerical gain of 846,668. Illinois showed a gain of 1,145,003, but is still third in population. Pennsylvania, with a gain of 918,082, remains second state.

Montana Loses Population.

Montana was the only state to show a decrease, 2.8 per cent loss, the numerical decline being 15,370. In the 1920 census, three states, Mississippi, Vermont, and Nevada, showed decrease in population. Arizona had the largest increase of that census, with 63.5 per cent gain, while Montana, second in line, had an increase of 43.3.

State Populations Shown.

The first complete list of preliminary totals of state populations, as compiled from official returns of census supervisors throughout the country, was completed tonight.

Rains Check Heat Wave and Drought

SHOWERS COOL CHICAGO; MORE MAY FALL TODAY

Heavy Downpour in Parts of Midwest.

A partial break in the drought, which had threatened ruin to the crops, and a recession of the protracted heat wave brought cheer to farmers and comfort to city folk throughout the central states yesterday.

Chicago, cooled and dampened by three thundershowers, was likely to get more rain today, as were other sections of the central forecast area, excepting Kansas, Nebraska, and the Dakotas. Somewhat higher temperatures, with a possible maximum of 90 degrees, were predicted for today and tomorrow in Chicago by Forecaster W. P. Day.

Following a comparatively cool night with the thermometer stationary at 72 degrees from midnight on, the first shower broke over Chicago and its environs about 9 a. m. There followed two more showers at three hour intervals, bringing the city's total precipitation for the day to .12 inch and the temperature was held to a maximum of 77 degrees.

Two Killed by Lightning.

Lightning bolts killed two Chicagoans in the morning. Edward J. Van Luven, 40 year old bricklayer of 339 East 11th street, was finishing the chimney on a new church at 142 West 104th street, when an electrical charge struck the building, knocking him off the roof.

Mrs. Emma Olson, 65 year old housewife of 7010 Stony Island avenue, was picking berries at Lakeside, near Gary, Ind., when the shower drove her to seek shelter beneath a tree. A bolt struck the trunk and the shock killed her.

Bring Relief from Drought.

The rain brought measurable benefit to parts of central and southern Illinois and sections of Iowa. A half inch rain fell in the vicinity of Centralia, Ill., failing, however, to check the long prevalent heat wave. Centralia's afternoon maximum was 100 degrees.

Drought conditions continued acute in the coal region around Duquoin, where no rain fell. At Security mine the management requested miners to forego shower baths until rain comes and the Illinois Central railroad discontinued drawing water for locomotives from a small lake near the mine.

Rain fell where it was least needed in Iowa, the northern sections around Mason City getting 2.45 inches, while the parched southern and central areas had only a spatter. Dubuque had 1.56 inches and Charles City 1.10 inches. Rain also fell at Davenport and Cresco. Showers swept away the heat wave, however, the temperature in Des Moines declining from 74 at 7 a. m. to 49 degrees at 7 p. m.

Fear Milk Shortage.

Unless further rains come to revive pastures, central Iowa will be confronted by a milk shortage within two weeks, Des Moines dairymen estimated. Distributors predicted the milk price would advance 1 cent a quart before Sept. 1, the wholesale price having been boosted 10 cents a hundred pounds, to $2.40, on Aug. 1.

Few readings above 100 were recorded on the weather summary last night, in contrast to the week-end summaries, when a large number of the observatories reported 100 degrees. Among cities sweltering in the gradually receding heat wave yesterday were: St. Louis, with a maximum of 98 degrees; Concordia, Kas., 98; Evansville, Ind., 100; Cairo, Ill., 98, and Peoria, 98.

Overnight showers and cloudiness afforded the southwest relief from the intense heat and some slight benefit to crops, while sections of Nebraska were drenched. The vicinity of Takemah, Neb., was soaked with 2.80 inches in a rainstorm approaching the proportions of a cloudburst, but the precipitation dwindled to a mere trace in other localities.

Feed Wheat to Live Stock.

Considerable wheat is being fed to live stock instead of corn in all parts of the corn belt, the Chicago office of the Farmers National Grain corporation announced yesterday. The corporation estimates that from 75,000,000 to 100,000,000 bushels of wheat will be diverted to stock feeding if the present market situation continues. September corn sold 2½

A HABERDASHER HELPS PRODIGAL DO HIS SHOPPING

"I made a killing at the races today and I'm out to spend my winnings on a new outfit," announced a shabbily dressed youth about 17 years old, who sauntered into Philip Washer's haberdashery at 17 North Dearborn street last evening.

"Glad you called," beamed Mr. Washer, beckoning his clerks, Leon Kobey and Nathan Bloom, to assist him with the sale. They were needed, for the prodigal customer, within the next half hour, selected enough shirts, ties, hats, hose, and underwear to make two bulky parcels.

"That will be just $68," said the delighted Mr. Washer, but the smile faded from his face as the customer drew a pistol, held the proprietor and clerks at bay, and lifted $100 from the cash register. Not forgetting the bundles, he walked out nonchalantly and was lost amid the crowd.

MODEL HUSBAND UNTIL HE JUDGED BATHING QUEENS

New York, Aug. 5.—(AP)—The Costellos got along fine, Mrs. Costello said today in filing suit for separation, until Mr. Costello acted as a judge in a bathing beauty contest at Atlantic City. Then his visits home became "spasmodic" and finally he ceased to come home at al. She was awarded $50 a week temporary alimony. The Costellos were married in Buffalo May 22, 1919, and have a son, Paul Jr., 9.

Gets One Day for Shooting Man He Found with Wife

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 5.—[Special.]—Superior Judge Tuttle of Nevada county, California, one of the "cow county" judges sitting on the Los Angeles bench during absence of regular jurists, today sentenced Shelton Herrin, department store clerk, to one day in jail. Herrin shot and wounded John Quickel after he had climbed into a second floor room of his home and found Quickel with his wife. "There is another guilty party in this case, and that is the woman," the judge stated.

Adolph B. Magnus Ill in Hospital After Operation

Adolph Busch Magnus, grandson of the late Adolphus Busch, founder of the Anheuser-Busch brewery of St. Louis, was seriously ill last night at the Grant hospital following a major operation performed by Dr. André L. Stapler. Mr. Magnus, who is 45 years old, was taken to the hospital on July 17, when the operation was performed. Formerly assistant manager of his grandfather's brewing interests, Mr. Magnus has been retired in recent years.

Women Raise Voices in Loop for Jury Seats

BY KATHLEEN McLAUGHLIN.

Illinois is going to be the twenty-second state in the Union to have women sit on juries, or the Woman's Bar association of the state is going to know why. Last night, crusading members of the organization lifted determined soprano voices in appeals to loop crowds to vote for the change at the referendum to be held in connection with the election of Nov. 4. They employed clanging cowbells, red flares, tooting auto horns, and all the panoply of old fashioned and effective political pageantry.

Piloting their own cars, collecting their own crowds and making their own speeches, the women attorneys set their case squarely before the street crowds on four busy loop corners, beginning at 9 o'clock. Men of their families and their profession lent assistance with encouraging applause at the right places, and now and then took a hand in passing out literature to their fellow listeners. Both men and women stopped and heeded the addresses.

Mrs. McCulloch Speaks.

Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCulloch, veteran of many a campaign in the old days of militant women's suffrage activities, led the oratory last night, although younger women acted as chairwomen at each stop made. But the crowds seemed to respond most heartily to Mrs. McCulloch's reassuring assertion, "We have nothing to sell you, but we have something we want to tell you." Then she proceeded deftly to the telling.

Privilege or obligation, whichever it may appear to the individual, jury service for women is wanted by the women of Illinois, was the burden of her argument. All but one of the states bordering on Illinois have women serving on juries, she said. Moreover, she concluded, women know more about many cases than men do, as when a dressmaker sues a client, and the jury has to decide whether the gown was a perfect fit—or not.

Urges Need of Women on Juries.

Miss Matilda Fenberg, assistant corporation counsel of Chicago, taxed her voice against the competition of surface cars, trucks and other loop clamors, to petition for the right to address a jury as "ladies and gentlemen of the jury," instead of the exclusive "gentlemen of the jury." Women who practice in the court know the need of women on juries in any number of cases, she said, and she further asserted the equal intelligence of women with men.

"Any man who is not a criminal, who is not an imbecile," she reminded her audience, "can sit on juries, but no matter how intelligent a woman is, she can't do so at present in Illinois. Are we going to be more backward than other states?"

Women were denied the right to serve on Illinois juries after a long legal battle which ended in the Superior court. The test case arose in 1925, when the name "H. Fyfe of Oak Park" on a jury venire was found to be Mrs. Hannah Fyfe.

Mrs. Fyfe was refused the right to serve because the law of the state carries the phrase, "The said [jury] commissioners shall prepare a list of all electors between the ages of 21 and 60," and "electors" was held to mean only men.

Reed, Legge's Critic, Losing Kansas Vote

Fought Farm Plan

Topeka, Kas., Aug. 5.—[Special.]—Gov. Charles M. Reed, in his campaign addresses centered his attacks on the administration's farm relief program and on Chairman Alexander Legge. This Reed-Legge duel was the big issue in the fight between Reed and Haucke for the governorship nomination.

Topeka, Kas., Aug. 6 [Wednesday]. —(AP)—Senator Henry J. Allen, stanch supporter of the Hoover administration, was indorsed for further service in Washington by the Republican voters of Kansas in yesterday's primary, winning the Republican nomination for the senate term ending in 1933 over three opponents.

But apparent defeat loomed for Gov. Clyde M. Reed, who gave Allen his senatorial appointment when Charles Curtis became Vice President. Frank [Chief] Haucke, a youngster in politics and former state commander of the American Legion, held a lead of 19,000 over Reed, which the governor seeking renomination had been unable to cut into as returns from 1,024 precincts out of 2,668 were tabulated.

With 1,085 precincts out of 2,668 in the state reported, Senator Allen commanded a plurality of more than 2 to 1 over Ralph Snyder, head of the Kansas farm bureau, who was in runnerup position. The vote in 1,085 precincts out of 2,668 in the state showed:

Allen	54,402
Ralph Snyder	24,786
W. H. Sproul	20,537
J. F. Getty	18,664

Haucke, young world war veteran with a strong personal following and the support of all the enemies of the Reed administration, took the lead over the governor in the first returns and held it tenaciously.

Vote on Governor.

Returns from 1,024 precincts of the 2,668 in the state gave:

Haucke	72,281
Reed	55,902

The Democratic vote was light, normal for an off year primary. For the Democratic gubernatorial nomination Harry H. Woodring of Neodesha, like Haucke, a former state commander of the American Legion, was leading Noah L. Bowman of Garnett, state representative. Returns from 865 precincts gave Woodring 13,640, Bowman 9,076.

Congressmen Renominated.

Renomination of congressional incumbents, wherever there are contests, was indicated in early returns. They were:

In the Third district, Harold McGugin, Coffeyville; in the First district, W. P. Lambertson; in the Second district, U. S. Guyer of Kansas City; in the Sixth district, Charles I. Sparks of Goodland.

In the Seventh district, where the Republican incumbent, Clifford R. Hope of Garden City, had no opposition, H. C. Ledyard of Hutchinson, from 12 precincts out of 501, had 188 votes; A. S. Allphin of Dighton, 107.

Stabbed to Death by 3 Men in Street Quarrel

Charles Pearce, 35 years old, 450 North Clark street, was fatally stabbed early this morning in an altercation with three men in front of 116 West Grand avenue. Before he died in the Henrotin hospital Pearce told the police that the three had attacked him as he was getting a drink from a street fountain. Two witnesses said they heard the assailants accuse Pearce of trying to rob them.

Your Dollar Buys More at Drug Stores

On the average the dollar has as much buying power as $1.25 had ten years ago. But the bigger purchasing power of money does not all show in the same way. Some products are quoted at lower prices per package. On other products the package has been made larger and the price stayed the same.

The thousand and one articles now offered at drug stores have been reduced in a variety of ways. In many cases the price has been cut. But the larger package idea has also been employed. In still other cases extra articles are offered at the price of one, effecting a real reduction in the net price of each article. That is so when a package of tooth paste is given away with a tooth brush, a spray with a bottle of shampoo, or a bottle of perfume with a box of powder—to take some examples from current offerings. In one way or another Chicago drug stores are offering lower prices than they have at any time since the war.

All information should be sent to the headquarters established by State's Attorney Swanson in Room 503, Temple building, 77 West Washington street. Telephone State 3729.

Today promises to develop clews in the murders of Jack Zuta, Chicago vice monger, and of Alfred Lingle, between which crimes Chicago police have been seeking to establish a link since Zuta was shot to death at Upper Nemahbin lake, near Delafield, Wis., last Friday.

Sheriff Phil Herbrand of Waukesha county, Wisconsin, announced that the Chicago detective bureau would deliver photographs to him this morning of various suspects in the Lingle case and that these would be scanned by three witnesses in the Zuta case, whom he questioned last night.

Cottage Owner a Witness.

The sheriff's witnesses are W. F. Coakley, owner of the cottage that Zuta's slayers are believed to have occupied for a week before his death, and two maids, employed by Coakley. Coakley, the sheriff said, will be able to identify positively a tall, light haired man with lean features, with whom he negotiated rental of the cottage, and one of the maids, Sophie Oninski, 18 years old, may identify others, although the sheriff regarded her as a less important witness than Coakley.

Quiz Jeck on Checkbook.

Meanwhile in Chicago Pat Roche and Charles F. Rathbun, directors of the Lingle investigation, until early this morning quizzed one Joseph Jeck, an individual of uncertain background, who claimed to have seen Lingle killed and to have picked up on the spot a checkbook which the slayer wrested from Lingle's hand and accidentally dropped in flight.

Roche said he was more interested in the checkbook than in Jeck himself, who had at various times attempted to peddle "inside" information on the Lingle case to Chicago and other newspapers. Through an oversight, the St. Louis police, who picked up Jeck there yesterday, neglected to send along the checkbook when they dispatched Jeck here under guard. The checkbook will be delivered this morning.

Trace Zuta's Movements.

In the Wisconsin investigation of the Zuta killing the authorities learned that the victim himself had registered at the Rockstead hotel, near Waukesha, under the name of "L. Goodman" and that in his party were three others, registered as "J. Rosen and wife" and "J. Frigman."

The party remained at the Rockstead hotel two days. Later they were seen at Comstock's resort, on a nearby lake. Finally, it appeared, Zuta, either through fear that one of his companions might betray him, or for other reasons, went on alone, registering at the hotel on Upper Nemahbin lake, in which he was murdered. He signed the register there also as "L. Goodman."

He had visitors there, it was reported. Witnesses told of seeing Zuta swimming on the day he was slain with Tony Sealer, alias Scartino, owner of a Milwaukee speakeasy and reputed associate of George [Bugs] Moran, leader of the north side gang for which Zuta was financier. Sealer was being sought yesterday.

District Attorney Salen and Sheriff Phil Herbrand also examined a light brown traveling bag which was found by W. Garvens on his farm near the Milwaukee-Waukesha county line. The bag contained, in addition to articles of clothing, two boxes of cartridges, one for a rifle and the other for a revolver.

Three Women Sent to Cells.

Three Chicago women, Mildred Tosch, Marjorie Roberts, and Betty Epperson, arrested at Milwaukee in connection with the Zuta murder, were yesterday sentenced to 30 days in the house of correction on a charge of vagrancy.

Detective Fred Stange testified that the women had been inmates of a disorderly house. Their attorney, John Weller, obtained a five day stay of the sentences pending the filing of an appeal. For a time it was believed the women might have information as to the manner of Zuta's assassination, but extended questioning failed to elicit any clews.

Zuta Phone Talks Overheard.

The Waukesha authorities also revealed that the wires of the resort in which Zuta was killed had been tapped and that conversations between Zuta and the Chicago apartment at 6715 North Artesian avenue, said to be the home of Mrs. Laura Nelson, had been overheard and recorded.

On one occasion Zuta called the apartment and talked to a man, the investigators said.

"D said to tell you he expects his $40,000 split and that he wants it right away," the man told Zuta.

"O, hell, he'll be lucky to get $4,000. You tell him that," Zuta replied.

"Damn it, D won't be satisfied with any $4,000 and you know it," the man said.

"Well, he'll have to," Zuta answered. The authorities said they believed "D" stood for Dominick Aiello, and they argued that the conversation indicated there was dissension in the Moran-Zuta-Aiello gang.

Moran was reported by the Associated Press yesterday to be at Minneapolis, en route to a cabin on a lake north of Brainerd, Minn. Mrs. Moran has been at a resort near the cabin for a month, the Minneapolis police declared.

The St. Louis Witness.

Jeck, the witness from St. Louis, questioned here last night, first became involved in the Lingle case a week after the reporter's death when he came to the authorities with a claim of knowledge of the Wisconsin hideout of James [Red] Forsythe. Assured his efforts would be rewarded, Jeck hied forth to hunt Forsythe, who had incidentally been named in published stories of the Lingle case for the first time that day. Within 24 hours he returned with a receipt for $40 cab fare and a tale of having sighted Forsythe at Prairie du Chien, Wis., trailing him to Chicago by cab and losing him in traffic.

He was bade adieu and made no further contact with the Lingle investigators until, turning up a week later in Kansas City, he encountered a reporter to whom he told the first story of the mysterious checkbook.

His new story was that a crony, whom he described as "an undercover man," had picked up the checkbook in the Illinois Central tunnel and taken it to St. Louis. Jeck agreed to find his "undercover" man in St. Louis and was provided his fare.

Nothing further was heard from Jeck until John T. Rogers, who had covered the Lingle case for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, telephoned to the Chicago police that a seemingly important witness in the Lingle case had approached him with an offer of exclusive information in return for a cash bonus. It was Jeck.

The Checkbook Again.

On instructions from Roche, Rogers endeavored to get possession of the checkbook which, in his latest story, Jeck claimed to have picked up himself after seeing Forsythe snatch it from Lingle and drop it as he vaulted a fence in making his getaway. Jeck demurred, and the Post-Dispatch heard nothing further until, on Monday, the St. Louis police notified Rogers they had arrested in a poolroom a suspicious individual, wearing overalls and carrying a brief case, who claimed to know "all about" the Lingle murder.

Mr. Rogers persuaded Jeck to let him examine the checkbook and Rogers read some of the stub entries to Roche by telephone. The circumstance that the checkbook had been issued by the Lake Shore Trust and Savings bank, the institution Lingle dealt with, interested Roche—as did the entries, which were for sums from $500 to $1,500. Jeck got here last night in the custody of one of Roche's men and the checkbook is due this morning.

RYAN IS SENTENCED TO A YEAR IN JAIL FOR CARRYING GUN

Robert Emmet Ryan, gunman and racketeer, was fined $300 and sentenced to a year in the Bridewell for gun toting by Municipal Judge John H. Lyle yesterday.

Policemen George Kammerer and Roy Van Herrick testified that they found Ryan brandishing a pistol in front of the Club Minuet, 943 Rush street, nearly Monday morning after the East Chicago avenue station had received a telephoned complaint that a gunman was shooting up the place.

When Ryan had been taken from the courtroom after the sentence yesterday, Judge Lyle remarked: "I refuse to tolerate the dilatory legal tactics employed by such hoodlums as Ryan when they get into trouble. In this case, I considered only the fact that Ryan was caught carrying a weapon and endangering the lives of citizens. On the basis of that evidence, I found him guilty and gave him the limit."

At the time of his arrest Monday morning Ryan was under $50,000 bond awaiting trial for an alleged attempt to extort $5,000 from Robert Barr, a broker at 100 North La Salle street, last Jan. 29.

KILLER HAS T. B. OF SPINE, DOCTOR SAYS AT HEARING

CRIMINAL COURT.

Charles Hester, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary for a confidence game; Lawrence Parker, sentenced to the penitentiary for one year to life for burglary, by Chief Justice D. J. Normoyle of the criminal court.

Dr. Thomas Theodore, physician at the county jail, testified yesterday in the insanity hearing before Judge Daniel P. Trude that Lafon Fisher, Negro, condemned to death for the murder of Martin French, a bank guard, is suffering from tuberculosis of the spine. Dr. Frances J. Gerty, superintendent of the Psychopathic hospital, testified that Fisher understands his fate and comprehends what is going on at the hearing. If he is found insane he will be confined to an asylum, and if he is found sane he will be executed. Final arguments will be heard this morning on Fisher's petition to escape the death penalty on the ground that he has become insane since sentence was pronounced on him. A verdict is expected today.

VAN SCHAACK JR. HELD ON AUTO LICENSE CHARGE

Cornelius P. Van Schaack Jr., 614 Linden avenue, Wilmette, a son of the president of the Peter Van Schaack wholesale drug company of 310 West Washington street, was haled before Magistrate Harry H. Porter in Evanston yesterday charged with driving his car without a license. Convicted several times of reckless driving, young Van Schaack was deprived of his license last April 1, but regained it. In June, when arrested again for speeding, he was ordered to refrain from driving for six months. Magistrate Porter continued the case to next Friday. If convicted Van Schaack faces a maximum penalty of a $200 fine or three months in jail.

COAST GUARDS RIDDLE MEMBER IN ANOTHER BOAT

Kill Mate, Mistaking Him for Rum Runner.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 5.—[Special.]—Each suspecting the other of being a rum running craft, one coast guard boat raked another with machine gun fire in Ipswich bay last night and killed Boatswain's Mate Louis A. Pratt of the U. S. coast guard service.

Pratt, with Surfman Cleo Faulkingham, was in a motor surfboat from the Plum Island coast guard station, making a search for an abandoned power cruiser.

The other craft was an outboard motorboat on special rum patrol from Base 7, Gloucester, manned by Chief Machinist's Mate Hugh Olmstead and Fireman Clifford Hudder.

Conflicting versions of the shooting were told, but Capt. William Munter, eastern division coast guard commander here, fixed responsibility on the Gloucester boat, and announced that an immediate inquiry and inquest had been ordered by Washington, and that District Commander L. S. Sands of Portsmouth, N. H., would open the inquiry tomorrow morning.

Thought Rum Runners.

At first it was thought that Pratt had been slain by rum runners. The encounter occurred a mile and a half off Essex. Pratt, second in command at the Plum Island life saving station, and Surfman Faulkingham had been ordered to patrol duty in the surfboat. They landed at Ipswich Neck, where Special Officer Charles McKenzie of the Winthrop police force asked them to make a search for his motorboat, which had caught fire and was abandoned off that shore yesterday.

They set out in the hunt and about 10 o'clock sighted what Faulkingham described as "a white boat" lying to without lights off the Essex shore.

Both men thought the craft was the one they were seeking. Faulkingham said they approached within 75 yards of it when it suddenly opened fire with a machine gun.

The surfboat was riddled by twenty bullets, and Pratt, lying in the bow seeking cover from what he believed was a rum runner's fire, was struck three times by slugs piercing the craft. Two bullets passed through his abdomen and out the side of the boat.

No Warning Given.

Faulkinkham, miraculously, was untouched. According to his story the surfboat was not hailed by the patrol boat and no warning was given.

Both Pratt and Faulkingham wore regulation coast guard sea duty clothes. The surfboat is painted white and lettered "U. S. C. G., Plum Island Station."

Faulkingham said two flares were lit aboard the other boat after the first burst of fire and that a second burst was fired in the flares.

From Gloucester, however, the patrol boat commander reported he signaled the other boat to heave to and flashed his searchlight on his own coast guard ensign.

One of the amazing parts of the story was that the patrol boat, after the shooting, made no attempt to overtake the other craft. Faulkingham, with Pratt lying fatally wounded in the bow, turned his boat toward Little Neck, a 45 minute run, where he turned his comrade over to a summer resident, who rushed Pratt to a hospital at Ipswich. He died there at 2 o'clock this morning. At his bedside was his wife, who motored from their home at Kittery, Me., on being notified.

FINGERPRINTS OF ALL CITIZENS URGED BY JERSEY POLICE CHIEF

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Congressional action effecting a "radical change" in criminal apprehension, requiring every person in the United States over the age of twelve years to carry finger print identification, was proposed here today at the annual convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

The recommendation was made by Anthony F. Vachris, police chief of Riverside, N. J., who asserted that "criminals are getting away with everything." "The man who is free from criminal leanings will certainly not object to carrying his fingerprints," he added.

Traffic problems, the relation of state and city police, the conduct of police officers, and juvenile crime were other subjects discussed at today's meeting.

A definite program of traffic regulation based upon estimated increase in automobile traffic was urged by Hawley S. Simpson, research engineer, New York City.

Donald S. Leonard, Detroit, of the Michigan state police urged unification of city, county, state, and federal forces to fight crime.

HUNT HUSBAND OF GIRL FOUND IN LOOP STREET

Witnesses Tell of Bride's Struggle in Auto.

Identification yesterday of the young woman found lying beneath the elevated tracks at Wabash avenue near Monroe street only deepened the mystery surrounding her critical injuries. She was revealed by her sister as Mrs. Drusilla Wakefield Downs, 24 years old, a model and a bride of a few weeks. Her condition last night was said by county hospital attendants to be serious. She was found unconscious Monday evening.

Miss Polly Wakefield, who made the identification after the girl had lain unconscious for eighteen hours in the county hospital, told nurses she had come after receiving two telephone calls from her injured sister's husband, Thomas Downs, informing her that Drusilla was hurt and was in the county hospital. Downs did not appear at the hospital and was being sought by the police last night for questioning.

Sister Tells of Marriage.

Polly Wakefield told police she and her sister had come to Chicago from Saginaw, Mich., where their father, C. C. Curtis, still lives, and found employment as models. They roomed together at the Maryland hotel, Delaware and Rush streets, until four weeks ago, when Polly learned her sister had eloped to Crown Point and had been married to Downs. Thereafter the newlyweds moved into a place of their own at 4823 Sheridan road.

Monday night, her story continued, the three had had dinner together in a restaurant at Wabash avenue and Adams street. Drusilla and her husband, who, according to Polly, had been drinking, quarreled during the meal. The last she saw of them was when they left the restaurant together. She heard nothing further until the telephone call apprised her of her sister's injury.

Orders Police Search.

After hearing the sister's story Capt. Daniel Gilbert of the first district police sent a squad to the Mark Twain hotel, 111 West Division street, where a Thomas Downs was found to have checked out on June 16. Capt. Gilbert believes Downs is a racketeer with a police record.

It was first reported the young woman was the victim of a hit and run driver, but no jewelry, gloves or purse could be found. Sergt. Mattic and Patrolman Arthur Hobbs were notified by two unidentified men who summoned them from Wabash avenue and Monroe street after seeing the girl in the street. These witnesses told the two policemen that they had seen the girl and a man struggling for control of the wheel of a small coupe and that during the struggle the girl was pushed out, striking her head on the elevated structure as she fell.

KILLS TWO CHILDREN, ATTACKS WIFE, AND ENDS HIS OWN LIFE

Frank Jelinek, 54 years old, killed his two children by slashing their throats with a razor and fractured his wife's skull with a hammer in their home at 1848 South Racine avenue yesterday afternoon. Then he committed suicide by slashing his throat. The wife, Mrs. Theresa Jelinek, 43 years old, is in the county hospital in a serious condition. Jelinek was a one armed man.

The tragedy was discovered by Joseph Jelinek, 24 years old, Jelinek's son by a former marriage, and his brother, Peter, 17 years old, when they returned from work at 5:30 o'clock. The brothers told Canalport police their father had worried recently over financial losses in his candy and cigar business. Jelinek owned a small shop in the front of his home.

Jelinek, police believe, first struck his wife and left her on the kitchen floor and then killed the two children, Agnes, 7 years old, and Emil, 3 years old. He placed the bodies of the children on a bed and returned to the kitchen where he killed himself, according to police theory.

The two brothers said their father had been acting queerly for several months and recently purchased some rope with the avowed intention of hanging his entire family. At that time, the brothers said, their mother sought to have her husband placed in an asylum, but was restrained by relatives.

POLICEMAN IS FREED; WOUNDED BOY TO RECOVER

Robert Anderson, 70 years old, suspended from the west parks police force yesterday pending an inquiry into the shooting of a 14 year old boy during an altercation at the Garfield park swimming pool, was released from custody last night.

Capt. William Schram of the west park force released Anderson when doctors said James Hickey, the wounded boy, would recover. He is in the Garfield Park hospital. Anderson said he scuffled with the boy to prevent his staying in the pool past his allotted time and that his pistol was discharged accidentally, the bullet striking the boy just above the heart.

CHARGES BRIBERY AND OTHER FRAUD IN PENN PRIMARY

Says Schall Was Offered $50,000 for Silence.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—[Special.]—Senator Thomas D. Schall [Rep., Minn.], it was openly charged before the Nye senatorial investigating committee today by Royal C. Stevens of Philadelphia, Pa., was offered $50,000 to cease his attacks on Senator Joseph R. Grundy [Rep., Pa.] last spring when the latter was a candidate for renomination.

Called at the suggestion of Senator Robert Wagner [Dem., N. Y.], a member of the committee who, incidentally, was not present at today's hearing, Stephens demanded that every one of the more than 2,500 members of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' association be required to state how much they have contributed to political funds raised by or for Grundy, their former Washington lobbyist, for his own campaign or those of senatorial candidates in other states.

Makes Bribery Charge.

"I have knowledge," asserted Stevens, "that a certain senator was offered $50,000 if he would 'lay off' Grundy."

"Call Senator Tom Schall," shouted Stephens, anticipating Nye's request that he name the senator. "Schall told me himself that he was approached by a party from the west who told him a $50,000 campaign contribution would be given him if he would cease his attacks on Grundy."

One of the score of witnesses who heard definite evidence that Grundy's organization in Chester county bought the votes of at least nonresident or minor students at the Westchester, Pa., state normal school for $5 each and treated Negro voters with liquor for days before the primary, other witnesses charged that the ticket headed by Secretary Davis and Francis Shunk Brown, candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, profited by unprecedented ballot box corruption in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and suburbs of those cities.

Vote Buying Charged.

Frederick S. Wood, Westchester, Pa., manufacturer, insisted to the committee he has definite evidence of a "conspiracy" on the part of Dr. Norman Cameron, principal of the state normal school, and State Senator W. H. Clark to vote nonresident and minor students of the institution. The "pay off man" was alleged by Wood to be Russell Addicks, a student living at the home of a state employé in Westchester.

"Do you know who put up this money?" asked Senator Nye.

"By hearsay, we believe it to have been Grundy money," answered Wood.

A few minutes before S. Davis Wilson, deputy controller of Philadelphia county and Philadelphia county manager for former Gov. Gifford Pinchot, candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, charged that the Vare organization supporting Secretary Davis had resorted to all forms of fraud and corruption in behalf of the Davis-Brown ticket. He submitted a statement charging intimate relations between the Pennsylvania railroad, Philadelphia public utility companies and the Vare machine, asserting that fat contracts were given to the politicians to keep them in line.

Dean Hoffman, Harrisburg, Pa., editor; J. P. Pannell of Harrisburg, counsel for the local branch of the Pennsylvania Elections association, a reform organization; Ralph H. Frank, an attorney of Pittsburgh and a Pinchot supporter; County Commissioner C. C. McGovern of Pittsburgh, and other witnesses charged that the "regular" Republican organizations in Dauphin and Alleghany counties supporting the Davis-Brown ticket voted men long dead, used "repeaters" and "floaters" in scores of cases, and deliberately "stuffed" ballot boxes in many precincts.

Expects Refund, Asked for More.

One of the lighter moments of the hearing came in the testimony of Walter A. Bonitz, Pittsburgh brick manufacturer, who, it was revealed, contributed a total of $96,750 to the Davis campaign fund. Bonitz explained that he "underwrote" the campaign in western Pennsylvania, expecting when he assumed responsibility to be reimbursed later, but contributions were not forthcoming.

"After the primary I was approached by a man," said Bonitz, "who asked if I was not going to help with the deficit, which was about $100,000. I said: 'My God, no. Don't you think I've been taken for enough already?'"

Bonitz indignantly denied that promises of lucrative contracts for brick from state and county governments influenced his large contribution.

Today's session, Senator Nye announced, concluded public hearings into the Pennsylvania situation until after the general election in November, and investigators will be assigned to gather evidence confirming the charges now before the committee.

GEN. SCHWENGEL REVIEWS ILLINOIS ARTILLERYMEN

2,000 in Parade at Camp Grant.

Camp Grant, Ill., Aug. 5.—[Special.] Brig. Gen. Frank R. Schwengel today reviewed the 58th field artillery brigade of the Illinois National Guard, which he organized four years ago under orders of the war department. Numerically, the brigade is the largest artillery organization included in the state militia divisions throughout the country.

Comments of critical onlookers, including Brig. Gen. Edward L. King, U. S. army, chief of army operations and training, indicated that in equipment and discipline the brigade now ranks among leading artillery outfits. The rehearsal was in preparation for the program next Saturday when the first formal artillery review at Camp Grant in many years will be held.

More Than 2,000 in Parade.

More than 2,000 men and 130 officers paraded before their commanding officer. The brigade is composed of two regiments, the 122d and 124th, and each regiment consists of two battalions. The batteries with their gun carriages rumbling, four combat trains and the accompanying medical attachments swung swiftly through intricate maneuvers on the parade grounds.

In Mach, 1926, Brig. Gen. Schwengel, then a colonel and commander of the 122d field artillery, was promoted to his present rank and given the task of forming an artillery brigade in Illinois.

Although only 45 years old, Brig. Gen. Schwengel has been a member of the National Guard for nearly 28 years. He enlisted when he was 17 years old in Troop I of the old First Illinois cavalry.

In Service Overseas.

During the troubles on the Mexican border he was regimental adjutant of the First Illinois Cavalry. At the outbreak of the world war he was made a major and went overseas with the 122d field artillery. When the final drive of the Meuse offensive was under way, he was liaison officer for the 58th brigade at the headquarters of the 89th division.

Pass in Review

Yesterday was Chicago day at the citizen's military training camp at Fort Sheridan and 1,745 youths, more than 700 of whom are from Chicago, drilled and paraded before a standful of visitors. William D. Saltiel, city attorney, representing Mayor Thompson, reviewed cadets and watched the games.

Mrs. Charles Wendell Holmes, president of the National Patriotic association, headed a delegation of Chicago women. She resented a check for $200 for the furthering of athletic activities to Col. Philip Fox, representing Brig. Gen. Casper H. Conrad Jr., post commandant. Tomororw will be north shore day and Saturday governors' day.

A new ruling this year requires every youth in camp to attend religious services every Sunday. All except seventeen have signified their adherence to some religious faith. The major divisions are: Catholic, 486; Protestant, 1,161; Jewish, 80.

GAS EXPLODES IN CLASS; TEACHER IS OVERCOME

Dr. Clarence G. Fawcett, a chemistry instructor at Crane Junior college, was rendered unconscious and a score of students, four of them young women, were thrown into a panic yesterday when a tank of hydrogen sulphide gas exploded in the school laboratory, filling the room with gas. Dr. Fawcett was explaining the characteristics of the gas and drawing some from the tank when the safety valve was blown off.

Bucket Brigade Puts Out City Hall Fire

Flames flared up yesterday over the heads of employés in the first floor office of City Collector Eller in the city hall and outside the office of the board of local improvements on the second floor when a piece of canvas covering a hole in a skylight took fire from a lighted cigar. Men in the board of local improvements formed a bucket brigade and extinguished the blaze before the firemen arrived. The hole was broken in the skylight several months ago when a man committed suicide by leaping from the ninth floor.

DAWES TO HUNT FOR PREHISTORIC MAN IN EUROPE

Will Visit France and Spain.

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Aug. 5.—Ambassador Charles G. Dawes, who a year ago at this time was up to his ears with preliminary work of the naval conference, has enough leisure this summer to devote a fortnight's holiday to one of his lifelong hobbies—archeology.

He will leave London Aug. 22 for a trip to the Dordogne region of France and the areas of Spain, where important neolithic research work is now in progress. His companions will be Prof. George Grant MacCurdy of Yale university, a director in the American School of Prehistoric Research, and Addison H. Green, chairman of the board of trustees of that school.

Interested as a Boy.

Mr. Dawes' special interest in the matter is in coördinating discoveries of different scientific investigators in the different regions and putting two and two together as a means of arriving more quickly and accurately at a true story of prehistoric man.

Why Mr. Dawes is interested in such research may be explained by the fact that as a boy in Marietta, O., one of his favorite playgrounds was the prehistoric mounds of that neighborhood. There was also family interest in these monuments because Dawes' great-great-grandfather, Mannasseh Cutler, was the first man to make a survey of the mounds.

Tells Why He's Going.

When asked at the embassy today what he expected to find at Dordogne, the ambassador said so far as he was concerned the trip was merely one of observation in company with high archeological authorities.

"As to expectations," he added, "the trouble with such investigations carried on with a preconceived theory is that, whether or not it is justfied, a feeling is created that the facts revealed are not impartially weighed.

"I admit I am interested in the study of prehistoric man and his accomplishment in the Mediterranean region and I feel the work now being done should be encouraged."

2,000 DEAD, 4,000 MISSING AS REDS FLEE CHINA CITY

Changsha Recaptured by Government Forces.

BY JOHN POWELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Aug. 5.—Two thousand Chinese were massacred, while more than 4,000 are missing, either executed or carried away for ransom as a result of the occupation of Changsha, capital of Hunan province, by communists, according to press dispatches received here. The dead are of the wealthy educated class, while most of the missing Chinese were provincial municipal employés and members of the Kuomintang party.

A wireless report from Japanese naval sources at Hankow tonight stated that Gen. Ho Chien, Nationalist military leader, had recaptured Changsha. The message added that the communists were still entrenched in the hills about the city.

Report Denver Pastor Slain.

Unconfirmed reports reaching here state that the Rev. Allen Cameron of Denver, who once served in the American consulate at Hankow, had been killed. The communist army extorted $3,000,000 Mexican cash from Changsha merchants, refugees here report, adding that they also collected two months' rent in advance from property owners. Buildings were burned when owners refused to comply.

Communist uprising along the Peiping-Hankow railroad north of Hankow have been suppressed, but in northern Kiangsi and particularly at Nanchang, the capital, the situation is acute. It is feared Nanchang's fall is a matter of hours. Unconfirmed dispatches state that Kuling, a small town near Kiaukiang, was captured by communists yesterday.

Reports of further outrages against foreigners by bandit communist armies have aroused foreign governments to order more warships to proceed up the Yangtze river to reinforce eleven gunboats at Hankow and five at Changsha. The American gunboat Luzon reached Hankow today ready to assist the U. S. S. Palos, which has sustained five casualities in recent clashes with Reds. Four Japanese destroyers are also speeding to join others in the Yangtse patrol.

Send Woman's Severed Finger.

Outrages against British nationals include the sending of a severed finger of Miss Edith Nettleton, missionary, with a demand for $50,000 ransom for herself and Miss Edith Harrison, held captive a month, to the British legation. It is feared the bandits will cut off all her other fingers or shoot her if the ransom is delayed. Both of the women are elderly.

Mrs. A. R. J. Hearne, wife of a railway official, was probably fatally bayoneted by a Chinese soldier at Puchen, it is reported.

Mass Troops Against Rebels.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Nationalist military reports tonight said all forces the government could muster were being dispatched to Honan and Shantung provinces in an effort to halt the northern rebel alliance drive.

Upwards of 30,000 Nationalists have arrived at Tsingtao, Shantung, from Canton, southern China, to be hurried into line against the northerners along the Tsingtao-Tsinanfu railway.

10 States Will Gain 26 Congressmen, 20 to Lose 26 Seats Under New Census

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Thirty states will be required to take legislative action to rearrange their congressional districts before the election of November, 1932, to conform with the reapportionment of members of the house of representatives, as a result of the new census figures. Twenty-six memberships are involved. Twenty states will lose members. Ten states will gain them.

The secretary of commerce will transmit to congress, as directed by law, on the first day of the December session of congress, the population of the various states and the number of representatives to which each state would be entitled under an apportionment of 435 members by the method of major fractions.

If congress fails to take action at its coming session the reapportionment certified by the secretary of commerce automatically would go into effect.

Recheck May Change Results.

Calculations by the method designated by congress on the preliminary population totals of all the states, as announced by the district supervisors and compiled by bureaus of the Associated Press throughout the country, show reapportionment results somewhat different from those computed by the census committee of the house before the reapportionment law was adopted. Final recheck of the population totals by the census bureau may make a slight change in one or two states.

California, instead of gaining six additional seats in the house, as had been estimated, would be entitled to nine additional members bringing her delegation to twenty. Michigan would gain four additional members, as had been figured, making her total representation seventeen. These two states would thus account for half of the 26 memberships that will be shifted.

Missouri would be the largest loser, as the committee had indicated, with a decrease of three members, bringing her delegation down to thirteen. Georgia, which the committee had not figured for a loss, would lose two members.

Affect 31,000,000 Persons.

As there has been no reapportionment since that based on the 1910 census, the census committee of the house said failure to redistribute the members on the basis of the present census, would result in approximately 31,000,000 persons being legislated for "without having fair and equitable representation in what is considered the most representative body in the world."

Illinois, which gained 1,991,692 in population in the twenty years, gains nothing in the house.

The reapportionment, based on the major fraction method as applied to the population of the various states, is shown in the following table with the present delegations in the house; the probable delegations as a result of reapportionment; the gain or loss, and the increase in population since 1910:

How It Works

Congress is dictator of the number of seats in the lower house. It could raise the membership above 435, the present number. But that probably will not be done, as the membership already is so large it is unwieldy for legislative purposes.

There are two methods of reapportionment. One is known as "equal proportions." The other is "major fractions." The latter was used in the 1910 reapportionment and probably will be again.

Under that plan the population of the whole country is divided by 435, the house membership. Then the population of each state is divided by this ratio figure. This will give the number of representatives to which each state is entitled.

Where the states gain they can choose their own methods of electing members, either by reapportioning or the election of representatives at large.

TWO PAIRS LEFT IN DANCE MARATHON AFTER 2,780 HOURS

With two couples still dancing, albeit uncertainly, the world's championship dance marathon at the Merry Garden ballroom appeared to be staggering into its final stage last night. At 8 p. m. the two surviving teams, Miss Ann Gerry and Mike Gouvas, and Miss Theresa Zito and Joe Ritoff of Joliet, had completed 2,780 hours on the floor, with rest periods which had been scaled down from 20 minutes an hour to five minutes an hour in the last few weeks.

On Monday night, according to a radio announcement, Miss Margie Meadows, partner of Joe Rock, fainted on the floor and was unable to continue. Her elimination automatically disqualified her partner and the one remaining "single," Bob de Marchis.

Dr. Arnold H. Kegel, health commissioner, said yesterday that since public health is not affected by the marathon, the department has no jurisdiction concerning it. When asked his opinion of the marathon as a physician, he stated emphatically that is was "absolutely disgraceful and harmful to health." "No civilized community ought to permit such a disgusting spectacle to continue, but people are privileged to make fools of themselves whenever and wherever they will," he said.

The contest was started on April 11.

$2,458,509 Jobs Awarded on New Bids.

Twelve contracts, amounting to $1,458,509, for work on the new Lane Technical High school, Addison street and Western avenue, were awarded by the board of education yesterday. A saving of $386,227 was affected by the rejection of former bids, which were alleged to have been excessive.

Action on five contracts, amounting to $649,932, was deferred. The low bid of $51,328 for glazing and glass work was rejected. New bids will be asked for the glass and glazing contract and the deferred bids will be studied and rejected if it is believed the estimates may be lowered.

Difference in Bids.

The total cost of the school under the previous bids would have been $1,326,303. Under the eighteen low bids considered yesterday the cost would have been $4,939,075. The one contract previously awarded was for $1,779,306, for excavating and masonry.

The greatest difference in bids was on carpentry, where a saving of $129,196 was affected. The next highest savings were in iron and steel work, with a difference of $101,131; lathing and plastering, at a saving of $66,785, and plumbing with a saving of $37,413.

Excavation for the building has reached the stage where iron and steel structural construction may be started. Ernest Withall, business manager for the school board, yesterday promised that all contractors who can do so will begin operations this morning.

Schools to Be Painted.

Authority was granted to the business manager to award contracts for painting and decorating in 27 public schools. This work, to be finished by the opening of the fall term, will cost $224,570.76.

Schools to be decorated are: Hyde Park High, and the Ray branch of the same school; Tilden Technical High; Alcott, Bridge, Burnside, Calhoun, Clarke, Clinton, Coles, Corkery, Cornell, Eberhardt, Foster, Gage Park, Gladstone, Hirsch Junior High, La Salle, Mann, Nightingale, Palmer, Parental, Parker Junior High, Reilly, Scanlan, Scammon, and Willard.

All committee appointments were made by President Myers yesterday. The chairmen are: Carter Blatchford, building and grounds; James Hemingway, finance; Walter Brandenburg, purchases and supply; John English, school administration; James Mullenbach, rules, and Mrs. W. S. Hefferan, health and sanitation.

YOUTHFUL ELOPERS FOUND

FRANK NELSON and MARIAN JORGENSON.

Parents Get Them

Frank Nelson, 4 years old, 1621 North Washtenaw avenue, and Marian Jorgenson, also 4 years old, who lives next door to Frank, decided to wander away last evening. They did so and were picked up by Fillmore police at Homan avenue and Lake street. Taken to the station, they promptly fell asleep and were awakened only to have their pictures taken. Their parents claimed them later.

DOOLITTLE FLIES HERE TO DISCUSS AIR RACE PLANS

Jimmy Doolittle, former ace of the army air service, flew into Chicago yesterday to confer with officials of the national air races concerning his participation in the national meet which will be held at Curtiss field from Aug. 23 to Sept. 1. Besides his acrobatic performance Doolittle plans to take part in one of the cross-country derbies which will end here.

GLORIA SWANSON, HUSBAND DECIDE TO LIVE APART

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Gloria Swanson, motion picture actress, announced today she and her titled husband, the Marquis Henri de la Falaise, had decided to live apart. The marquis returned to Hollywood last Sunday from Paris.

"Henri and I have decided to continue living apart," Miss Swanson said, "as we have lived for the last year and a half.

"He plans to remain at a hotel during his stay here, and I shall continue to live at the Beach. We found it possible to maintain separate establishments and still be the best of friends."

The couple were understood to have spent most of yesterday conferring on their future plans. Reports of a separation had been current in Hollywood for several months, but they previously had been denied.

JONES AHEAD AS SENATOR CHOICE IN WEST VIRGINIA

Virginia Beats Bone Dry for Congress.

Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 5.—(AP)—James Ellwood Jones had a lead of 2 to 1 over Judge Harry Shaw and former Congressman Benjamin L. Rosenbloom for the Republican senatorial nomination in returns tonight from 1,184 out of 2,342 precincts in today's primary. Former Gov. Albert B. White was trailing far below Shaw and Rosenbloom.

The vote in 1,184 precincts was: Jones, 47,299; Rosenbloom, 19,319; Shaw, 18,900; White, 11,205.

Senator Guy D. Goff, incumbent, was not a candidate, having retired because of ill health.

The Republican winner will oppose former Senator M. M. Neely, unopposed Democratic nominee, in the November election.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Judge Howard Smith of Alexandria apparently was the Democratic nominee for congress from the Eighth district tonight, while Thomas G. Burch continued to pile up a lead over Joseph Whitehead, incumbent, in the Fifth district and Joseph T. Deal had cinched the nomination in the Second.

With 127 precincts reported out of a total of 154 in the Eighth district, Judge Smith, who resigned as circuit judge to enter the congressional primary, led by nearly 5,000 votes over his nearest opponent, State Senator Frank L. Ball. Smith's count was 8,585 and Ball's 3,733.

Prohibition has been made the principal issue in the Eighth district campaign. Senator Ball is the only one of the five candidates who made a "bone dry" campaign.

Joseph T. Deal, former Democratic congressman, who was defeated by Menalcus Lankford in the Republican landslide in 1928, will oppose Lankford again this fall, having overwhelmed his two opponents, Mrs. Sarah Lee Fain and Wilson W. Vellines in almost complete returns. With only four of the 126 precincts of the Second district lacking, Deal had 6,512 votes, Mrs. Fain had 1,858, and Vellines 1,732.

No Upsets in Missouri.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Two Missouri representatives in congress who were opposed for renomination in the state primary today, Thomas J. Halsey and L. C. Dyer, were leading on early returns tonight, while the other fourteen incumbents of the Missouri congressional delegation were unopposed.

Kentucky Results.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Ten of Kentucky's eleven present congressmen, and three former congressmen who were defeated in the Republican landslide of 1928, will be among the eighteen candidates seeking election to the national house of representatives in November.

The only upset in the primary was the overwhelming defeat by approximately three votes to one of former Gov. William J. Fields by former Congressman Fred M. Vinson in the Democratic primary in the Ninth district. E. R. Kendall, Republican incumbent, was unopposed.

Incumbents in all districts were returned either by victories in the primary or by nomination without opposition except L. L. Walker, Republican, Eighth district, who was not a candidate to succeed himself.

Candidates for United States senator are: M. M. Logan and Ben Williamson, Democrats, for the long and short terms, respectively, and John M. Robsion, Republican, incumbent, candidate for both the long and short terms. All were without primary opposition.

PLANS FEDERAL RELIEF.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—[Special.]—President Hoover today promised that the federal government would leave no stone unturned in giving assistance to farmers stricken by the drought and successive heat waves which have scourged widespread sections of the country.

With ominous reports of burned pastures, ruined crops, and dried up water supplies pouring into the capital daily, the President took cognizance of the situation in a statement announcing that he had consulted Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde and Chairman Alexander Legge of the farm board and set the wheels of the government turning toward a program of relief.

The White House announcement followed a visit to the President yesterday by Louis J. Taber, head of the National Grange, who told him that a national calamity impends unless the drought is broken within the next ten days.

"The drought situation has been the subject of several conferences between Secretary Hyde, Chairman Legge, and myself," Mr. Hoover said. "They will report next Monday upon the condition in each area in the country.

"The information so far indicates great variation in the effect of the drought, both as between states, between counties in those states, and even between farms in the same counties. There can be no doubt as to its most serious character in many localities, and that unless relieved there will be real suffering. The maximum intensity seems to lie in a belt roughly following the Potomac, the Ohio, and the Mississippi rivers.

"The measures of assistance that the farm board and the other agencies of the federal government can and should undertake are being determined.

"It is too early to determine the precise character of relief; much depends upon the further spread of the drought; but no stone will be left unturned by the federal government in giving assistance to local authorities. I have asked the railways to investigate the situation from a transportation point of view."

MATCHLESS CIGARET SOON TO BE OFFERED TO AMERICAN PUBLIC

New York, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Before the year ends, under present plans, there will be introduced to the American market a "matchless cigaret" by at least two tobacco companies.

The cigaret smoker will not have to carry matches or a lighter around with him, for on each package of cigarettes there will be a substance, somewhat hard like the end of a pocket box of matches, over which the tip of the "fag" can be stroked and lighted.

LEGGE LEAVES ON WHEAT TOUR OF NORTHWEST

Completing conferences on grain and livestock marketing with midwest cooperative leaders, Alexander Legge, chairman of the federal farm board, left Chicago last night on a tour of the northwest to urge reduction of wheat acreage and to confer with fruit coöperative leaders.

His speaking dates include Aug. 9, Pendleton, Ore.; Aug. 10, Portland, Ore.; Aug. 11, Spokane, Wash., and Aug. 12, Bozeman, Mont. Other meetings will probably be scheduled, he said.

Chairman Legge declined to comment further on the crop damage from drought following his speech Monday advocating that bankers and business men assist farmers with loans and supplies of feed in devastated areas.

Free Mechanical First Aid

A dead battery, fouled ignition points, or a broken axle are a few of the many mechanical troubles that come unexpectedly. Car trouble may find you far from a garage; it may come as you start out in the morning, or it may come late at night, but always it is unwelcome.

One hundred thousand motorists have protected themselves and their families in just such emergencies by means of membership in the Chicago Motor Club. When they are in need of help they call the club. In 1929 members sent in 120,000 calls for free mechanical first aid and towing service. Eighty-six per cent of the trouble cases were remedied by club mechanics on the spot; the remainder of the calls were tow jobs. No charge is made for mechanical first aid or towing service. Like all other services of the club, this service is free to members.

You are as close to help as the nearest telephone. The service is available at any hour of the day or night.

In Cook county members call the club and the service is rendered by club mechanics. In the sixty-one other counties of the club territory in Illinois and northern Indiana the service is rendered by approved service stations.

In addition to mechanical first aid and towing service, the club provides members with such services as these:

Travel service, which provides you with maps, logs and the most complete and up to the minute advice on road conditions.

Bail bond service, which guarantees your appearance in traffic violation cases where a bond not in excess of $100 is demanded.

Accident prevention work, which seeks to cut accidents, especially among school children, by means of safety posters and schoolboy patrols.

Home district service, which attends to special conditions around your home, such as seeing to it that refuse is promptly removed.

Insurance service, which provides the following features: The valued form policy, which in the event of total loss pays the face value of the policy. Accessories are covered without additional charge. Last year the "exchange" returned cash savings to subscribers amounting to $711,332.11. Automobile insurance sales amounted to $3,894,706.04.

MILK PRODUCERS FIND NO DANGER OF A SHORTAGE

Declare Chicago Supply Ample Despite Drought.

BY PAUL POTTER.

There is no danger of a milk shortage for the 4,000,000 consumers in the Chicago area, in spite of the drought that has lowered milk production by 14 per cent in two weeks in the 30 counties of southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois and Indiana, which supply the metropolitan district.

This was the statement yesterday of W. C. McQueen and Don Geyer, representatives of the Pure Milk Producers' association, which is an organization supported by the farmer producers whose milk comes into Chicago. Even though some receiving stations, such as those at Bristol and Lyons, Wis., report receipts cut in half, the basic flow is still sufficient to supply demands, and there is no prospect of a higher retail price than the present scale of 14 cents a quart, McQueen and Geyer said.

Consumption Slightly Reduced.

Consumption so far this month is at the rate of 93,000,000 pounds of milk a month, which is about 6 per cent below that of August, 1929, and 3 to 4 per cent below the consumption of last month, when vacations were less in order, Geyer said.

The effect of the reduced production of milk has been shown in prices being paid by condensery plants, where farmers have been given an average increase of 15 cents for 100 pounds within the last two weeks, making the present average price for fluid milk containing 3.5 per cent fat around $1.40 per 100 pounds.

Many cows freshening in another 30 days will remove any danger of a shortage of milk for retail sales, Geyer predicted.

Sees No Vegetable Shortage.

An acute shortage of Cook county grown vegetables is not likely, according to a statement yesterday by August Geweke of Morton Grove, president of the Cook County Truck Gardeners' and Farmers' association. He pointed out that sweet corn is selling at from 25 to 50 cents for each bag of four dozen ears at many roadside stands.

Tomatoes need but average conditions to bring a fair crop of the late varieties, Geweke said. One crop which he finds has been cut materially by the drought is the pickle or cucumber production, but some patches still are bearing, with quality estimated somewhat below average.

Kingsford-Smith on Road to Recovery After Operation

VERRE, Zeeland, Holland, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith, famous trans-Atlantic aviator, has made such splendid progress after an operation for appendicitis last night that his physicians said tonight he would be able to leave the hospital within two weeks. The Australian plans to go immediately to his native land by steamer, canceling previous plans to make a solo flight from England to Australia.

Miss Goff received $2,000 in cash and a silver plaque as grand prize. Miss New Jersey, Hellen Hannan, was next and was awarded $1,000 as first prize.

Other prize winners were: Second prize, Miss Rumania, Mariana Mivica; third, Miss Russia, Nadia Dekosarin; fourth, Miss Kentucky, Iola Sibbrell, Lexington; fifth, Miss Detroit, Greta Stockhold; sixth, Miss New York, Lorna Rodionoff; seventh, Miss Pennsylvania, Pauline Scott, St. Marys; eighth.

TRUCK DEALER KILLS SELF AT LOOP OFFICES

William W. Hall, 48 years old, a representative of the Colson-Chicago company, truck dealers, was found dead yesterday in the company's fourth floor quarters at 235 West Randolph street, a bullet wound in his head. A revolver was found near the body and police said he killed himself. Mr. Hall was married and lived at the North Park hotel, Center and Clark streets.

Business associates in blaming financial worries, said Mr. Hall was a depositor of the City State bank, Wells and Randolph streets, which failed last September. Frank B. Day, 2017 Harrison street, Evanston, assistant manager of the firm, accompanied by Julius Hoyne, 2317 North Sacramento avenue, found the body.

Four Men Are Arrested in Congressman Doyle's Car

Four men, arrested early yesterday when they were found driving around the south side in a limousine belonging to Congressman Thomas Doyle, 3537 Lowe avenue, will appear in the stockyards court today on charges of disorderly conduct. Those arrested were John Gill, 23 years old, the congressman's chauffeur; Julius Washhagen, 26; George Vilz, 338 West 47th street, and Roy Kelly, 4222 Wentworth avenue. Policeman John Bragle said the men threatened him when he halted them at Princeton avenue and Root street.

British Judges and Lawyers Sail for Chicago Meeting

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Eight judges and 125 lawyers, who comprise the party of British representatives to attend the forthcoming conference of the Canadian and American Bar associations at Toronto and Chicago, sailed today for Canada aboard the steamer Duchess of Atholl. Viscount Dunedin heads the judicial party. Attorney General Sir William Jowitt and Sir John Simon, who headed the Indian statutory reform commission, are among the lawyers.

WITHDRAWALS CAUSE CLOSING OF S. SIDE BANK

The Citizens Trust and Savings bank, 6 West Garfield boulevard, was closed yesterday for examination upon the orders of State Auditor Oscar Nelson. The bank has deposits of $1,200,000, a capital of $200,000, and a surplus of $50,000. Harry B. Staver is president and J. A. Woodrow is vice president and cashier.

Two other south side banks, which, like the Citizens Trust and Savings bank, had a large number of Negro depositors, were closed last week. These banks were the Binga State bank and the Roosevelt Bankers State bank. It is believed by examining officials that the unusually heavy withdrawals from the Citizens Trust and Savings bank, which caused it to be closed, were brought about by the closing of the other two banks.

The bank closed yesterday was not a member of the Chicago Clearing House association, according to F. E. Edgerton, chief bank examiner.

NEW ARMY CHIEF TO BE YOUNGEST ACTIVE GENERAL

MacArthur Chosen Head of Staff.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—[Special.]—Maj. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, the youngest officer of his rank on the army active list, will succeed Maj. Gen. Charles P. Summerall as chief of staff of the army when Gen. Summerall retires on Nov. 21. Gen. MacArthur is 50 years old.

MAJ. GEN. DOUGLAS MAC ARTHUR. [U. & U. Photo.]

President Hoover announced the appointment today, together with that of Brig. Gen. Ben H. Fuller to be commandant of the marine corps to fill the vacancy left by the death of Gen. Wendell C. Neville. Gen. MacArthur, who is head of the army department in the Philippines, now is on temporary duty in China and will return to Washington to assume his new command.

Surprise in Military Circles.

Both appointments occasioned surprise in military circles, particularly that of Gen. MacArthur, who will be advanced over the heads of several older officers of the same rank contrary to the seniority rule. It was pointed out by the President, in announcing the appointments, that he was chosen because he is the senior major general whose age would permit him to serve the full four year term as chief of staff.

Regarding Gen. MacArthur's appointment the President said:

"It gives me pleasure to promote so brilliant a soldier. He is the only one of the major generals having a sufficient period to serve in the army before retirement to serve the full four year term as chief of staff. There are several very eminent generals who rank Gen. MacArthur, but none of them could serve more than a year and a half of the full term. I feel certain that Gen. MacArthur will maintain the high standard set by the eminent men who have preceded him as chief of staff."

BRIG. GEN. BEN H. FULLER. [(C) Harris & Ewing]

Had Rapid Rise.

The new incoming commander of the army was graduated from West Point in 1903 and was assigned to the corps of engineers. He had charge of various engineering projects in this country and the insular possessions prior to the world war, when he became chief of staff of the 52d division, A. E. F. Subsequently he was made commander of the 84th infantry brigade and later had command of the Rainbow division. He was twice wounded in the field and won numerous decorations. On his return to the United States he was appointed superintendent of West Point and served there for several years.

Gen. Fuller has been acting commandant of the marine corps since the death of Gen. Neville several weeks ago and previously had served at the commandant headquarters in Washington.

There were strong hints today that Gen. Fuller's appointment may be followed by the resignation of Maj. Gen. Smedley Butler, picturesque ranking officer of the marine corps, who is reported to have told fellow officers he would leave the service if the President did not reward him with the appointment as commandant.

ELMER J. DAVIS PUT ON STAND IN MAGUIRE HEARING

Tells Plan to Spread Ouster Petitions.

Elmer J. Davis, superintendent of the Better Government association, took the witness stand in the court of County Judge Jarecki yesterday and told of his proposal for a wholesale distribution of copies of the petition for the ouster of Fred V. Maguire, chairman of the board of election commissioners. The purpose of the distribution, which has not been carried out as yet, Davis said, was to "educate the public to have watchers at the polls."

Davis was called by Maguire's attorney, Albert Fink, during the questioning of Assistant State's Attorney Charles Center Case, who is prosecuting the petition to oust Maguire. The petition charges Maguire employed persons with police records as election officials.

Tells of Obtaining Copy.

Davis said he obtained a copy of the petition from Case, but that the prosecutor, during a conversation 10 days ago, told him to defer printing of the copies until the hearing before Judge Jarecki was ended. Davis said he planned to print 5,000 copies, and then admitted that there are 20,000 names on his list. The copies were to be sent to "civic, manufacturing, and commercial groups," he said.

Judge Jarecki asserted it had been intimated that the purpose of publishing the documents and sending them broadcast was either to inflame public sentiment against Maguire or to raise funds for the Better Government association. Davis declared the rumor was "absolutely false."

Breman Statement Recalled.

A newspaper article published in 1926, in which the late George Brennan, Democratic leader, was quoted as saying that Davis had "stung" him for $29,000, was read into the record. Case was asked if he recalled "that the man who he thought was qualified for the United States senate had publicly charged to this man's (Davis) face that he had worked a con game on him." Case replied he could not remember.

"Notwithstanding the fact that Brennan so denounced the man," declared Attorney Fink, "and that Mayor Dever had characterized him as a scoundrel, Mr. Case, as soon as he conceives this attack upon Maguire, hobnobs with a man of that character, forms an alliance with him, and discusses with him the printing and distribution of 5,000 copies of this complaint."

During the remainder of the hearing Case, former attorney for the election board, was asked about disputes he is alleged to have had with the election commissioners. Case's reply to most of the questions was, "I do not recall." The hearing will be resumed today.

Here is the way to rent Apartments

REG. VINCENNES 10417 DEARBORN 6171

E. J. McSHANE REAL ESTATE INVESTMENTS 160 NORTH LA SALLE STREET SUITE 331 CHICAGO

May 2, 1930.

Classified Advertising Manager,
The Chicago Tribune,
Tribune Square,
Chicago, Illinois.

My Dear Sir:

For three weeks prior to the time we started advertising in The Chicago Tribune Classified Columns this Spring we were placing our advertising in two other Chicago newspapers. During that time we had very few calls and rented no apartments.

The three weeks following this we placed an advertisement in The Tribune on Saturday and Sunday under the heading of "To Rent - Apartments - South." You will no doubt be interested to know that during tnese three weeks we rented thirteen out of sixteen vacant apartments in one building. We received as many as thirty calls on a Saturday afternoon which made it possible to choose our tenants.

Results of this kind are very gratifying particularly during this renting season. I have found that The Chicago Tribune is by far the best medium for all branches of Real Estate Advertising.

Very truly yours,

McS/LDW.

E. J. McShane

"The Chicago Tribune is by far the best medium for all branches of Real Estate Advertising"

E. J. McSHANE

E. J. McSHANE TELLS HOW THE TRIBUNE HELPED HIM TO FILL HIS VACANCIES . . .

AFTER advertising for three weeks in two other Chicago newspapers without renting a single apartment, E. J. McShane of 160 N. La Salle street, advertised his vacant apartments in the Chicago Tribune. The Tribune quickly swung the tide of tenants to his office. Three weeks later he had leased thirteen out of sixteen vacant apartments in a single building. As many as thirty calls came in a single day.

Let Mr. McShane tell you what he thinks of the Chicago Tribune. Read carefully the letter reprinted above. It duplicates the experience of hundreds of Tribune advertisers—men who choose the Tribune as their strongest rental medium. men who want results and get them. Do you have vacant apartments to fill? Thousands of Chicago families are still seeking new homes. Decide now to place your apartments before these movers—get quick action—cut down the waste of empty rooms. Proved results point to the Chicago Tribune as your best medium. Don't experiment! See that your apartments are advertised where apartment hunters look—in Chicago's Rental Guide.

During the first six months of 1930 the Chicago Tribune carried more Apartment-to-Rent advertising than all other Chicago papers combined and more than twice as much as any other paper.

HEAR EVIDENCE ON TWO STREET CAR EXTENSIONS

Commerce Commission to Act Aug. 21.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Through a deputy, the Illinois commerce commission heard the evidence for and against two street car extensions yesterday. The commission is scheduled to meet Aug. 21 to decide whether permission for the new lines will be granted, which defers until that date any relief from unemployment this construction would supply.

One request is for a line on Fifty-first street between South Parkway and Cottage Grove avenue, and the other is Eighty-seventh street between Ingleside and Vincennes avenues.

Aldermen Urge Extensions.

Ald. Joseph B. McDonough [13th], and Thomas F. Byrne [15th] pleaded for both lines, and Ald. William D. Meyering [8th] added his request for the Eighty-seventh street extension. Several organizations asked that this line be extended eastward to Stony Island avenue but the Nickel Plate railroad yards are in the way. McDonough told the commission this road is three years behind its contract in track elevation.

Opposition to the Fifty-first street line was voiced by J. T. Nelson, executive secretary of Provident hospital.

Points to Health Center.

"In February," he said, "the Provident hospital is to take over the Chicago Lying-in hospital as part of a Negro health center. This movement for a Negro health center started with Julius Rosenwald because the Negro death rate in the city is more than twice the white death rate. For this health center $3,000,000 has been subscribed.

A hearing on four other street car extensions is scheduled for Aug. 19. One of these, Western avenue between Seventy-fifth and One Hundred and Eleventh streets, is opposed by the South Suburban Motor Coach company which operates between Harvey and the "L" at 63d and Halsted streets.

WOLFE BLAMED FOR BOAT'S FREE USE OF CITY DOCK

Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe is the city official responsible for the ship Rotarian, otherwise known as the "Walter J. Powers Fish and Chop House," being at a city dock without paying compensation, it was declared yesterday. The craft for nearly three years has been anchored between Clark and La Salle streets and for an interval just behind the Wells street bridge.

Records show that a year ago Mr. Wolfe's attention was called to the presence of the boat at the city dock when police discovered taxi dancing on its decks. He started an investigation then to determine by whose permission the owners had eased their boat to a mooring for which other concerns are charged a permit fee. Wolfe said yesterday there is no permit, a circumstance which other city officials said gives him the authority to order the craft to leave.

The absence of a permit also prohibits the city compensation bureau from collecting for the use of city property, officials reported. An application for a permit, made last May after a lapse of two years since the boat first appeared, is now pending before the council committee on local industries, streets and alleys.

"The committee requested Powers to appear and explain what use he intends to make of the boat," said Ald. Dennis A. Horan [21st], committee chairman. "The committee wants to know that there will be no taxi dancing or violation of the prohibition laws before it approves a permit. Mr. Powers failed to appear."

Thirteen Buildings Burn in Costly Village Fire

Gary, W. Va., Aug. 5.—[Special.]—Thirteen buildings and a lumber yard were destroyed by fire here today. Several families are homeless.

BOOTLEGGER BEES ON WARPATH TO KEEP THEIR BOOZE SUPPLY

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 5.—[Special.]—The bootlegger bees at the army base here are battling to keep their booze supply.

Months ago, 60,000 tons of sugar was stored at the base. Soon all the busy little ones for miles about were making bee-lines for the warehouses. When they got home they turned the sugar into honey of an alcoholic content far above that permitted by Mr. Volstead's act.

Federal prohibition agents could not arrest the bees, so they moved to prevent sale of the product, greatly esteemed by Virginians.

Today orders came to remove 5,000 tons of sugar to New York. Customs Agent R. F. Hargrave and stevedores started the work.

The bees buzzed to battle and beat back the besiegers.

"Them bees," said a Negro stevedore, "used machine guns. They batted me a billion belts."

TWO 4-H CLUB TEAMS DIVIDE JUDGING HONORS

Urbana, Ill., Aug. 5.—[Special.]—Outscoring a record field of contestants, teams representing the Lanark and Waterman 4-H clubs divided the championship honors in the annual state judging contest for 4-H club members held by the college of agriculture, University of Illinois, according to official placings of 95 teams, announced today.

The Lanark team, composed of Robert Royer, Claude Cook, and Melvin Stengel and coached by D. V. Duncan, outscored 52 rival teams by a wide margin to win the state championship in the fat stock division of the contest. The Waterman team, composed of Reid Boyle, Donald McAllister, and Wayne Challand and coached by O. C. Holt, maintained a safe lead over 40 other teams for the championship in the dairy cattle division.

William Kuhfuss, member of the Mackinaw team from Tazewell county, scored 508 points out of a possible 600 to win individual honors in the fat stock section, while Claire Putter, member of Pontiac junior coöperators' 4-H club, took first place in the dairy division with a score of 460 out of a possible 500.

GETS YEAR FOR KNIFE ATTACK.

Harry Navara, 29 years old, 551 West Madison street, was fined $300 and sentenced to one year in the Bridewell yesterday by Judge Borelli for slashing the face of Francisco Garcia, 25 years old, 661 West Madison street, with a knife.

ACTOR KIRKWOOD GIVEN DIVORCE FROM LILA LEE

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 5.—[Special.]—James Kirkwood, veteran stage and screen star, won an uncontested divorce from Lila Lee [Augusta Appel], 24 year old film heroine, in Superior court today. Kirkwood showed emotion as he told of receiving a letter from his wife while he was in London for a stage run in 1928. "The letter announced all was over," he said. "I cabled for an explanation. Receiving none, I hurried back here. She gave no reasons, but left me. I have asked her to return many, many times."

Charles Furthman, a screen writer, corroborated Kirkwood. An attorney for Miss Lee stipulated that the decree was by default and that the father shall have custody of the child, but the mother inserted stipulations as to 6 year old Jimmy's education and religious training.

Miss Lee is in a tuberculosis sanitarium in Arizona.

SHOULD TACKLE JOB.

There is little indication of an early upturn in business in the opinion of M. H. Karker, president of the Jewel Tea company. Mr. Karker thinks that business men should tackle the job of getting their house in order and quit waiting for the "fairy godmother of another bull market."

So different from each other, covering such a variety of tastes, but each possessing an irresistible appeal that has made them tremendously popular with the American press and reading public.

Most women have the same experience with coffees.

First, they try the cheaper varieties. There's a few cents saving but—no flavor.

Then, they try better coffee—with these, they get flavor...sometimes.

At last, they wisely decide that the best coffee is the least expensive—the most dependable—so they do the natural thing: turn to McLaughlin's Manor House Coffee.

PROFITS FROM ELECTRIFICATION.

The remarkable showing made by the electrified suburban lines of the Illinois Central in the first six months of 1930 is respectfully called to the attention of officers and directors of other railroads in the Chicago area.

In the first six months of 1929 the Illinois Central gross income from the sale of suburban tickets was $2,500,000. For the corresponding period this year the figure is larger by $57,000, rather more than 2 per cent. This increase may seem small, but it must be viewed in relation to the railroad's other earnings, which show sharp reductions all along the line. Any business which can show an increase in earnings this year over the high tide of American prosperity a year ago is an object of almost universal envy.

If suburban revenues had followed the trend of the Illinois Central's other passenger business, instead of the increase of $57,000 there would have been a decline in revenue of approximately $350,000. The managements of the North Western, the Burlington, the Rock Island, and other railroads which continue to offer their suburban patrons needlessly slow and antiquated transportation may well ask themselves in these days of depression whether electrification would not have served them, as it has the Illinois Central. It would be interesting to discover how many of the other railroads can show an increase in suburban business of more than 98 per cent since 1925, to say nothing of an increase this year over last.

Today money is cheaper than it was when the Illinois Central financed its electrification program and equipment can probably be bought for less. It seems fair to assume that any advantages which the Illinois Central has gained from its improvement could be expected in at least the same measure by other railroads which could take advantage of the present opportunity to borrow and build.

THE CANADIANS WANT MORE ICE.

The Canadian claim upon polar territory ought to have a good deal of sympathy in the United States. We remember how each of our new born states claimed territory stretching westward into the wilderness beyond the Alleghenies, and recognize in the Canadian urge to expand a spirit native to our blood. The territory our forbears aspired to and won is richer and more desirable than the expanse of eternal snow on the Canadian frontier, but that is beside the question. It is easy to smile at a passionate assertion of sovereignty over icebergs and polar bears especially in a people which already possesses what would seem to be enough of both. But who knows what science will do with the regions now apparently worthless? And there is no limit to the hopes and aspirations of a vigorous people. Early travelers in Illinois held that the region around Chicago could never sustain a population, and perhaps the Canadians are thinking of the age when Greenland was fertile and hoping for a shift of the earth's axis or the return of whatever conditions drove the glaciers back.

To a young people worth its salt nothing is impossible, and we congratulate the Canadians upon their enterprise and foresight. We back their claim to a slice of the arctic, only attaching thereto a modest appendix of our own for as much as our Alaska frontage justifies.

THE EIGHTEENTH AMENDMENT IN NEW YORK.

Gov. Roosevelt of New York, supported by Al Smith, John Raskob, and other Democratic leaders in New York, insists that the state party shall declare for an amendment to the eighteenth amendment restoring to the states the right to control the manufacture and sale of alcoholic beverages if they want to exercise that power, leaving the federal government to coöperate with such states as desire to retain absolute prohibition. The governor and his supporters are said to be disinclined to make any concessions to advisers who suggest keeping a warier eye on the dry vote in upper New York.

James W. Wadsworth, former United States senator, has taken a similar position of no compromise in the Republican party. He and his supporters ask for a party commitment to the repeal of the eighteenth amendment, as was made in New Jersey in support of the policy of the Republican nominee for the United States senate, Mr. Morrow.

If both Gov. Roosevelt and Mr. Wadsworth prevail in their parties both will adhere to virtually identical doctrines on the prohibition issue. The Wadsworth proposal is more radical, but Roosevelt's comes to about the same thing. The Morrow and Wadsworth formula would eradicate the sumptuary amendment from the constitution and allow the states to reapproach the problem each in its own way. The Roosevelt proposal would modify although preserve the amendment, but would restore the police powers to the states. There is not a great deal of difference. The Democratic may seem to have greater expediency, the Republican a closer adherence to the fundamental objection to national constitutional prohibition as a distortion of the purposes of the Union.

Mr. Wadsworth may not be able to carry his party just now as far as the Democrats will follow Roosevelt, Smith, and the other liberal leaders, but the leadership against prohibition is the best leadership either party has at the present time, and it seems certain that New York, within a few years at the longest, will be committed against the eighteenth amendment and against the Volstead act without any reservations or concessions.

MONEY FOR THE WATERWAY NOW.

Gov. Emmerson and Secretary of War Hurley have both given evidence of their desire to make a start this fall on the Illinois waterway under federal direction. The desirability of this pleads its own case eloquently with reference to the employment and the trade situation. Mr. Hurley apparently is not in sympathy with war department procedure, which in the past so often has revealed bureaucratic obstinacy rather than reasonable initiative. Gov. Emmerson is of course anxious to have the work started at the earliest possible moment. Nevertheless the two officials with whom the decision rests have not been able to agree upon a way out of the temporary embarrassments.

Congress authorized the completion of the waterway, but did not make an appropriation available. Illinois has not enough money for the entire work, but has a fund which ultimately must produce bridges across the channel, but which is available for other work if a way can be found to use it. The two parties to an agreement which may be made will be the United States and the state of Illinois, and neither is suspect as to intentions or responsibility. It would seem that the broadest view could be taken of the matter in such a case. The authorities could not be asked to assume liabilities for public funds and permit a use of them the consequences of which would reflect upon their judgment, but it is apparent that no such consequences are to be expected here. It is possible for Mr. Emmerson and Mr. Hurley to find a means of operation, it being their purpose to reach such an agreement.

VACATIONS FOR WORKERS.

THE TRIBUNE has urged as a general rule for American industry that every worker should have a vacation. By vacation we mean, of course, time off on full pay. Every worker should have that to look forward to, and this season of unusual heat especially emphasizes the need of such periods of rest and recreation for all who work in or near engine rooms or other places where heat is excessive.

American business and industry can well afford to carry the cost of vacations for workers as a fixed charge upon production. It is an expenditure upon efficiency which will be substantially profitable in the long run both to producer and consumer. It is in the broader view conservation in the highest form, justified economically and socially.

TO ABATE AN EYESORE.

In July the council took a step toward the suppression of the billboard nuisance in Chicago which it is to be hoped the assembly will follow up. Ald. Byrne, Bowler, and Ross presented a resolution requesting the legislature "to enact the proper legislation to regulate or eliminate the erection of these unsightly billboards in our city." The resolution was adopted.

The city under court decision has some jurisdiction to regulate billboards, but it is too narrow to reach the chief evil, which is the offense to beauty. The taxpayers are willingly paying millions for the beautification of the city by parks, highways, and public monuments, and property owners in increasing numbers are giving heed to the claims of beauty in building design and decoration. The billboard is a heavy offset to all this wise expenditure. It is a humiliation to our just pride in the growth of taste and respect for the amenities of urban life. There are few places where it can be justified, where it is not a loss to surrounding property values, to the dignity and beauty of the city, and the pride of the community. The city should have a broad authority to regulate, abate and if advisable completely abolish it.

Editorial of the Day

SUPEREROGATORY SCIENCE.

[Baltimore Sun].

The report from the United States geological survey that the water in Chesapeake bay is saltier on the eastern shore than on the western shore is no news in Maryland.

Obviously salt water possesses "greater salinity" on the eastern shore not merely than on the western shore but than anywhere else in the world. Fresh water is fresher, blue skies are bluer, smart politicians smarter [and dumb ones dumber], hams sweeter and piety more pious than in other places. The eastern shore accentuates the characteristics of nature, physical and psychological. If the largest crab you ever saw was fourteen inches across, Crisfield has them two feet long. If you have been impressed with the devotion exhibited at a Good Friday procession in Seville, try spending Lent at Easton. If the resourcefulness and craft of Tammany Hall and Vare Philadelphia seem noteworthy, some exploration of the eastern shore counties with Cambridge as a base will be illuminating.

By arduous and patient scientific experiments the geological survey has proved what every Marylander has long known a priori. Perhaps the pomological department will issue a bulletin pointing out that eastern shore apples average six inches in diameter; this will be mere corroboration of long known facts. If vital statistics should prove that eastern shore babies are eating their dozen oysters at six weeks, vital statistics will but confirm the common knowledge. In short, the eastern shore is a poor field for the scientist, because his feverish announcement of the discovery of some new wonder is greeted with scornful cries of "That's nothing." And, in comparison with eastern shore wonders long since revealed and known, nothing it is.

How to Keep Well By Dr. W. A. Evans

TREATS TRENCH MOUTH.

DR. T. A. HARDGROVE makes this statement: "Vincent's angina is absolutely curable." This term includes what has been known as trench mouth.

The method of cure he uses is an application of chromic acid, followed immediately by an application of peroxide of hydrogen. The acid he uses as a 15 per cent solution in distilled water. This is painted on the infected areas and immediately thereafter the mouth is washed with some ordinary 3 per cent commercial peroxide. The mouth fluids immediately become blue-black. This is visual evidence of the right reaction. The mixture of chemicals causes the release in the mouth of oxygen in a most active state. After a little while the mouth is rinsed with plain water. The treatment is applied daily until the patch of trench mouth infection is in healthy condition and healing.

Dr. Hardgrove has had extensive experience with this treatment and is more than satisfied with it. The principle involved is that the organisms which cause this disease cannot stand oxygen. The combination of remedies floods them with it in this most effective form.

The sodium biborate treatment advocated by Bloodgood is based on the same principle, but that remedy does not supply as much oxygen nor is it as searching or as killing as is the oxygen produced by the combination of chromic acid and peroxide.

In the discussion of Dr. Hardgrove's paper it was evident that more than one disorder is going by the name of Vincent's angina, or trench mouth. Some dentists are encountering milder infections and others more severe ones. Some cases called Vincent's angina, or trench mouth, are really cases of pyorrhea. Meanwhile, keeping the mouth clean is the best preventive. For this purpose Reasoner recommends soap washes. The tooth pastes which he prefers are those which make a good deal of soapsuds—flavored and perfumed, but still soapsuds.

RESORTS AND GOOD WATER.

Mrs. J. A. B. writes: At every resort we have been to in the last seventeen years the water has affected some people. Finally we took to buying bottled distilled water and drinking that while at resorts. Since then we never have any bowel trouble at resorts. Distilled water is not so cold and does not taste so well, but it is safe.

REPLY.

You have been careless in selecting resorts or you have been unlucky. There are plenty of resorts with good and safe water supplies.

SHOULD DO NO HARM.

Mrs. E. G. writes: I am living in a three room apartment above a bakery. During the night we get the odor of bread. Some people have told me this is not healthful and bad for the stomach. Is this true? I have a son 17 years of age with a heart leak. Will this affect him in any way. I also have a 13 year old girl.

REPLY.

The odor of cooking bread should not harm you or your children.

HOW TO SPUR APPETITE.

V. W. writes: What can I take to stimulate my appetite? I want to gain weight but can't because I have no appetite. When I do feel the least bit hungry it takes next to nothing to fill me up.

REPLY.

Frequently loss of appetite is due to some disease or other. It may be due to deficiency of diet in vitamin B. Among the good sources of vitamin B are: Wheat germ, yeast, lettuce and other greens, salads and salad oils, and eggs.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

Letters to this department must be signed with names and addresses of writers.

DANGER TO SWIMMERS.

Chicago, July 29.—[Friend of the People.]—Will you please tell me why we cannot go in swimming between 78th street south to Rainbow park?

I have been going there every summer for over 12 years and just lately I was there and was informed that no swimming was allowed on account of not having any life guards there.

Since 1918 that beach never had a life guard. Last Saturday I happened to go there and to my surprise there were three (3) life guards asleep under the trees at 78th and the lake.

If they can afford to have life guards lounging around they should be able to patrol the beach. R. B.

Owing to the dangerous rock ledges which form the lake bottom at this point it is our best judgment that it is a very hazardous place for swimmers. We have been directing all swimmers to our protected areas north of 78th street.

So many people have expressed a wish to swim there that against our better judgment we are permitting them to do so and taking a chance. Not so long ago The Chicago Tribune printed a statement saying that ninety per cent of the drownings occurred in unprotected spots, but it seems that people will swim in those places.

W. K. VAUGHAN,
Beach Director in Charge.

DEED AS COLLATERAL.

Chicago, July 30.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I am holding the deed to some property as security for money loaned. Could the owner of this property mortgage it for more unknown to me and would it be legal? J. M. D.

If the deed which you hold is unrecorded or if it is the deed conveying title to the person with whom you are dealing, rather than conveying title to you, then it does not protect you against subsequent dealings with the property.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

SMOKE FROM ALL SIDES.

Chicago, July 28.—[Friend of the People.]—The odor of burning garbage from buildings either side of us is very obnoxious and probably unhealthy. Even when sitting down in our yard the odor comes down and contaminates the otherwise fairly pure air. Cannot something be done to eliminate this condition? A. G.

On the inspectors' visit to the premises no nuisance was observed. The chimney, however, will be kept under observation and if at any time evidence of a nuisance is secured, prompt action will be taken by the department to abate same.

FRANK A. CHAMBERS,
Deputy Smoke Inspector in Charge.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

ALL ABOARD! SPECIAL MIDSUMMER CRUISE OF THE WATER WAGON!!!

Usually the Line runs only one water wagon trip a year—starting at the stroke of the hour of twelve on New Year's eve. But Prohibition Director Woodcock made a radio talk the other night and begged everybody to get on the water wagon right now and stay there. All right, we'll help every way we can, so we'll get the water wagon out of the barn, oil 'er up, slap on a new coat of paint, and run a grand, special midsummer vacation tour. This is a great opportunity for you, brothers and sisters; no waiting for New Year's day, which is a long ways in the offing. We all want to help out the prohibition director, and while he has asked you, pretty please, to get on the old water wagon, he hasn't come down to brass headed tacks and brought out a water wagon and made a date for its voyage.

That's where we come in. We've got a water wagon and we're going to trot her out. It will leave on its first special midsummer cruise next Sunday morning at 12 midnight sharp. You can go aboard any time Saturday night, but the good wagon will shove off promptly as the hour of 12 is shown by Bill Wrigley's clock. As Bill's clock may be in one of its tantrums on Saturday night it is liable to swear it's 12 o'clock when other clocks, as well as the wrist watches, say it's 8, 9, 10, or even 15 minutes past 2 Sunday morning. But when the clock up in the Wrigley tower says it's 12—then 12 it is, and the water wagon starts on its voyage. The only way to be sure is to get aboard at noon, or soon afterwards, on Saturday.

The start will be made as usual at the Chicago Water Tower, on the Boul. Mich. and Chicago avenue. We will proceed south to South Water street, where a stop will be made, and the pilgrims will join in singing "Little Drops of Water" and "A Life on the Ocean Wave." Singing of ribald songs, such as "How Dry I Am" or "Beefsteak When You're Hungry, Whisky When You're Dry," positively will not be permitted, and any tourist who makes the attempt will be promptly thrown out. Applications will now be received for driver of the wagon and conductor. Life lines will be attached to the stern of the water wagon, and every attempt will be made to rescue all who fall overboard. Sandwiches and cold chicken may be carried by the pilgrims, but any one attempting to smuggle any form of ardent spirits aboard will be hurled out before the wagon starts. Make your applications now, get aboard the water wagon, and after you're there we know you will stay aboard. (Lykell, lykell, lykell!)

THIS LOVE.

When we are old we may forget this love
Because so many loves have come between,
And yet, tonight, it seems that, stretched above—
Part of eternity—a silver screen.

High in heav'ns, must register each vow—
Must stamp indelible each wet, blurred kiss,
And keep them animate as they are now.
Life could not lose so sweet a thing as this.

To us, perhaps, lost—but as rain is lost,
Warming the roots of being with its breath.
The springtime dew—the tracery of frost
Drawn upward in a rainbow over death.

THEY'RE TAKING STEPS down Washington way about the drought. It seems the long dry spell is killing off all the fish. What, no fish! Something's got to be done about this.

THIS IS REALLY embarrassing! Franklin D. Roosevelt (that's the governor of New York Roosevelt, not the vice governor of the Philippines Roosevelt or the governor of Porto Rico Roosevelt) is coming out for reëlection as a Dripping Wet. And it also is reported that he will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the presidency in 1932 as a D. W. And we had already gazed with some complacency on Mr. Morrow (to say nothing of Lindy, Anne, and the baby) as our favorite candidate. Mr. Morrow has likewise announced himself as a Wet. But is he a Dripping Wet? We like our wets to drip all over the place. Mr. Morrow, do you drip?

"WHAT'S THE MATTER with Kansas?" asked William Allen White many years ago. We don't know; we couldn't wait long enough yesterday afternoon to get the returns from the primary election. We trust that nothing at all is the matter (oh, outside of jake paralysis and a few little things like that). Anyhow, we shall read with interest the election news to find out what is the matter (if anything).

WE WERE MUCH surprised, to say nothing of being shocked and grieved, to read that at the annual jewelers' trade show great stress is laid on the new designs in cocktail shakers. One of the bosses of the show remarked to a perspiring reporter that cocktail shakers were among their staples now, and that there is also a lively trade in women's sterling silver flasks. "In fact," sezze, "prohibition has helped the jewelry business." Aren't we really a most amusing people?

STILL KINKED

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

AUGUST 6, 1914.

BRUSSELS.—German troops were repulsed with heavy losses when they attempted to cross the River Meuse and capture the Belgian city of Liege yesterday. Several thousand dead and wounded are the result of the endeavor to carry the city by storm. Official dispatches state that all attacks of the invaders failed. Twenty-five thousand Belgians opposed 40,000 Germans. The kronprinz, with 30,000 fresh troops, is reported to be close to the Germans' Meuse pontoons. The battle consisted of two engagements. The first centered on Evignee fort, which was in action all day and was unharmed. In the second the Germans sought possession of Fleron, six miles from Liege.

BRUSSELS.—The terrific opposition encountered by the German army at Liege was a complete surprise to the kaiser's forces. In their rush to Paris they figured on gaining the French-Belgian frontier unopposed. With the French troops from Lille, Amiens, Douai, Laon, and Sedan rushing to join the Belgians along the Meuse, the situation of the German northern column is believed to be fraught with great danger. It is announced that the French army has effected a junction with the Belgian army at Tournai, 25 miles west of Liege.

LONDON.—It is officially announced that the British cruiser Amphion has sunk the Hamburg-American line steamer Koenigin Luise, which had been fitted out by Germany for mine laying. More than twenty German vessels have been seized in or captured outside British ports on the first day of Britain's war.

LONDON.—Germany is said to have sent an ultimatum to Italy.

WASHINGTON. — Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the President, lies at the point of death tonight.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

AUGUST 6, 1900.

CHICAGO.—Anarchy, as revived in Chicago, was nipped in the bud by the Maxwell street police. Lucy Parsons, widow of the executed "Red," finding the doors of the 12th street Turner hall shut in her face began to harangue a crowd at 12th and Halsted streets. She was arrested with four others. When told to "move on" by the police, Mrs. Parsons retorted: "Not for you or for the dirty minions you command will I go on." She called the police "hirelings, dogs, muzzlers of free speech, stranglers of liberty and foreign slaves."

PARIS.—China has backed down squarely before the United States. The American secretary of state cabled an ultimatum on Aug. 1 demanding free communication with Minister Conger at Peking. The next day an imperial Chinese edict was issued ordering that the envoys have free communication with their governments.

CHICAGO.—The mercury again officially registered 94 degrees yesterday and street thermometers went to 96. The hot wave promises to continue today.

SHANGHAI.—An imperial edict has been issued providing escort for the diplomatic corps from Peking by a high official, Li Hung Chang announced. He continues: "This renders further action by allied force unnecessary. This is the first step toward a solution of the situation."

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

AUGUST 6, 1865.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Official reports received by the freedman's bureau from Mississippi do not give a very flattering account of affairs in that state. The planters maintain slavery in the sections not occupied by our troops, and openly avow their determination not to acknowledge the emancipation proclamation until they are compelled to by military force.

CAPE RACE, via Aspy Bay.—The steamship Germania from Hamburg and Southampton passed this point en route for New York. The shore end of the Atlantic cable was landed and successfully connected with the instruments on board the steamship Great Eastern. The knight of Kerry invoked success on the undertaking and Sir Robert Peel made an admirable address. Cheers were then given for the President of the United States when the paying out of the heavy shore end of the cable commenced.

AMERICANS ON THE MARNE.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—In a recent issue you gave an account of the second battle of the Marne. How is it that you ignored the 42d division, with our own Chicago boys in it? They were just off Chalons, with the French Blue Devils, the only American division at that front to fight the German hussars, the crown prince's crack regiment, and all of Germany's finest.

It was at this point the Germans' first wave came over in French uniforms. An Alabama doughboy [the 67th Alabama infantry was with the Chicago field artillery] fired the first rifle shot which started the whole front. Battery B's 75s alone fired 10,000 rounds in three days. We kept a bucket line to each gun day and night, drenching them with water to cool them so they could be refired. Two guns exploded the second day, anyway. The horsemen were in their saddle sixty hours without relief.

Every gunner was given a bomb to blow up the breech of his gun in case the Germans reached them. Each man was told he must stand and fight it out with pistols, and any man who turned around would be shot by his comrades. However, as every one knows, we won. This is the work our own Chicago boys did. Why not give them a little credit and at least mention the fact that they were there? I know, for I was one of them.

ROBERT FIALA.

WEST PARK PLAYGROUNDS.

Chicago, July 23.—All the playgrounds under the jurisdiction of the West Chicago park commissioners, including Columbus park, are operated on the following basis: Open from 9 a. m. to 12 m., closed from 12 m. to 1 p. m., open from 1 p. m. to 6 p. m., closed from 6 p. m. until 7 p. m., open from 7 p. m. until 9:30 p. m.

We do not allow any children in the wading pool or the playground department during the luncheon hours without the proper supervision of an instructor at all times, as something might happen to the little tots and then we surely would be criticized for not closing. We have also had requests from mothers of children to close the playgrounds at meal times, as some of the children would never go home and this allows them time to go home and have their luncheon.

We are trying to provide the best service for the taxpayer and at the same time do it economically. All the park employés, either ladies or gentlemen, should be courteous to all park visitors whether they be adults or children. We also insist upon courtesy being extended to those people using our playgrounds.

W. R. JAMES, President,
West Chicago Park Commissioners.

GET A RAT TRAP.

Chicago, July 28.—This spring, its usefulness being past, I took my overcoat (an exceptionally fine one) down to the basement of my home to have it out of the way during the summer. Imagine my distress on going down this morning to find it literally torn to shreds by the rats. Surely something should be done at once to insure against such outrages in the future. Things are getting pretty bad when a citizen can't escape vandalism even in his own cellar. What will the World Fair visitors think?

M. S. BOWEN.

GERMAN INFLUENCES.

Waukesha, Wis., Aug. 3.—In extolling the merits of Milwaukee, James O'Donnell Bennett has stressed the ethnical origin of her distinguished citizens and those of German descent. Both William George Bruce and Judge August Backus are of German parentage, while Dr. Joseph Schneider was of German birth and education. Indeed, Mayor Hoan boasted at a Steuben banquet that on his mother's side he is of German strain. Information which I used in my history of "The German Element in Wisconsin."

I must also challenge Bennett's allegation that Mother Caroline's character and education were due to her French mother and not to her German forbears. If he will consult her biography by the Rev. P. M. Abbelen, long her spiritual director, he will find that her worldly mother had nothing whatsoever to do with her education. According to this unquestioned authority she was placed at the age of 4 in the household of her paternal uncle, the Rev. Michael Friess, and her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Afra (Proeller) Friess, at Donauwoerth, Bavaria. Except for brief vacations spent with her parents, she continued in this pious household until she was 16, when she entered the convent of the School Sisters of Notre Dame, an order which had been established in Bavaria some years previously. Her mother was never reconciled to this step. Her biographer says: "All that she was she attributed, next to the grace of God, to the thoroughly Christian education received from her wise uncle."

J. H. A. LACHER.

HARD TIMES.

Chicago, July 23.—I joined the Chicago Bricklayers' union in 1892, and I must say that conditions have never been as bad as they are now. I do sincerely hope that it will dawn upon all labor organizations that the most important issue is to have and keep labor in demand. High wages will regulate accordingly. Let's have six hours a day, five days a week, and no overtime. This will establish a new foundation for banks, property owners, and all other industries.

Would it not be a splendid idea for our great philanthropists to spend several million dollars for the purpose of deploying throughout the world a shorter working hour system, so that there will be a demand for labor? Right now that would benefit our country much more than the establishment of institutions for art and science.

WILLIAM HAMMERSTROM.

HOME BUILDING.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—"Hoover spurs home building," are the headlines in this morning's papers—which is most encouraging, to Chicagoans at least. With thousands of vacancies in all kinds of buildings, it will certainly not add to prosperity to build more.

A. B.

SUBWAY SAFETY.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—It is pleasant to know that considerable care is being taken in planning the construction of the subway to eliminate noise. It would offer additional satisfaction if in some way the power could be furnished the trains so as to avoid a short circuit in case of a wreck. The fumes caused by a short circuit in some of the past subway wrecks have been more destructive to the trapped passengers than the wreck itself.

ROOSEVELT ON WET PLATFORM STIRS CAPITAL

Politicians Ponder Hoover Reaction in '32.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug 5.—[Special.]—The apparently well authenticated report from New York that Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, potential candidate for the Democratic nomination for President in 1932, has decided in favor of a dripping wet plank in the New York state Democratic platform to be adopted next month set the capital a-flutter with political speculation today.

Gov. Roosevelt will be a candidate for reflection on the platform adopted by the New York Democratic convention, and if he wins a second term he will become at once a formidable candidate for the nomination for the presidency. In fact, he is at this time the only candidate figuring in the speculation on Democratic White House possibilities.

Would Protect Dry States.

The plank favored by Gov. Roosevelt is said to declare for the amendment of the 18th amendment in such manner as to permit each state to control the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor within its borders while leaving to the federal government the duty of protecting in their entirety those states which choose to be dry.

The New York Republicans are badly split on the issue, the wets appearing to have a slight majority of the convention in prospect. William J. Maier, Republican state chairman, has been leaning to the dry side and William H. Hill, former Hoover leader in New York, has been trying to effect a compromise whereby a wet plank would be shelved this time with the understanding that if prohibition proves a failure in the next two years under the Hoover reorganization all objections to a repeal plank will be withdrawn in 1932.

Speculate on Hoover Stand.

The understanding was that Mr. Hill was proceeding in the belief that Mr. Hoover himself will come out for modification of some sort if the enforcement effort under the department of justice fails to make prohibition prohibit.

These efforts to stem the tide of reaction against prohibition have come to naught up to date. Both Mr. Maier and Mr. Hill were compelled to admit that upstate New York, which has been the stronghold of the dry, showed unmistakable signs of going wet. So sure do the wets feel that they have the whip hand that former Senator James W. Wadsworth, New York leader of the Association Against Prohibition, refused yesterday all overtures of compromise. Mr. Wadsworth himself is mentioned as a possible wet candidate for the Republican nomination for President.

If Roosevelt carries through his program successfully and is reelected in following will go to the 1932 Democratic national convention demanding the same sort of platform declaration. It might split the Democratic party. In fact, some political observers think that both parties may be split by the prohibition issue.

Politicians Prick Up Ears.

Republican politicians pricked up their ears when they heard the news of Roosevelt's decision. With Roosevelt looming up as the possible if not probable Democratic candidate for President some Republicans opined that his attitude might influence the attitude of Mr. Hoover as a candidate to succeed himself.

The reasoning is that Mr. Hoover might set his face against modification and hold fast to championship of beer dry prohibition with a view to winning the dry south away from Roosevelt. Others contend that Mr. Hoover would not be so foolish as to set his hat for southern dry states with comparatively few electoral votes at the risk of losing the wet vote with its enormous electoral strength.

WARNS DEMOCRATIC PARTY RUINED AS ALLY OF DRY LEAGUE IN '32

University, Va., Aug. 5.—[Special.]—Predicting that "if the Democratic party allows the Republicans under the leadership of Dwight Morrow to jockey it into an alliance with the Anti-Saloon league in 1932 it will remain the underdog for fifty years," former State Senator C. O'Connor Goolrick of Fredericksburg, Va., told members of the institute of public affairs today that prohibition continues to be a paramount political issue in the south. He said there are many indications that this section, along with the rest of the country is preparing to grapple with the question from a practical standpoint.

Scheduled as a debate on the economic effect of prohibition on southern industrial development between Senator Goolrick, a pronounced wet, and former Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, a dry, the program developed into an open discussion by institute members after Dean Charles G. Mathis explained that Secretary Daniels had withdrawn a week ago, and that neither the Anti-Saloon league nor the Women's Christian Temperance union, had appointed any one to uphold their views.

Senator Goolrick denied that prohibition is responsible for the drift of manufacturing industries to the south in recent years and claimed that the southern states lead the rest in federal seizures of stills, liquor and mash from 1920 to 1929.

CONTINUE QUEST FOR SIGNERS FOR FILTER PETITIONS

Associates of Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe yesterday stated that the collection of signatures on petitions asking the city council to place the water filtering question on the November election ballot will continue despite the fact that the three places which the law allows on the ballot for public policy questions are already filled.

"If 500,000 signatures are collected that will be sufficient notice without balloting that the people want filtered water," said one city employé close to Commissioner Wolfe. "With that backing the council can authorize the sale of water certificates to finance the work on the four filteration plants which it is proposed to build at a cost of $60,000,000."

Other employés of the department of public works in the meantime continued to solicit signatures. Placards adorned the desks in the department requesting the reader to "sign here for filtered water." Predictions were made that 500,000 signatures would be obtained within the next three weeks.

JURY SELECTED TO TRY BISHOP ON DRY CHARGE

New York, Aug. 5.—(AP)—A jury which declared itself devoid of prejudice against prohibition and which includes Bruce Barton, author and advertising man, today was selected to try Charles Mrzena, former Methodist minister and self-styled bishop of the Czecho-Slovak Orthodox Catholic church, on a charge of violating the Volstead act.

Bishop Mrzena and eight co-defendants are charged with withdrawing sacramental wine by means of permits obtained through misrepresentation and diverting it to secular purposes.

Five of the sixteen indicted with the bishop pleaded guilty today at the opening of the trial and two, John Pedrykanyn of Youngstown, O., and a New York truckman, previously had pleaded guilty. One man indicted has not been arrested.

WOMEN TO ASK WET PLANKS OF 2 STATE PARTIES

If the state conventions of the two major political parties, to be held this month at Springfield, adjourn without having nailed a wet plank in the platform of each it will not be the fault of the Illinois division of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform. Action by the executive committee of that body has resulted in the drafting of a resolution which will be presented to the resolutions committees.

Mrs. George Brennan and Mrs. Wirt Morton, it was announced yesterday, will call the matter to the attention of the Democratic convention, which is scheduled to convene on Aug. 20. Mrs. Leslie Wheeler and Mrs. Clifford Rodman have been selected to state the case before the Republicans when they convene on Aug. 22.

Shaw Helps Write Plank.

The four are members of the executive committee which drafted the plank with the assistance of Attorney Ralph Shaw.

"As a result of eleven years of experience," the proposed resolution reads, "the party has come to the conclusion that the eighteenth amendment was improvidently passed, that the munificent results which it was anticipated would flow from it have not been consummated, and that it is against the best interests of the people that it should be continued in the constitution. For these and other reasons we stand for:

"1. The repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Asks State Control of Rum.

"2. The state having the power to regulate its liquor laws, accompanied by the proper state regulatory enactments preventing the return of the saloon and responsive to the people and therefore capable of legal enforcement.

"3. Congress submitting to conventions of the people a resolution for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment."

The three articles are substantially the same as the declaration of principles of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform as adopted at Cleveland on April 24 last.

Governor Disarms Man as He Points Gun at Him

Las Vegas, Nev., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Gov. Fred Balzar reported to police that Gordon C. Smith had aimed a revolver at him in the course of a heated discussion last night, the chief executive disarming him before he could shoot. The governor's account of the incident was verified by James Cashman, county commissioner, who was at the Smith home.

LORD BIRKENHEAD SERIOUSLY ILL WITH PNEUMONIA

"Poor Boy" Earl Stricken After a Chill.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—(AP)—The earl of Birkenhead, who, as a lawyer and politician has been one of the leading figures in British life for many years, is seriously ill with bronchial pneumonia at his home in Grosvenor Gardens.

Physicians said tonight they had noted a slight improvement in the last 24 hours, however.

The earl, who is 58 years old, has been inactive since his return from Biarritz last April. While at the French resort he suffered a broken blood vessel and his condition for a time was serious. After his recovery and return to England he had gotten along fairly well until last week, when he developed a chill that was the forerunner of the bronchial pneumonia.

Born Frederick Edwin Smith, a poor boy, the earl won renown as a lawyer and was elevated to the nobility when he became lord high chancellor. He also served as attorney general under David Lloyd George and later became secretary of state for India in the Stanley Baldwin cabinet from 1924 to 1928.

When he was attorney general his principal case was the prosecution of Sir Roger Casement, the Irishman who was hanged on charges of treasonable negotiations with Germany.

The earl of Birkenhead has visited the United States three times—in 1917, in 1923 and in September of last year.

WAGNER'S WIDOW NAMED HEAD OF MUSIC FESTIVAL

BAYREUTH, Germany, Aug. 5.—(AP)—The will of Siegfried Wagner, made public today, establishes the widow as his sole legatee with full authority over the theater, where annually is held the famous Wagnerian musical festival.

Frau Wagner, who has been on the committee of three managing the festival for some time, today requested the others—Dr. Knittel and Herr Fries—to retain their posts. Immediately after hearing the will, the committee announced that "in conformity with the wishes of Siegfried Wagner, the festival will continue as scheduled."

The widow attended today's performance of "Tannhaeuser," under Arturo Toscanini, declaring that this was in accordance with her husband's ideas. She said that he told her, when death was approaching, that the "festival must not take notice of my death." Burial of Siegfried Wagner, who died yesterday, will be at noon tomorrow.

Dr. Watson, Former Illinois Solon, Ingersoll Pupil, Dies

Mount Vernon, Ill., Aug. 5.—[Special.]—Dr. James H. Watson, 84, of Woodlawn, physician and for two terms a member of the lower house of the Illinois legislature, and one term a member of the upper house, died last night. He was one of the 101 men who elected John M. Palmer, a Democrat, to the United States senate after a deadlock lasting many months. Dr. Watson was the last surviving pupil of Col. Robert G. Ingersoll, who taught school in Mount Vernon when a young man. Dr. Watson and wife observed their 60th wedding anniversary Sunday, July 27.

DEATH CLAIMS "PANSY," FAMOUS STORY WRITER

Began as Child; "Hid" Her First Success.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 5.—Special.]—Mrs. Isabella Macdonald Alden, known to thousands of readers during the last eighty years by her pen name "Pansy," died at her home in Palo Alto today at the age of 88.

Since the publication of her first story, written at the age of eight in her native city of Rochester, N. Y., and appearing first in a Gloversville, N. Y., newspaper. Mrs. Alden had written some 125 books. She was working on an autobiographical novel entitled "Memories of Yesterday" at the time of her death. The book will be completed and edited by her niece, Mrs. Grace L. Hill of Pennsylvania.

"Hid" First Success.

Her first recognition as an author came when she was seventeen and was really due to a girl friend. At the time she was a pupil-teacher at Oneida, N. Y., seminary. Inspired by a prize offer for a book on principles of Christianity for children, she wrote a story, but was dissatisfied and buried it in her trunk. Three days before the competition closed a roommate, without Miss Macdonald's knowledge, submitted it in the contest. The book, published under the title "Helen Lester," won the prize. Requests for more stories followed.

Married to the Rev. Gustavus R. Alden in 1866, she made her home in Palo Alto for many years. Her son Raymond was formerly professor of English in Stanford university there. Following her husband's and son's death in 1924 she lived with her sister-in-law and five grandchildren continuing her writings.

Seriously Hurt in Auto Accident.

Following serious injuries received in an automobile accident in Palo Alto in 1926, she was confined to a wheel chair and died of a complication of diseases brought on by old age.

A prolific author of children's romances and religious works, she is best known for her "Chautauqua," "Ester Ried," and "Life of Christ" series. Two books, "A Fortunate Calamity" and "An Interrupted Night," were written since her injuries in 1926.

Funeral services will be held in the Palo Alto First Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon.

Besides her niece and sister-in-law, five grandchildren—Donald, John, Elizabeth, Ronald, and Raymond Alden—survive.

FALL FATAL TO WOMAN.

Injuries incurred when she fell on a stairway resulted in the death yesterday of Mrs. Eunice McDale, 66 years old, at her home at 517 West 47th street.

ENGLAND AWAITING ROYAL STORK; HOPES IT WILL BRING A BOY

GLAMIS, Scotland, Aug. 5.—(AP)—The huge pile of gray stones, which is Glamis castle, tonight held the secret that all England is waiting to hear whether the duchess of York, daughter-in-law of King George and Queen Mary, will present the country a new heir to the throne or another princess. If the child is a girl she would follow little Princess Elizabeth in the royal line of succession, whereas a boy would be in the direct line.

The arrival tonight of the home secretary, J. R. Clynes, heightened the tension of this quiet Scottish countryside. Clynes, who will officially take note of the birth of the child which is in line for the British crown, is staying at Airlie castle.

Sir Henry Simpson, famed obstetrician, who attended the duchess at the birth of Princess Elizabeth four years ago, has been established at Glamis for several days.

Special arrangements have been made to send the news to the king and queen, who are on holiday aboard the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, in Cowes roads.

There was widespread hope in England that the fourth royal grandchild would be a boy as he would be in direct line for ascendancy to the British throne, since the heir apparent, the prince of Wales, is unmarried. King George's daughter, Princess Mary, has two sons, but possibility of their reaching the throne is rather far removed.

D. J. KOHLSAAT WEDS SECRETLY FOR SECOND TIME

The second secret marriage of Dietrich J. Kohlsaat, wealthy La Salle street broker, was revealed yesterday when he admitted that he and Miss Myrtle Ann Robinson were married last Thursday at the Hotel Ambassador in New York.

His first marriage was with Mrs. Helen McGinnis Thorne, second divorced wife of Gordon Thorne and former Follies girl. Mr. Kohlsaat and Mrs. Thorne were married in February, 1928, in Indianapolis, and kept the wedding a secret for two weeks. They were divorced on July 3, after she testified that he had struck her during a bridge game.

Mr. Kohlsaat and his bride declared they had known each other all their lives. They said they were leaving for a honeymoon in California. The broker said his new bride is a New York girl.

George B. Wright Funeral Service to Be Tomorrow

Funeral services will be held at 9:30 tomorrow morning from St. Clara's church, 64th street and Woodlawn avenue, for George B. Wright, father of Walter Wright, city superintendent of parks, playgrounds, and aviation, who died yesterday at St. Bernard's hospital. Mr. Wright, who was 81 years old, was born in Milwaukee. He came to Chicago during the civil war. In 1883 he entered the building material business. Surviving him, besides his son, Walter, are two daughters, Miss Laura M. Wright and Mrs. Leonore W. Cann.

LOCK "BIG THREE" OF INDIA REVOLT IN SAME PRISON

Transfer Gandhi Aids in Peace Move.

BOMBAY, Aug. 5.—(AP)—The Indian government today took steps to hasten negotiations that look to peace in troubled India, ordering the transfer of Pandit Motilal Nehru and his son, Pandit Jawarhalal Nehru, to the jail occupied by Mahatma Gandhi at Poona.

The Nehrus, prominent among the leaders of the civil resistance movement following the imprisonment of Gandhi, have been serving sentences in the jail at Allahabad.

Two peace emissaries, Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru and M. Jayakar, who are seeking to reconcile the Nationalists with the government, were responsible for the transfer.

Viceroy Grants Transfer.

They recently visited Mahatma Gandhi in Yeravda prison at Poona, then went to Allahabad to confer with the Nehrus. They suggested that the conversations would be more effective were the three leaders together. Viceroy Lord Irwin thereupon authorized the transfer.

Political observers were not particularly optimistic regarding the results of the concession tonight, but they held that it was possible something might develop from the meeting of the three chief figures of the congress movement.

Meanwhile the gloomy position of Indian trade, as brought about by the congress campaign, was reflected in the weekly governmental appraisement issued tonight.

More Mills Close Doors.

"The economic position in the city of Bombay is deteriorating," said the statement; "on Aug. 1 six mills closed down, involving 1,300 operatives, and it is anticipated that other mills will close in the early future owing to the inability to finance production.

"The economic effect of the civil disobedience movement is not confined to Bombay. In Amritsar, which is an important center of the piece goods trade, the ban on foreign goods has resulted in locking up a very large amount of capital, with the inevitable consequences that trade and finance have been seriously affected and the movement of Indian goods has been impeded.

"The Madras government reports that in several places large numbers of weavers have been thrown out of employment."

The communique said, however, that aside from the economic factor the general situation of the country was little changed, "with the improvement manifest during the last few weeks maintained."

12 Slain, 150 Hurt in Riot.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Karachi dispatches to the Daily Herald report that twelve persons were killed and 150 injured during an outbreak of communal rioting this evening at Sukkur, northwestern India. Police fired into a crowd of fighting Hindus and Moslems. Two hundred were arrested.

Booth, Canadian Lumber King, Dies in Rochester

OTTAWA, Aug. 5.—(AP)—J. Fred Booth, vice president and general manager of J. R. Booth, Ltd., lumber merchants, died early today in Rochester, Minn. Associates were notified. CONSTIPATION IS A HEALTH THIEF

Drive It from Your System with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Constipation steals the best out of your life. Robs you of strength, vitality, health itself! And many people do not realize that perpetual fatigue, coated tongues, bad breath, are often signs that constipation is in their system.

You must move poisonous wastes out of your system and keep them moving. But there's a right way and a wrong way. Pills, drugs and ordinary cathartics give but temporary relief—and their dose must be constantly increased to be effective.

The great natural cleanser is Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. A tasty cereal, which brings you iron for blood building—and, above all, corrects constipation. The abundant roughage in ALL-BRAN gently and naturally sweeps out poisonous wastes and impurities.

Physicians recommend ALL-BRAN. It's guaranteed. Two tablespoonfuls daily. Recurring cases—with every meal.

You'll like the nut-like flavor of ALL-BRAN. Eat it in many ways. Delicious with milk or cream—fruits or honey added. Make muffins with it. At all grocers. Served in hotels, restaurants, dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

The Nine Hundred Block

BY KATHARINE HAVILAND TAYLOR

SYNOPSIS.

To the nine hundred block, with its deteriorated dwellings, moved gentle, lovely Theresa Ames and her mother, Mrs. Colt, under the watchful eye of Mrs. Baum, neighborhood gossip. Theresa makes friends with Katie Warner, who lives upstairs, and B. Jones, a reporter, also Johnny Deane, who left a home of wealth to make good for the girl to whom he regrets, since meeting Theresa, he is engaged. He has found employment painting automobiles. Theresa does typing at home to support herself and her mother, who has known better days. Mrs. Colt wants Theresa to marry Billy Treadway, a rich bachelor beau of her own girlhood.

Theresa's father, Arnold Ames, married again after Theresa's mother divorced him to marry Barrington Colt, who recently died. The father now has a belated desire to help his daughter, but his wife threatens to leave him if he does. He arranges with Harold Blake, a friend, to secretly give Theresa work. For Christmas he sends her a thousand dollar bond.

Johnny Deane had determined not to tell Theresa of his love for her until he had broken his engagement, but does not keep his vow. When he confesses, Theresa feels he has deceived her and she will not forgive him. He breaks his engagement and the girl, disgusted, sells his letters to a newspaper. Johnny returns to his father's home. Theresa tells his mother she will marry Billy Treadway and writes to her father, who calls and takes Theresa for a drive. He tells her it would be criminal for her to marry Billy.

INSTALLMENT XXVII.

VALENTINES.

Upstairs Theresa found propped against her elephant a letter from Johnny. She knew his writing from a continued story he had written for her at Christmas time. She picked it up and her knees began to tremble. Elsie Colt lay, oddly silent, straining ears, hoping in the dark. "After all," she thought, "Billy is too old for the child!" The Deane millions! She had seen the headlines of that edition of paper which had crushed Johnny; seen them and the pictures and the story at the house of an old friend who had remained loyal and whose threshold Elsie could still pass. "Well, boys will be boys," she had decided easily, reading. He had played upon the American polo team; Theresa would be welcomed anywhere. Theresa, through Johnny, would have a real "position." How foolish she, Elsie, had been to listen to Billy! The Deane millions. . . . She, Elsie, would have been settled near them with an adequate allowance. . . . Millions they had, millions! In every human chain, one weak link . . . some less beautifully weak than others.

Theresa opened the letter to sink with it to the chair that had the rip on the seat.

"My dearest," she read, "[and you'll always be that to me, wanting to be or not] I can't drop out without a fight. I'm not built that way and I know you belong to me. I haven't been any good. But I can be. I've been decent since knowing you and I would be always with you. The story you've seen perhaps, isn't quite true, although it's truer than I want it to be. I love you; I loved you at the first sight I had of you. I've never loved before; I never shall again. . . . I mean, any one else. I'm on my knees to you and crying for you. Theresa, there isn't anything in life for me without you. Don't you know, remembering everything, how it is? Dearest, you did love me! Will you give me a chance? I'll work all my life to show you how much that means to me. I can't tell you how I'm feeling. Theresa, please, dearest!

JOHNNY."

Very carefully Theresa folded the letter to slip it into the envelope; hands quite steady, but cold.

In a little while perhaps, she, too, would have enough letters to fill many columns in a newspaper, she reasoned. "Stark Passion Displayed Tomorrow in Love Notes" had been advertised at the end of Collette's pitiful tale. "Stark Passion," and how those words had followed her and tortured her. Again she propped the letter against Lucky, the elephant who chased erasers. Then she moved the letter because she was fond of Lucky.

"Sweetheart roses for my sweetheart."

"Did you find your letter, dear?" [Elsie's voice, eager, strained.]

"Yes, mother."

"What did he say, dear?'

"You can read it. I'm too tired to talk. Father is going to give us an allowance."

"How much?" [Greed making the word sharp.]

"Two hundred a month——"

"Pet!" [Pleasure.] "He'll never know it—miss it—and to think of the years when you had nothing!" [Bitterness.] "Two hundred, after all, is nothing—considering—[Sudden change.] "Is Mr. Deane in New York?"

"I don't know——"

"Can't you tell mother what he said, dear?'

"No."

Flatly that, almost brutally. Elise Colt sighed. Theresa was growing so difficult.

"O, dear . . . my head!" she murmured.

No response.

"Billy telephoned."

"What did he want?" Close to angrily, this, it seemed, and from Theresa, usually so gentle.

"He wanted to speak to you, dear, his little wife-to-be."

Silence; but after a sudden motion of Theresa's which had overturned a picture of Barrington Colt that stood upon the bureau.

"You startled mother, Pet——"

"I'm sorry."

. . . . . .

The weeks, accumulating, pulled from collective calendars the leaf marked February. During February Arnold Ames told Laura that he was going to see his daughter when he wished. She did not leave him, as she had threatened, but she might as well have left him. She looked over his head as she sat silent at meals. Her lank awkwardness was increased. She could not eat and she was growing thin. She sat in her room when he was at home, which was rarely.

Katie began her divorce proceedings; desertion, the charge. She sang a good deal at her work, did Katie, despite the fact she felt "just awful about the poor little kid" and her connection with the kangaroo-squirrel suggesting Mr. Treadway. During February Agnes told Billy Treadway that if anybody new came into the house she, Agnes, would "pack up and leave." She did it after Billy had eaten of one her souffles—opportunist, Agnes—and she noticed her master's obvious depression, to gloat over it. When he said, timidized by "But if she promised, Agnes, never to step into your kitchen?" Agnes suspended simply, "If anybody new comes into this house I pack up and leave."

Agnes had cooked and managed for Mr. Treadway for thirty years.

It was no time for him to go and marry, Agnes told Mary, the waitress. "She'd keep him out late nights," Agnes went on, "and you know how his sinus aches him if he don't get his sleep—no, sir, I'm going to put my foot down!" And she did . . . Willow ware platters and Agnes! Poor Billy; he didn't know what to do!

Theresa had some valentines in February, which set upon her lips a recently discovered curl. Two, she liked; her father's and Mr. B. Jones. Although—she wasn't quite sure that Mr. Jones had not presumed. He had written [on one of Eddie Herr's advertising pads, circulated gratis, Eddie's name at the top]

"Lady of fast ticking keys,
For your own and others' ease,
Learn the message of the day
Which can waft all clouds away.
St. V.'s, I've heard, a lone position,
But his, the sweetest disposition,
Because his heart was used for love.
[Pardon B. Jones and the above.]"

Her father had sent her a string of small, real pearls with a card on which he had written, "For my daughter with her father's love." "Love" was a little hurried and a little unsteady; a hard heart beat shouted from it. Billy had sent "sweetheart roses," and he had had, being Billy, to erect a heavy sign post for them; "Sweetheart roses for my sweetheart" was on his card. "Ugh——" thought Theresa.

Elsie had said, "Isn't that cute?"

Theresa had had, too, dozens and dozens and dozens of red roses, the order for which had come from New York, Miss Ward of the flower shop had said. No, there was no name with the order. They could write to find out, perhaps. "You needn't bother," said Theresa, who had gone to the shop on foot in order to find out.

"Won't you sit down a moment? You look tired," said Miss Ward anxiously. The beautiful, soft voiced girl had grown so white. Theresa sat down and Miss Ward brought her a glass of water.

"You're very kind," said Theresa.

"Why not at all. . . . I think this kind of changeable weather is hard on you. There are lots of sick people—really we can hardly keep up with our orders, there are so many sick people—and funerals."

Theresa remembered that, later.

Johnny, of course, had sent those red roses; Johnny who had not, as yet, forgotten her. Agony—rapture! These sometimes blend! "God, please let me forget him!" she entreated. There is an adage which says, "God punishes men when he answers their prayers," but God did not answer this one.

IRISH AUTHORS' BOOKS ARE CHILDREN'S TEXTS IN IRELAND'S SCHOOLS

BY HUGH CURRAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, Aug. 5.—One of the most beneficent acts of the new ministry of education was the complete change in the matter contained in the books used by children in the primary schools.

In the old days they had Scott, Longfellow, Mrs. Felicia Hemans, Tennyson, Dickens and the most popular of English authors. Today these children are given Mangan, Moore, Davis, Ferguson, Yeats, O'Sullivan, Colum, Murray and other representative poets, novelists, essayists and dramatists of the younger generation in Ireland.

Thus, from the first, the children of the new Ireland are familiarized with the writings of their contemporaries, and are made to realize that Ireland itself has writers in every branch of literary art who are worthy to rank with the very best in other lands. The mental change induced by this is little short of revolutionary—there will be no "inferior complex" in future.

Since The Irish Statesman ceased publication a short time ago the literary movement has now no weekly periodical, but there still is that famous quarterly, The Dublin Magazine. This was founded some seven or eight years ago under the editorship of Seumas O'Sullivan, himself one of the most prominent of the Irish poets. It numbers among its contributors all the leading poets, dramatists, novelists, and essayists of today. The Dublin Magazine, "a quarterly review of literature, science, and art," now is the only Irish representative among the great literary reviews of the world. It numbers among its contributors Yeats and Austin Clarke, "AE," Russell, and F. R. Higgins, Colum, and Monk Gibbon, O'Sullivan, and Lyle Donaghy, thus connecting the pre-war poets with those of a later generation.

Its story writers include Liam O'Flaherty, Brinsley MacNamara, Frank O'Connor, and many others whose fame has yet to be spread abroad.

King in Yacht Race; His Boat Gets 3d Place

Bar Session Delegates Cheer Contestants.

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

COWES, Aug. 5.—For the first time since his illness, King George took part in a yacht race when he boarded his racing cutter Britannia for the opening royal yacht squadron's racing today. There was hardly any wind but there were constant showers and king wore yellow oilskins over his yachting suit. He was accompanied by Earl Jellico.

The Britannia, in the second race for the 21-24 meter class was first to get away, and the crowds lining the Cowes green cheered.

While disappointed at the Britannia's coming home third after Westward was first and Astra second, the king heartily enjoyed the day's racing, giving assistance to his crew. The fact that he was able to brave the blustery weather for several hours is regarded as evidence of his complete recovery.

When the Britannia came to its moorings the king disembarked and returned to the royal yacht where he and the queen are living during the races, and wherefrom the queen had watched the progress of the race. The liner Duchess of Atholl passed near-by, en route to Montreal, with members of the English bar aboard. They will visit the United States and Canada as guests of the American and Canadian Bar associations. The decks were lined with passengers. The liner's captain dipped his flag in salute to the royal yacht.

Mission Veterans Leave Turkey, Retiring as New Regime Advances

ISTANBUL, Turkey.—(AP)—The old guard of American missionaries in Turkey is laying down its work of many years and is turning home. Retirements this summer in the American board of foreign missions include a number of missionaries who have worked in Turkey for nearly half a century.

Dr. and Mrs. J. P. McNaughton of Washington, D. C., who came to Turkey in 1887 and since then have directed missions and schools in different parts of Anatolia, are among those retiring.

Others are Miss Anna B. Jones of Greenville, O., who had been here for forty years; Miss Elizabeth Webb, a woman of 70, who has taught in Adana for 44 years and who will now go to Beirut, Syria, to live with her sister, Miss Mary Webb, who retired last year after 40 years of mission work, and Miss Charlotte Willard of Carlton college, Minnesota, who has been with the American mission in Merzifoun since 1897.

These old timers had had within the last few years to readjust their mission work to meet the secularizing orders of the new Turkish government, which placed a taboo on religious instruction in Turkish and foreign schools.

They will not be here, though, for the day which is believed to be impending, perhaps as soon as next year, when the Turkish government will issue even more stringent orders concerning foreign schools, including a probable order that each one shall have a Turkish subdirector.

'Miss Chicago' Newest Addition to the Circus, Dresses in Stripes

Although she was born in stripes, "The Prisoner's Song" means nothing to the latest "Miss Chicago," the latest miss at the circus.

"Miss Chicago" is the daughter of Anna and Skip Zebra. She arrived on Sunday morning, 24 hours after Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey hoisted the big top for a nine days' stay in Grant park. Yesterday the christening ceremony attended by circus folk took place back stage with Lillian Leitzell, a favorite aerial artist, officiating. Because baby zebras are hard to raise, the circus management were especially happy yesterday because the young lady is strong and seems to have every intention of living for a long time.

Yesterday was a big day for the orphans and underprivileged children of Chicago institutions. More than 1,600 were guests of the management at the afternoon performance from Marcy center, Madonna Center, Miller Street Methodist Episcopal church, Deborah Boys' club, Norwegian Lutheran Children's home, Bethesda Day nursery, Women's and Children's hospital, Onward Neighborhood house, Fellowship house, and a group who were guests of Dean Walter Pond.

Each afternoon 1,500 or more poor children will be guests of the circus, and the clowns will put on a special performance for them.

Musical Fete Tryouts Bring Close Contests

Winners Listed in Initial Judging.

The seven judges who picked the winners in the second of four tryouts preliminary to the Chicagoland music festival, to be held Aug. 23, found themselves in a delicate situation last night, so many good baritones and bassos turned up.

WM. G. POHLMANN.

So plentiful were singers at the tryout in the "little theater" on the seventh floor of the Chicago Theater building that before one baritone got to perform five other men had sung his song, "On the Road to Mandalay." After worrying about it some time, however, he said, "I'll just go ahead and sing it. They can stand it again. My wife plays it better than any other."

The winners will appear at the Paradise theater next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. The following week one of each class will be chosen to appear at the Oriental theater, with others from other parts of Chicago. Last night's entrants represented the west side.

Only three girls were chosen as winners last night: Miss Mary Berovitz, 421 South Springfield avenue, contralto; Miss Nora Sullivan, 4440 Washington boulevard, 18 years old, soprano, and Miss Ruth Dennen, 18 years old, 1615 South Fifth avenue, Maywood, soprano.

The winners are:

Bassos—Lewis V. White, colored, 2247 Maypole avenue, a clerk in the central postoffice; Robert E. Phillips, 4201 Drexel boulevard, former student at De Paul university, winner of last years' Atwater Kent contest in Indiana, and member of the Civic light opera chorus; John A. McFarlane, 639 Garfield street, Oak Park, plumber; William Brown, colored, 435 East 48th place, and Modupe Paris, colored, of 5516 Indiana avenue.

Baritones—Alois J. Bragagnolo, 2825 South Central Park avenue; John Willard Gatherer, 3618 North Morton avenue; Claude C. Smith, 6727 Paxton avenue; Jack Donahue, 6454 Kimbark avenue, and Ludwig J. Skala, 2116 West 21st street.

Quartets: Deep River Quartet [colored], Lemmyon Amoureux, 6817 Champlain avenue, first tenor, shipping clerk; E. C. Welch, 5911 Calumet avenue, second tenor, laborer; Shelby Nichols, 333 East 55th place, baritone, cook, and John Burdette, 5944 South Park way, Basso, elevator operator.

Brown's quartet, including Brown and his wife, Della R.; Ernest Williams, 5412 South Park way, tenor, and Novella McGee-Lee, 6033 Calumet avenue, soprano.

Trombone player: Edward Mendelsohn, 825 South Kedzie avenue.

Cornet player: Allyn Brooks, 302 North Lotus avenue; Samuel A. Mages, 819 South 9th avenue, Maywood, and Harold W. Dodd, 800 South Grove avenue, Oak Park.

Saxophone players: Eleanor Betrik, 3251 West 26th street, and Robert L. Howes, 197 Herrick road, Riverside, Ill.

Tenors from the west side will try out tonight, with entrants from the northwest side.

Judges were Mrs. Joe Hahn, a public schools supervisor of music; Mrs. Edmund J. Tyler, director of Atwater Kent music contests; Arnold Isolany, soloist at St. James' cathedral; William G. Pohlmann, choral director; Mrs. Lillian Rosedale Goodman, pianist and composer, musical and booking bureau director; H. Leopold Spitalny, conductor of the Chicago Theater Symphony orchestra, and Louis R. Lipstone, musical director, Publix-Balaban & Katz theaters.

Mr. Bragagnolo is a student of physics, but prefers music. He explains, however, that he must live; so he sings by way of dissipation.

Modupe Paris, however, came from Sierra Leone. He worked his way to New York from Africa on a ship seven years ago.

Nora Sullivan's father and mother for years played in vaudeville as "Sullivan and Conroy," her mother later teaching voice at Mount Aloysius academy, Crescent, Pa. For the last two years she has played in vaudeville with her father.

Doris Is Urged to Call Wedded Life Real Job

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"Why don't you and the other columnists go at your marriage propaganda from the other end? Instead of keeping up the dangerous pastime of letting young men and women think they are about to enter the land of promise, why don't they tell them they are about to enter a life with a good deal of humdrum routine to it; that it is a serious job, a hard-working one, over which they might well tremble?

"Then, armed with this defense, they'll find out it has routine and great seriousness, but also may be indeed the most gorgeous venture known? I think half our marriage troubles now are due to the utterly impractical theories about romance that the involved pair start out with!

"BUSTER."

True, ridiculous, impractical pictures of love as it should be lived in marriage do bring about all manner of disillusion and gravitate no few noncompromisers toward the divorce court doors. But presenting marriage in a light of all work and no play has its drawbacks, too. It would keep out too many good folk human enough to wish to avoid the hard road, if marriage were made to look like that. Not many of us are sacrificed enough to wish to dedicate our services to hard labor, are we?

But young men and young women could look marriage more squarely in the face. They all have kin who are working away at it. Even the most affluent have duties that can't be avoided. The less affluent have more duties to perform themselves. But duties there are, and they can't be avoided. However, by putting the right sort of punch into the duties they are accomplished with comparative ease and there is time for the lighter side of romance.

Any young woman holding down a position in the business world, for instance, has her quota of work to perform. But after the working hours she has her romantic world to draw upon. She manages to create a full life and a joyous one if her work is agreeable and the world of romance has delivered an attractive beau into her keeping. She has good days and bad days in her work, and she has had happy hours and unhappy ones in her romantic life, but she goes on just the same.

Snake, Shudder Don't Always Have to Go Together

A "Booklet for Prayers and Graces for Children" will be sent by Mrs. Bevans on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Snake. Shudder. "Shudder" follows, as the night the day, in the wake of "snake," for almost every one.

For some people the mere word snake is enough. For others the sight of a snake is necessary to produce melodramatic shivers, or a real feeling of repulsion. It seems as though surely at least about 9½ out of 10 people have a horror of snakes.

Now, I'm not going to be so foolish as to try to argue any one out of that aversion—it would be as futile as trying to argue about religion or politics. But I will say this—that a little knowledge of snakes and the fact that most of them are harmless and useful ought to help to dispel a little of the snake antipathy. However, it is not primarily about adults' feelings that I started to write, but about children and snakes.

Children shouldn't have the snake aversions of their elders thrust upon them. Snakes are but another part of the natural world and have their place there. It is this feeling that children should have toward them.

They should know something of their habits and their value, as well as their menace. They should know that farmers, for instance, deplore the practice of the average person of killing any snake on sight, because he needs them to keep down rodents and harmful insects.

Another important reason why boys and girls should have information about snakes is because a few are dangerous. They should be cautioned, for instance, in using their hands to climb rocky places, that they keep on the alert and watch each new hold. They should know that in going into strange woods or snaky country high boots are an almost certain protection and watchfulness important. Just try yourself in knickers and see what a sense of security it gives you in underbrush. Of course leggings or puttees are good if you are sure not to leave your ankle exposed.

Add a snake book to your summer nature reading. A simple, short, well illustrated and interesting one is found in the form of one of the magazines of the New York Zoological society. It is their May-June 1929 Bulletin, and is obtainable from the offices of the society, at 101 Park avenue, New York City. Price 30 cents a single copy.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

MISS V.: BITING THE LIPS makes them thick and coarse. It is a most disfiguring habit.

Famous Spy Is Remembered for Her Lovely Arms

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

In reading the life story of Mata Hari, the well known spy, who went to her death in the grand manner of a French military execution, one learns from a man who knew the sorceress well without having succumbed to her fatal charm, that her claim to beauty was exaggerated.

She was not pretty, so the connoisseur reported. Her features lacked refinement. There was something bestial about the lips, cheeks, and jaw. Her brown skin had the appearance of having been anointed with oil, or was exuding perspiration. . . . Only her eyes and arms were absolutely in their beauty. Those who said she had the most beautiful arms in the world did not exaggerate.

She was a wicked woman, from all accounts, and not a character to be exalted, but the beauty stress laid upon those arms of hers intrigued my fancy. Another man, a great artist, paid high tribute to the symmetry and grace of the notorious courtesan's arms. It gives an idea for another contest: the most beautiful arms afloat on a summer day. We've had the most beautiful figure, the most beautiful legs, the most beautiful eyes and teeth and profile. We're ripe for arm standards, by which to judge. One of these days we'll gather up a photographic bundle of them for exhibit.

They are a grand a glorious asset, aren't they, in a world of all sorts and conditions of them? Thin, scrawny ones, angular ones, fat ones, red ones, and superfluous haired ones, large brown freckled ones and so on and so on, including fair, good, excellent, and most beautiful.

Some arms you can do something about and some you can't do anything at all about. The painfully thin or the ridiculously plump can be whipped into more seemly grace, by the usual process that attends fattening and reducing the body. But those superfluous blemishes, such as redness, roughness of skin surface, freckles, and excessive hair growths, can be remedied, and should be, just in case somebody does offer a swell emerald bracelet prize in the most beautiful arm contest.

Anyway, they ought to be looked at and over for flaws, big and little, and a great arm pride developed. Pride is all the average woman does need to develop to set her to work on tuning up a blemished record, be it arms, legs, figure, complexion, or what she has that could be improved.

Family Needs Help.

"They are planning to tear down the house we are living in and we want to move into a three room flat. We will need a gas range, a day bed, and some kitchen chairs. Do you think you can get them for me? My husband is out of work and with four children it is awfully hard to get along. The boys are 11 and 7 years old and the girls are 9 and 2½. We all need clothing. If you can get me a coat and dress, size 36, and some shoes, size 6, I will be most grateful. My husband wears a suit, size 40, and shoes, size 7. MRS F. B."

Sally Tells More About Baseball Game of the Cubs

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

When we see the Cubs a week from Thursday in their encounter with the Brooklyn Robins at Wrigley field we will be watching what probably will be one of the most important games of the 1930 season.

In spite of the fact that each day they turn crowds away from the north side park because they cannot accommodate them, William Veeck tells me he's happy to have us as his guests for the Brooklyn-Cubs game, and we'll even have box seats.

Won't it be fun to sit up there where we won't miss a play or a move and watch the superb work of these champion ball players? To see Kiki Cuyler, that master right fielder, in action, or Hack Wilson sliding home in one of his famous runs, or Blair knocking a three bagger, are sights to cheer the heart of every baseball enthusiast.

If you are a fan—and who isn't?—I'd like to know about it, so that you'll have a chance to share in this big day of baseball fun on Aug. 14. This is to be such a grand occasion I am particularly anxious to take the hundred boys and girls who will enjoy it most, so be sure to let me know that you are one of them when you write your letter.

By the way, you have only today to compose it, so you had better make the most of the time that is left. I want every letter to reach me no later than tomorrow morning, for it is then that I shall read them and select the winners. Don't forget those three important items—your name, address and age.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

On Wrong Line.

Am I glad television has not yet reached these country switchboards! One day I was spending some interesting minutes talking to the boy friend when another line signaled for attention. A long distance, of course, but I thanked the subscriber sweetly, asked him to hold the line, answered a few more calls and hurried back to the b. f.

"Isn't that provoking to get some long distance work just when we are talking?" I demanded crossly. "That's just like him—butting in where he isn't wanted."

"Who?" came the query, and without pausing to notice the voice I made peevish answer.

"Why that Bill So-and-So. He has to call up that girl of his to make sure she hasn't run off with somebody else. I wouldn't blame her if she did."

"Say, who do you think you're talking to?" roared a voice—unmistakably Bill's, and with a sickening sense of shame I realized I had gone back on the wrong line. F. H.

Chicagoans Are Active in Fetes on Atlantic Coast

News of Chicagoans on vacations at nearby or distant resorts continues to be the chief source of material for the society column.

The summer season at the eastern resorts reaches its climax this month. Our correspondents inform us that those of our townsfolk spending the summer along the Atlantic coast are taking part in a program crowded with social and sports events.

Bar Harbor hostesses are in the midst of entertainments incidental to the ninth international Maritime tennis tournament, which opened at the Bar Harbor club on Monday and will continue for a fortnight. The annual costume ball and fashion show for the benefit of the Bar Harbor hospital will be held tonight. Miss Bertha Palmer, daughter of the Potter Palmers, and Miss Eleanor McCormick, the Robert Hall McCormicks' daughter, are to be among the models in that show.

Southampton, L. I., also is holding its annual tennis tournament this week.

Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine gave a dinner on Monday evening for her son and daughter-in-law, the Lester Armours, who with their children are spending the month there as her guests. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Linn are to leave next week to spend the remainder of the month at Southampton.

Golf, yachting and swimming are the chief day time diversions at Wianno on Cape Cod. In last Saturday's yacht races, Miss Betty Crossett, daughter of the Edward C. Crossetts of 1200 Lake Shore drive, made second place in the Class B division in her yacht, Tomboy. Her young sister, Carolyn, won second honors in the junior sailing division. Mr. and Mrs. Crossett are to give a dinner dance for their daughters, Betty and Ruth, on Saturday evening at the Oyster Harbor club.

Miss Mary Fentress, whose marriage to Burwell Dodd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Dodd of New York City, is to take place next Monday, is foregoing the customary rush of prenuptial entertaining. There are to be no large parties for her and Mr. Dodd. Only a few of their closest friends have been asked to the dinner dance that her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Fentress, are to give on Saturday evening at Indian Hill.

The wedding is to be a small informal affair in the gardens of the Fentress residence in Hubbard Woods. Miss Fentress will have no attendants and Edward H. Dodd Jr. will be best man for his brother. After a brief honeymoon they will reside in New York in the vicinity of Columbia university, where Mr. Dodd is a student in the College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Col. and Mrs. George T. Langhorne of 1130 Lake Shore drive, Mr. and Mrs. Morris L. Johnston of 1520 Dearborn parkway, Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Brewster of Lake Forest, and Mrs. Joseph Medill Patterson are to go up to Lawsonia Country club on Green lake, Wis., for the week-end. Chicagoans at the club for extended visits include Dr. and Mrs. Mark Trude of 179 Lake Shore drive, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Harrison of Deerfield, Mrs. Frederick T. Hoyt of 1209 Astor street and her niece, Miss Katherine Wise of Rockford.

The Arthur Harrisons broke the golf record at Lawsonia on Saturday, Mr. Harrison having a score of 77 and Mrs. Harrison 104. Miss Eugenie Sampson, 17 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sampson of Winnetka, won the women's singles in the tennis tournament defeating Miss Theodosia Smith, daughter of Mrs. Theodore White Smith of 24 Scott street.

Miss Sampson and Miss Helen Fulton, daughter of the Frank D. Fultons of Winnetka, won the women's doubles meet, defeating Miss Marion Clow and Mrs. Benjamin Carpenter Jr. of Lake Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hixon of Lake Forest, with their daughters, Peggy, Barbara, and Joan, left on Sunday for a month's vacation at Diamond G. ranch in Arizona.

ANITA M. HADRICK.
[Maizene Photo.]

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hadrick of 4936 West Rice street announce the engagement of their daughter, Anita Marie, to Glenn W. Schweitzer, son of Mrs. Mathilda Schweitzer of Park Ridge. Miss Hadrick was graduated last year from Northwestern university and is a member of Kappa Sigma Tau.

Kids See Toads When It Rains at Algonquin

A summer rain in the city streets has few joys for back o' yard youngsters, but a summer rain in a summer camp—well, that's a different story.

"Gee, look, it's a hop toad!" cried the boy from Wentworth avenue, as he beheld one blinking at a bug. Little rivulets scampered from the sides of the hills. The fact that the heat wave was broken wasn't the main topic of yesterday in THE TRIBUNE'S camp for the underprivileged. What the city urchins discovered after the ravages of the rain was much more important.

Whether it was a toad or a snake wiggling through the grass, or brightly washed stones and pebbles, whether it was making a miniature dam at the Fox river's edge, or coming upon a new specimen of animal life sent hurrying out of a ground house, whether it was the squirrels chattering excitedly over a new hoard of nuts, or a frightened heron in the marsh, each opened a new avenue of adventure for tenement lads.

You business men, isn't it worth the $10 cost of the whole two weeks' vacation to give Chicago's underprivileged boys a day like yesterday? There are hundreds of boys living in the congested districts who merit a vacation at Camp Algonquin. Can you help give them one?

A box full of money reached THE TRIBUNE last night—$67.10 in all. It was the proceeds from the "Juvenile Follies of 1930," an amateur production given for THE TRIBUNE free ice fund by 75 boys and girls and directed by Mrs. Edward G. Shore, 2842 North Francisco avenue, a teacher of dramatic art. After the children had been practicing daily for six weeks the show was held last Thursday night at the Almira Simons hall, 1640 Hancock street, before an appreciative audience that brought the young actors back again and again. Many numbers were contributed by the Misses Elsa Braun, Gertrude Jones, Celeste Ballet, Ideal, Manning, and Lucille Fischer schools of dancing.

These gifts arrived yesterday for both funds:

U. S. Line's New Ship Christened by Mrs. Hoover

Camden, N. J., Aug. 5.—[Special.]—Mrs. Herbert Hoover broke a bottle of mineral water across the steel nose of a new steamship here today, christening the vessel Excalibur. Then she waved at the grinning workmen aboard the vessel as the hull slid down the ways into the Delaware river.

The ship is the first of four to be built by the American Export lines at the yards of the New York Shipbuilding company for use in the Mediterranean service. Her sister ship, the Exochorda, is to be launched next month.

Mrs. Hoover, in a black chiffon gown of flowered pattern and a black, ankle length chiffon wrap, came into the shipyard in a special train from Washington this morning. With Capt. Harold Train, senior naval aid to the President, and a party of friends she went immediately to the pier where the Excalibur awaited her.

Bright Colors for Stay-at-Hoover Lady

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—Colors for outside styles that are seen by the world at large are getting soberer and soberer. There has to be an outlet somewhere for our love of gay colors, and this Paris arranges for in the frocks that are worn in the home. They can't be too gay, and being so, they do a lot to make home a place you like to be in.

Some of the most beautiful ensembles for home wear that Paris is showing are in two or three bright colors and they are being worn by elegant women who entertain at home. Chantal, who is one of the great colorists of Paris fashions, is the originator of these bright toned clothes for your own fireside, and one of her new ensembles is shown in our sketch.

This ensemble is made of chiffon and comes in four pieces. There is a long coat of violet colored chiffon, with a loose lining of soft green chiffon. This coat has a circular ruffle that gives it a flared line below the knees.

Under the coat is a short jacket of soft, muted, turquoise blue chiffon, that you may wear without the coat when you are being informal. Under this are pajamas of blue and green chiffon. These pajamas have trouser legs that are, to all appearances, just like a circular skirt, and they have a soft sash at the waistline.

The sleeveless blouse has for its right half green chiffon and for its left half blue. The green part ties in a bow at the square neckline, giving a softly draped line to the front of the bodice.

Food Talk.

A friend of mine was shocked the other day when she found I had left unused canned fruit in the tin in which it was packed. And she was indeed alarmed when she saw me use the fruit to prepare a salad. I am sure she was afraid of that salad, but she ate it courageously with the rest of us. After the expiration of 24 hours and with no ill effect my explanation seemed to be more satisfactory to her.

It is always a little surprising to find these old fears still lingering and gripping us. Perhaps some of the canners themselves are responsible for this. On some of their labels there has been this advice: "Empty the contents as soon as can is opened." Many who have heard that tin salts are poisonous have concluded that food coming in contact with the tin, especially in the presence of air, dissolves enough of the tin to poison the food. Numerous experiments have shown that this idea is false and that food that stands in the can is not harmful.

The National Canners' association indorses the practice of leaving food in the can. So do chemists.

The can is the best place to leave unused food. The inside of the can is sterile, but the inside of the ordinary receptacle is not. As soon as a sterile dish is touched by the air, or even the cleanest dish towel, its surface is spread with bacteria, yeasts, or molds which soon contaminate food. Food, then, remains freest from contamination in the sterile can.

Of course, opened canned food should not be kept long in any container. It should be consumed as soon as possible. I never advise leaving it longer than from one meal to the next. We like the idea of freshness. Then, too, in a few hours enough bacteria will get into the food to start decomposition.

A can is also a most convenient container—often takes up less space in the refrigerator. If you have never left unused fruits and vegetables in the can until the next meal, try it.

FARM and GARDEN BY PAUL POTTER

About Insect Pests.

Insect enemies of the flower often discourage amateurs whose early efforts start healthy plants which succumb to the attacks of chewing or sucking insects. The United States department of agriculture in making a study of the problem developed standard methods for reducing the constant threat of damage which is present from the time of planting in the spring until the approach of winter.

Promiscuous spraying is not advised as insecticides are seldom if ever beneficial to the plant itself, according to C. A. Weigel, entomologist. He has divided the insect pests into two classes, those which chew such as the leaf eating beetles, grasshoppers, caterpillars and other wormlike forms, and the sucking insects such as the thrips, aphids, scale insects and mealybugs.

The former must be treated with a stomach poison. Typical of such poisons are the arsenate of lead spray, one pound of powder in 50 gallons of water, or the arsenate of lead dust, one ounce or part, powdered, arsenate of lead, four and one-half ounces of hydrated or air slaked lime, and four ounces or part superfine sulphur.

Contact insecticides are used for killing the sucking type of pest this expert has found. The poisons work through burning action or by poisoning through the breathing apparatus or by suffocation. Sprays used are nicotine or tobacco solution in small quantities, one to one and one-fourth teaspoonsfull to one gallon of water, when using 40 per cent nicotine or in larger quantities one fluid ounce of the same strength to eight gallons of water. Nicotine dusts containing five per cent of nicotine sulphate solution of 40 per cent nicotine content or approximately two per cent nicotine are said to give good results with plant lice and aphids.

In addition to the advice on equipment and use of insecticides which can be obtained at any reliable seed and insecticide store, Mr. Weigel warns users that these poisons can be equally as dangerous to humans as to insects unless properly used. Purchases should not be greatly in excess of needs, careful handling in well labeled packages and cleaning of spraying apparatus after using are advised.

Small, Large and Medium

The Apron

Regular—Junior

SURELY every woman will be interested in this news! A new standard of sanitary comfort . . . complete in every detail...because the Kotex Company has decided to make a sanitary belt and apron that are as perfect in their way as Kotex pads.

Belt curved to fit

The new Kotex belt is different from any you ever saw. It is woven, not cut, to fit the body curves. Light . . . yet firm.

This new belt is perfectly tailored and finished, as you would expect a Kotex product to be. The pinning tabs are of firm satin, so attached that body motion cannot affect the firm set of pad and belt. The pins are attached by fine, strong grosgrain ribbon. The belt comes in a choice of widths and sizes.

Lightly rubberized apron

Experiments were made until we found the exact rubberization necessary to waterproof this apron. We found that only 5/1000 of an inch was needed. Hence—a light, silken apron that will not become gummy. You will find it a desirable apron for constant wear, to keep skirts free from wrinkles.

Ask for both apron and belt at any drug, dry goods or department store where you buy Kotex. The belt—60 cents. The apron—85 cents.

CUBS' 3 RUN RALLY IN 9TH BEATS CARDS, 5-4

ALEXANDER, FOUND HERE, FIRED BY TOLEDO CLUB

BOSS WIRES HIM OF ACTION FROM HOTEL LOBBY

It's 'Road's End' for Veteran Again.

Old Grover Cleveland Alexander, who has been reaching the end of the road with considerable frequency in the last two months, brought up abruptly last night at the blind end of another baseball highway.

Alex was formally notified by Oscar J. Smith, president of the Toledo American association baseball club, that the Mudhens do not desire the services of one of the greatest pitchers who ever served in the major leagues, but whether Alex was cognizant of the fact that he had lost another job or whether he cared, even if he knew it, was problematical.

"A Very Sick Man."

The climax of the tragi-comedy which led to his latest dismissal was reached in the Congress hotel, where Alexander has been staying since Thursday night, when he arrived in Chicago en route to Toledo, where he was to join the Mudhens on Sunday. Since Friday he has been under the care of a nurse and has been secluded in his room, "a very sick man," and has ignored all of Smith's efforts to communicate with him.

Mr. Smith yesterday attended a meeting of representatives of the American Association and the International and Pacific Coast leagues at the Stevens hotel and simultaneously the news leaked out that Alex was at the Congress.

A reporter called at his room and was met by an amiable but emphatic nurse, who announced that Alexander could not be seen and that he was sleeping there with friends from the south. Efforts to elicit information concerning the identity of Alexander's friends failed because, as the nurse said, "They aren't baseball men and I'm not at liberty to tell their names."

"When will Mr. Alexander be up and around?" she was asked.

"O, he's up and around now," she replied.

"Well, when will he report to the Toledo club?"

"I couldn't say, as to that."

"Would his friends know? Perhaps they would be willing to talk."

Can't See Friends.

"No, you couldn't see them," the nurse insisted. "You come back at 6 o'clock on Thursday, and then I'll be able to tell you what you want to know."

"Well, could you tell me what is wrong with Mr. Alexander?"

"No, I couldn't tell you, now," she replied. "But it isn't what you probably think it is."

The closing door ended the interview.

At the hotel desk no information could be obtained. Alexander was not registered and the room clerk insisted that the room which he was occupying was vacant.

Meanwhile Smith also had made an effort to see Alexander and failed. He sent a messenger to the room and the nurse met him at the door with word that Alexander had nothing more to say to Smith and that "Perhaps they will communicate with him later."

He intimated that because Alexander and his party had moved from the room which they had occupied at the time he talked to Smith by telephone, the club president had no right to expect any word from his wayward pitcher.

Smith, however, could not understand why the transfer from one room to another should prevent his learning something about his own business affairs and he decided to call on Alexander in person.

Smith Offered Him Job.

"I offered him a job because I thought he was ready and willing to come back," Smith said. "I learned that, contrary to the popular supposition, he wasn't drunk when he pitched that last game at Dallas. He got a deal there, he told me. He was just ineffective, and they took him out of the box, and then released him.

"I told him I'd give him $1,000 to sign a Toledo contract and $1,000 a month. He accepted and said he would come on to Toledo. He left Dallas Tuesday and got here Thursday night.

"I talked to him on Friday by telephone and he said he would report Monday. I deposited $1,920 in a bank in Toledo for him and he had a Chicago banker verify the deposit.

"It cost me $2,000 to ballyhoo his comeback but I figured it was worth it. I notified a couple of sound movie producing companies and two movie newsmen were at the park. All of the newspaper photographers were there, and we had a good crowd, about 15,000. Then Alexander failed to show up.

"I tried to get in touch with him then and I couldn't. Now, I'm going up to see what he intends to do."

Smith Tries to See Him.

Smith walked to the door of Alexander's room and tapped lightly just below the sign which cautioned, "Do not disturb." The uniformed nurse

GOLF AND REST TODAY'S CARD FOR MASTRO, LABARBA

Featherweights End Drill for Tomorrow's Bout.

Today is a day of rest for Earl Mastro and Fidel La Barba, featherweights who will fight in the ten-round windup of the Stadium's midsummer card tomorrow evening.

Mastro, hope of the Chicago west side, will play nine holes of golf at the Lincoln park course this morning, in company with his manager, Art Winch. La Barba, although he plays golf occasionally, will not seek the links today, but will remain at ease in his south shore apartment. Tonight "Fiddle" will attend a theater.

They'll Just Limber Up.

Neither planned to do any serious training. George Blake, La Barba's manager, said the ex-flyweight champion will skip through a routine of light exercises, probably in his apartment, while Mastro is to appear at a loop gym for limbering up.

No excitement attends the boxers' weighing in at 2 p. m. tomorrow, as both are well below the featherweight limit of 126 pounds. Both Mastro and La Barba hope to add a pound or two by loafing today.

The Chicagoan went through the equivalent of six rounds of work with the rope and bag yesterday while La Barba, sporting a coat of California tan, was doing the same.

SHADE WHIPS ANDERSON.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Dave Shade, veteran Los Angeles middleweight, gave Joe Anderson of Covington, Ky., a trouncing in the Boston Garden's 10 round bout tonight at Braves' field. Dave's two fisted attack to the head and body gave him nine of the rounds. Anderson holding him even in the second. Shade weighed 158 and Anderson 163½ pounds.

FLOWERS KNOCKS OUT GROGAN.

New York, Aug. 5.—[Special.]—Bruce Flowers, New Rochelle's flashy colored lightweight, knocked out Tommy Grogan of Omaha, in two minutes and nineteen seconds of the first round at the Queensbsboro stadium tonight. Flowers shot a terrific right hook to Grogan's jaw and Tommy went down, but struggled to his feet at the count of nine, only to be met by another smashing right that caught him squarely between the eyes. Again he went down, but this time he stayed until carried out.

"O, PROMISE ME"

That's the tune James C. Petrillo, president of the Chicago Federation of Musicians, is asking his nephew, Earl Mastro, to play. The promise has to do with handing Fidel La Barba a beating when Earl meets him at Chicago stadium tomorrow night. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

WILSON HITS HIS 36TH; TEACHOUT STARS AS RELIEF

Stops St. Louis After Ump Chases Malone

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 5.—The Chicago Cubs this afternoon put on one of their old fashioned garrison finishes—a three run rally in the ninth—to win a handsome ball game from the St. Louis Cardinals. The score was Chicago 5, St. Louis 4.

The boys really got the idea from the Brooklyn Robins. The manner in which the league leaders won over the Giants today with three runs in the tenth, had been relayed to Manager McCarthy, who gave the fellows the win signal, thereby preventing those Robins from going three and one-half games ahead of the champs.

Cards' Manager Helps.

Even so, the Chicagoans were aided by some unusual managerial maneuvers on the part of Gabby Street of the enemy. Wild Bill Hallahan had held the Cubs to two hits up until Stephenson opened the ninth with a single and Charley Grimm followed with another single, the fourth hit off Wild Bill. Street then went into a frenzy and started juggling his pitchers with results that were most distressing to St. Louisans, especially Mr. Street.

More of the details later.

It should be mentioned before further progress with this narrative that one of the two hits off Hallahan prior to the ninth was Hack Wilson's 36th home run of the year. The hit came in the sixth with one runner on base at a time when the Cubs were trailing 4 to 0, as a result of a homer by Chick Hafey with two on in the first inning, and a homer by Frankie Frisch in the third. As a result of today's swat Hack is now only three home runs behind his all time season record and but seven behind the National league home run record.

Teachout Blanks Cards.

So Hack should be listed as hero No. 1 in the day's doings for keeping his nine in striking distance. Our No. 2 hero is Doc Farrell, who played brilliantly in the defense and also singled to drive in the tying run and advance the runner who brought home the winning marker. Our No. 3 star, and you can put him in a tie with the first two heroes if you care, is Bud Teachout who went in cold when Malone got chased in the fifth and shut out the Cards the rest of the way.

And while we're nominating heroes we hasten to add the names of Gabby Hartnett, the only Cub who made two hits; Stephenson, who started the ninth inning rally; and Grimm, whose single was a great factor in the successful tableau in the ninth.

Now then, we're going to tell you about the ninth—not only the Cub end but the exciting Cardinal half as well.

Four Singles Do It.

Stevie singled to right and Heathcote was put on to run for him. Grimm singled to center and Heathcote stopped at second. Rhem relieved Hallahan, and Hartnett singled to right scoring Heathcote and putting Grimm on third. Haines relieved Rhem and Farrell singled to center scoring Grimm, Hartnett stopping at second. Teachout forced Farrell, Hartnett stopping at third. Blair tapped to Haines who made a wide toss past J. Wilson, Hartnett scoring, Teachout taking third and Blair second. English grounded to Frisch and Teachout was sunk at the plate. Cuyler fanned.

Things didn't seem so happy when Bottomley started the last of the ninth with a double which missed being a homer by inches, but Farrell captured Hafey's grounder and threw out Bottomley at third. Pinch Batter Blades forced Hafey, J. Wilson walked and Teachout threw out Gelbert to end the ball game.

Umpire Chases Malone.

The contest included many hot arguments with Umpire Quigley. Malone was dismissed for protesting ball and strike decisions, and Managers McCarthy and Street, Catchers Hartnett and J. Wilson, and Hack Wilson received notice that any more verbal words would mean the showers.

Each club now has won eight games in the season series and will resume tomorrow with Guy Bush opposing Burleigh Grimes.

The Red Birds sort of tip-toed up on Malone in the first inning. The big boy seemed in good form when Douthit tapped gently to English, and Adams was equally mild in sending a grounder to Farrell. There was no great alarm when Frisch bounced a double off the left field wall. With first base open Malone tried to get Bottomley to hit at a bad ball. But Sunny Jim walked on four pitches. Hafey then cracked the first pitch offered him for a line homer into the left field bleachers, scoring Frisch and Bottomley ahead of him.

Score Again in Third.

J. Wilson led off the St. Louis second with a double to right-center, but he never got around because Gelbert was thrown out by Blair, Hallahan fanned, and English threw out Douthit.

In the third inning the score became 4 to 0 against the Cubs when

Judge Sabath Among 500 in Tribune Golf

Seventy-one names were added to the list of participants in THE TRIBUNE'S golf tournament as the entries closed last night. The last minute rush brought the total number of contestants to nearly 500, who will play throughout the season matched against unseen opponents of equal ability.

Among those to enter at the last minute was Judge Joseph Sabath. His card of 89 over the Jackson park course was received with his son Milton's 84. Under the plan of repairing the players after each match it is possible, should Judge Sabath improve a few strokes or Milton slip back a few, that they may face each other for a prize.

The field will be paired at the completion of the third round Friday and play in the next round will be under way over the week-end.

Awards will be made to those competing in the largest number of matches.

Third round results:

R. Roseberg, 4333 North Monticello avenue, beat J. H. Naud, 4454 West End avenue, 1 stroke.

Albedt Yuelil, 1525 Kolin avenue, beat Ed Hegardt, 5031 West Chicago avenue, 2 strokes.

F. E. Streich, 1655 Green Bay road, Ravinia, beat Carl Heldt, 1613 Berteau avenue, 1 stroke.

A. W. Tilley, 7645 Sheridan road, beat George Klein, 1038 North Oakley boulevard, 2 strokes.

J. Goodspeed, 7645 Sheridan road, beat Bernard Hawkins, 7010 South Carpenter street, 1 stroke.

C. C. Swanson, 3716 Clinton avenue, Berwyn, beat H. J. Hajek, 2615 South Central Park avenue, 3 strokes.

J. J. Laskosky, 1106 Broadway, Gary, Ind., beat Louis Seppi, 1319 Park avenue, Chicago Heights, 2 strokes.

J. L. Stout beat R. R. Laidley, 2231 East 70th street, 2 strokes.

Here's Way to Reduce: Tour Golf Course 10 Times

Hot weather during the week of the Western amateur golf championship caused Ira Couch, runnerup to Johnny Lehman, the new champion, to lose fifteen pounds. Not counting practice rounds, Couch went around the Beverly course ten times. Normally he weighs about 195 pounds, but after his battle in the finals he tipped the scale at 180.

Wacker Drive Wins; Pays First Ward Backers 40-1

BY FRENCH LANE.

That loud roar heard in the loop last night need cause no undue excitement. It was just the First warders celebrating the outcome of the fifth race at Hawthorne yesterday.

For Ald. J. J. [Bathhouse John] Coughlin's Wacker Drive stepped out in that event and astonished everybody except the First Warders, when he came galloping home in front. The First Warders who stood by their guns collected at the rate of $82 for every $2 invested.

It was the first victory Wacker Drive has scored since last October over the same Hawthorne course. It was the third race he had won in 38 starts over a period of two years and a half. Wacker Drive when a 2 year old had a Breeders' futurity to his credit.

First Warders Keep Faith.

Wacker Drive didn't have much to beat in yesterday's race. In fact he was in to be claimed for $3,000. But despite the lowly company with which he was associating, only the First Warders would give him consideration. The others backed Moderation, Princess Edith, Dabster, and Make Believe.

Princess Edith set a fast early pace and Wildale was running with her. Wacker Drive was fifth in the field of eight and did not begin to improve his position until they hit the lower turn.

Jockey Corbett sent him around on the outside and Wacker Drive soon had taken Moderation, Wildale, and Make Believe into camp. Only Princess Edith was in front of him. Wacker Drive put on one of his old time 2 year old rallies to conquer Princess Edith, who finished second six lengths in front of Moderation.

Wacker Drive ran his mile and a sixteenth over a dull track in 1:48 3-5. The mutuels read $82 to win, $24 to to show ... as the favorite and his show price was $2.84.

Exciting Day for Morrison.

It was a rather lively afternoon for Jockey R. Morrison, the stable rider for the Nevada stock farm. He stepped into the hero class as the program opened and heard the cheers of the crowd when he won with the 2 year old Voltagreen on a brilliant ride. He became just a dub in the third race and was left at the post on Kulaman. Those cheers turned to groans after this race, and Jockey Morrison will testify that there are no louder or more scientific groaners on any race course than there are at Hawthorne.

But Morrison wasn't going to quit the day's work in disfavor with the Hawthorne spectators. He came back in the six furlong fourth race and gave another fine riding exhibition to get Maiden's Tryst, an outsider, up in time to win by a wide margin from Hypnotism, on which there had been a heavy plunge at post time

Maiden's Tryst was away in close quarters, but Morrison soon got her out of trouble and he took after the pacemaker, Favorite II., on the turn. Hypnotism challenged at the same time and ran head and head with Maiden's Tryst to midway in the stretch. Morrison rallied his mount and she went on to win, going away for the rest of the distance. Maiden's Tryst paid $10.18 in the betting.

Jockey Killed

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Aug. 5.—Orville Cooper, 16, a jockey riding in this afternoon's races at King's Park, was killed and Percy Kennedy, another jockey, is in the hospital with a possible fracture of the skull, as the result of a spill. Cooper died on the way to the hospital.

Stanley Cooper, now riding at the Hawthorne track in Chicago, is a brother of the dead jockey. C. Corbett, another jockey at Hawthorne, is a brother-in-law.

Chicago Defeats Railway Nine, 3-2, En Route to Japan

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 5.—(AP)—The University of Chicago baseball team today scored a 3 to 2 victory over the Northern Pacific railway team in the first game of its series before starting for Japan.

Julius Rosenwald Loses Chess Game to an Old Friend

Julius Rosenwald lost a game of chess yesterday to Sammy Reshevsky, 18 year old chess prodigy who recently established a world record of 1,420 chess games played within a week period against all comers with no defeats.

Mr. Rosenwald and Sammy met in the executive offices of Sears, Roebuck & Co. The philanthropist beamed on Sammy and greeted him as an old friend, which he is. Six years ago, Sammy, who was then pitting his skill against that of seasoned European chess players, aroused the interest of Mr. Rosenwald.

He wished, along with scientists and others interested in the boy, to see the lad develop along normal lines. Therefore his brain and his chess abilities were allowed to become passive, while the boy's then underdeveloped body was given a chance to grow. It was Mr. Rosenwald who persuaded Sammy to retire from chess for the time being, and, in a measure, he "adopted" Sammy.

Sammy left last night for Detroit, where he attends the University of Detroit. With him was a classmate, Nathan Rubin, Michigan checker champion.

Rain Halts Sox; Play Browns Twice Today

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Rain that they looked upon as a sort of relief after four losing days at Detroit greeted the White Sox upon their return to Comiskey park yesterday. However, they will be asked to pay off this afternoon on their 24 hour vacation. They will be summoned for double duty against the Browns, the first game being billed for 1:30.

In one part of the double header Al Thomas, who last year and for several seasons previous rated with the star hurlers of the league, will pitch. Since his arm injury he has shown only traces of his old effectiveness, but Manager Donie Bush is confronted with a shortage of hurlers and must take them as they come, cripples or otherwise. Walsh or Braxton will handle the second game. The Browns' nominees probably will be Coffman and Collins.

After the bargain bill today the Sox will lock up their own park for the remainder of the month. In the interval they will make visits to the four eastern cities of the circuit and to Cleveland.

The present physical condition of his squad forces Manager Bush to look upon the impending jaunt as one fraught with perils. For one thing Carl Reynolds, the ablest outfielder on the Pale Hose list, may not be able to work for a week or more. He attempted to come back during the lamented series at Detroit and after making a few hasty moves discovered his charley horse needed further rest. Pat Caraway also is slightly out of kilter because of infected tonsils, but there is hope that the ailment will not prevent him from starting a game within a few days.

Troch Breaks 94 Targets to Win Delaware Shoot

Yorklyn, Del., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Breaking 94 out of 100 targets, Frank M. Troch of Portland, Ore., today won the Yorklyn Introductory, the double target event which featured the opening of the tenth annual T. Clarence Marshall five day registered shoot over the Yorklyn Gun club traps. Walter G. Warren, Chicago, finished second with 93 out of 100.

MINOR LEAGUES TO IGNORE DRAFT PLAN OF MAJORS

Committee to Report at Montreal Meeting.

A triple alliance to combat threatened boycott by the major leagues was launched yesterday by the three Class AA minor leagues at a meeting in the Stevens hotel. A committee, composed of one representative from each of the three leagues—the American association, the Pacific coast, and the International—was appointed to make recommendations for a common policy to be adopted by the minors in regard to the draft and other problems affecting relations between the majors and the minor leagues.

The committee will make its report at a special conference in Montreal during the first week in December, at the time of the National association meeting, when the major leagues' boycott goes into effect. The committee is headed by Walter E. Hapgood, general manager of the Montreal club of the International league. Other members are Charles Graham, vice president of the San Francisco club of the Pacific Coast league, and Oscar J. Smith, president of the Toledo club of the American association.

Ultimatum to Be Ignored.

Hapgood said that the three minor leagues have decided to ignore the ultimatum of the majors demanding that they sumbit to some draft agreement or lose the major league for their players.

"We intend to stick to the agreement we made in Kansas City in 1921 in which it was agreed that no league not in sympathy with the draft was compelled to accept it," he said. "If the major leagues want to sever relations with us over the draft, we can't help it. We plan to ignore the ultimatum if that is what it amounts to. That question, however, was not taken up today. The leagues have decided that issue separately."

If the majors carry out their threat no business relations will exist between them and the "big three" of the minors after Dec. 1. No players will be purchased and none sold or traded. Such an estrangement would cause some hardship on the major league clubs which own farms in either of the three leagues. The best prospects on such farms probably would be placed on option in draft leagues until they were ready for major league baseball or until peace was established.

Barnard Predicts Settlement.

President Ernest Barnard of the American league said he believed the difficulty would be ironed out satisfactorily by Dec. 1, but that the majors were determined the draft principle be accepted.

Seven representatives of the three class AA leagues met in yesterday's conference, which was held behind closed doors. In addition to the members of the new committee, they were William Neal, representative of the Louisville American association club; Warren Giles, president-treasurer of the Rochester International league club; Bob Connery, president of the St. Paul club of the American association, and George E. Muehlebach, president of the Kansas City club of the American association.

Renewal of the agreement with minor league clubs, the chief reason for the conference originally, will be in the hands of the committee.

SEATTLE BOY'S 73 LEADS PUBLIC LINKS TOURNEY

Jacksonville, Fla., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Harry T. Givan, 19 year old Seattle golfer, today showed the way to a field of 116 players shooting the first 18 holes of the qualifying round in the ninth annual national public links golf tournament. Givan shot a 36-37 for one over par, 72.

Bob Wingate of Jacksonville and Al Quigley, Chicago veteran, with a brace or 74s, followed Givan. Wingate, runner-up in the matches in 1928, had a pair of 37s, and the Chicago druggist duplicated the feat.

Carl Kaufmann, defending champion, who has held the title three years, was disqualified from further playing. The champion penalized himself a stroke today because his ball moved as he addressed it. His score was certified and posted, but later he was allowed to eliminate the stroke. Then the point arose that he could not have his score changed without violating a rule of the United States Golf association. The matter was turned over later to the U. S. G. A. officials, who announced the disqualification.

HERE'S A MAN WHO PLAYS GOLF IN A BIG WAY

New York, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Ralph A. Kennedy, wealthy retired business man, whose golf score is 750 (courses, not strokes) sailed for South America on the Santa Inez today to run the tally up to 1,000 if he can find enough links.

Kennedy's hobby is to play on every important course in the world, filling in the odd days by playing on the unimportant ones. He has driven and putted and sliced his way over most of Europe, Canada, and the United States, so now he's moving south. He already has his eye on courses in the Canal Zone, Ecuador, Peru, Chile, and Colombia.

He carried two trunks of golfing equipment.

MISS CARSTAIRS PREPARES BOAT FOR SPEED TEST

GRAVEHURST, Ont., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Test runs of Estelie V., which Miss Marion Carstairs will drive in the Harmsworth trophy races at Detroit, have been satisfactory and later in the week Miss Carstairs will attempt to break the world's record of 98.7 miles an hour for speedboats. The latest trial was to determine the efficiency of the cooling system which was installed last week. After the tests Miss Carstairs ordered new propellers placed on the boat in preparation for her assault on the record.

MICHIGAN MAILS 70,000 FOOTBALL TICKET BLANKS

Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 5.—[Special.]—Application blanks for football tickets went out today to 70,000 alumni and former ticket holders, the largest mailing list in football history here, Harry Tillotson, business manager of the University of Michigan Athletic association, said. The applications will be received Aug. 20 and those arriving before Sept. 1 will be accepted as of that date in the draw for seats.

While little drop in the demand for tickets is expected because of business conditions, purchasers are being allowed four ducats for each game, rather than one or two.

INCREASE LIGHTS FOR BRITISH-U. S. TRACK CARNIVAL

Soldiers' field will be the best illuminated outdoor arena in the world when the British Empire and United States track and field teams meet Aug. 27 in Chicago's first night track meet.

George Donoghue, superintendent of the South Parks board, announced yesterday that additional projectors were being installed at the stadium which will increase illumination to 400,000 watts or double the power which existed at the field for previous night shows.

"With the eight new projectors which we have added to the lighting facilities, the field will be the best lighted of any outdoor stadium in the world," Mr. Donoghue said. "We will have illumination more than three times that of the ball parks where night baseball is played. Recent tests have shown that action in any part of the stadium can be observed from all seats."

HOPPING WILL RESUME POLO WORKOUTS TODAY

New York, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Earle A. S. Hopping, youthful candidate for the American international polo team, returns to action tomorrow in the sixth of the series of test matches after a layoff of two weeks because of injuries suffered in a fall.

Hopping will ride at No. 2 with Capt. Tommy Hitchcock's Whites at the Piping Rock club field, Locust Valley, L. I. Eric Pedley, the Californian, will be at No. 1 in the varsity lineup for the fourth straight game with Hitchcock at No. 3. Cecil Smith, the Texan, who made an impressive début Sunday, will replace Winston Guest at back for a tryout.

Guest will play back on the opposing team of Reds, presumably for the purpose of testing the regular No. 1, Pedley. On Guest's side will ride Rube Williams at No. 3, J. P. Mills at No. 2, with Harold Talbott and Laddie Sanford splitting the assignment at No. 1.

ST. LOUIS GOLFER LEADS WESTERN JUNIOR WITH 75

Mullin, 1928 Champ, Fails to Qualify.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Charles Collins of St. Louis led a field of more than 250 golfers in the qualifying round of the western junior tournament yesterday at the Flossmoor Country club. Collins' 75 was one stroke better than the scores of George Swanson of Rockford and E. W. Budd of Silver Lake. The medalist is 19 years old and has been playing golf since the day he found that a club which his father had broken in half was just the right size for him.

Wind and rain squalls handicapped the contestants throughout the day and many of the favorites played unsteady golf. Among them was Dick Mullin of La Grange, 1928 champion, who shot an 84 and failed to qualify.

81 Is Qualifying Score.

Eighty-one was the highest score to earn a place among the 82 who will begin match play for the championship. Two 18 hole rounds will be run off today, two more tomorrow, and a 36 hole final Friday.

Charles Becka of Calumet, runner-up to Jack Westland, for the Chicago district title, finished near the top with a 77, while Johnny Howard of Kalamazoo, Mich., who qualified for the western amateur, failed by turning in an 82. John Van Nortwick and Morry Waud, who earned places in the Chicago district, also were off their game yesterday and wound up out of the running.

Three St. Louis Golfers Win.

St. Louis players had an impressive average. Of the five who entered three qualified and one of them was the medalist. The other two were William Edgar and Joseph M. Switz.

Although some of the scores appear to be high, it must be remembered that 161, the equivalent of 80-51, qualified for the national amateur when it was held at this course in 1925.

SENATORS SPLIT WITH YANKEES; RUTH HITS 41ST

Homer Soars 430 Feet Into Center Bleachers.

New York, Aug. 5.—(AP)—The New York Yankees succeeded in breaking the Washington jinx today, winning the second game of a double header, 10-1, after losing the first, 6 to 4. The victory gave the Yanks their third triumph in 15 games played with the Senators this season.

Bump Hadley was master of the Yankees in the first encounter, striking out seven and giving only eight hits, one of which was Babe Ruth's 41st home run. The drive traveled over 430 feet, going into the center field bleachers. It was the first time a ball has ever been hit into that section of the spacious New York ball park. Score:

3 Runs in 10th Give Brooklyn Victory, 9-8

Brooklyn, N. Y., Aug. 5.—(AP)—The league leading Robins captured a spectacular struggle from the New York Giants today, scoring three runs in the tenth to gain a 9 to 8 decision and an even break in the four game series.

Brooklyn went into the ninth leading, 6 to 1, but the veteran Cuban, Adolfo Luque, weakened with two out and the Giants tied the score. Bill Terry climaxed the rally with a homer that sent three runs across the plate and drove Luque to the showers. Heimach was called in, but one double sent him away, and Ray Phelps took his turn. Phelps was hit hard in the tenth, the Giants counting twice.

Walker, the fifth and last of the New York pitchers, was on the mound in the tenth, when the Robins scored three runs and won the game. Terry's hitting was a feature, the Giants' first baseman getting five hits in six trips to the plate. Score:

Do You Remember Way Back When:

G. W. Ludlow had a big shoe factory at Michigan and Randolph?—H. W. Hanna, Forest Park, Ill.

Alexander, Found Here by Toledo, Fired

appeared at the door, and Smith introduced himself.

"Are you Mr. Smith of Toledo?" she asked.

"Yes, I want to know what Alexander is going to do," Smith replied.

"I can't tell you anything about it," she said, with some asperity. "I suppose when there is anything to be said, Mr. Alexander will communicate with you."

"Just tell him this, then," Smith said. "Tell him that the Toledo baseball club has called off the deal. Just tell him that."

"I will not tell him anything," she answered. "I have a sick man here. I'm a nurse, not a messenger."

Smith went to the telegraph office in the lobby and sent Alexander the following message:

"The Toledo Baseball company hereby notifies you that deal for your services is called off and the Toledo Baseball company does not desire your services."

Jobless for Third Time.

Thus old Alex, for the third time this season, found himself jobless and unwanted, after 19 years of service in the major leagues. Released by Philadelphia, he had caught on with the Dallas club. Unable to regain even a semblance of the old form that had kept him at the top longer than any other pitcher, he was released by Dallas for failing to keep in condition.

Last night, before he had ever worn a Toledo uniform, Toledo dropped him from its roster.

This Poor Fish Travels Under Many an Alias

BY BOB BECKER.

Apparently about half of the fishing population of northwestern Wisconsin and northeastern Minnesota, to say nothing of thousands of fishermen in Michigan, use the name 'great northern pike" for large specimens of Esox lucius [commonly called pickerel] while others apply the same name to the true muskalonge found in northern waters. The muskies up there are the northern or so-called Wisconsin type.

This confusion of names makes the worst mixup on record and every summer fishermen get dizzy trying to settle arguments about these names. Invariably the trouble regarding the northern pike pickerel mixup is found in the fact that poor old Esox lucius [northern pike or pickerel as he is called] is not a stylish fish in many localities. In other words he doesn't belong. Some of the boys call him a "snake" which is the last word in fish names.

Therefore, some guides and others in the fishing fraternity wishing to elevate this hard fighting, savage species, call him "northern pike." But the situation gets worse when you cross the Canadian line and find that Mr. Esox lucius is a jack and again very much out of the picture.

If you wanted to sit down and record all the names which have been applied to the seven or eight fish in the muskalonge, pickerel, and wall eyed pike group, the ones which are confused as far as popular names are concerned, you would probably be able to assemble a list of more than 200. One of the interesting sidelights on the situation is that nine or ten of the names given the wall eyed pike figure in the list of names by which fishermen know the pikes, pickerels and muskies. And this adds another angle to the mixup because the wall eyes are not relatives of the Esox tribe.

Davis Cup Team Home; Lott Wins in Eastern Meet

Southampton, N. Y., Aug. 5.—[Special.]—A gallery of several hundred spectators that had put off its dinner hour to await the appearance of the American Davis cup team saw George Lott of Chicago defeat Jack Delara of the University of Southern California, 6-4, 6-3, early this evening in the Southampton invitation tournament at the Meadow club.

Arriving here by motor car after the other matches for the day had been completed, Lott announced that the other members of the Davis cup squad, who were taken off the Majestic at Quarantine at noon today, would not arrive until tomorrow morning. William Tilden, the national champion; Wilmer Allison, John Van Ryn, Berkeley Bell and Gregory Mangin will start play tomorrow, Bell and Allison being scheduled to appear in the singles and the entire squad in the doubles.

SARAH PALFREY WINS.

Easthampton, N. Y., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Play once more followed form in the Maidstone club's invitation tennis tournament today, with not one upset to mark the day.

Sarah Palfrey of Brookline, Mass., apparently had recovered from the scare she received yesterday when she nearly was beaten by Clara Zinke of Cincinnati. She eliminated Florence Le Boutillier today, 6-0, 6-3. Marjorie Morrill, Dedham, Mass., eleventh ranking player, defeated Virginia Rice, Boston, thirteenth in the national list, 6-3, 6-2.

Cubs Score Three in 9th to Beat Cards, 5-4

Frisch knocked a homer into the left field bleachers. Bottomley followed with a single to center, but nothing came of it.

Douthit pushed off the fifth with a double to right center and Adams moved him to third on a sacrifice bunt. Then ensued the series of debates which resulted in the banishment of Malone. Teachout went in to finish the job of pitching to Frisch and Frankie flied to Hack Wilson. Douthit tried to score after the catch and was doubled at the plate, Wilson to Hartnett.

The Cubs' sixth started with a fly to Hafey from Blair's bat. English walked and was forced by Cuyler. Hack then knocked his No. 36 into Grand avenue beyond the right field pavilion scoring Cuyler ahead of him. Stephenson fouled to Bottomley.

The Cubs for a while in the eighth seemed to have a golden opportunity but the chance was dissolved by a double play. After Blair had fouled to J. Wilson, English walked for the third time. Woody was safe at second and Cuyler at first when Gelbert kicked Kl's grounder. But Hack hit into a double play, Adams to Frisch to Bottomley.

MAJESTIC ICE BOX GIVES SHORT SELLERS A CHILL

Soars 9½ Points on Sale of 60,000 Shares.

Majestic Household brought a touch of color yesterday to the Chicago Stock exchange where proceedings for the past few days have been extremely quiet and when the close came the board showed a gain of 9½ points at 47½ on a turnover just under 60,000 shares. A high of 48 was reached in the trading, but this slipped off at the close.

Activity in this issue was attributed to the proximity to the date when production of the new Majestic electrical iceboxes is to start and to covering by shorts. A number of short traders on the floor are understood to have taken severe punishment during the proceedings.

Expect Deliveries Soon.

Production of the Majestic ice boxes has been held up by the delay in delivery of one special machine required in their manufacture. This is on hand and officials expect to have the ice box available for marketing about Aug. 15. Some departments are reported as working in three shifts in preparation for the delivery date.

With the exception of Majestic, the market was not particularly interesting. Most of the advances and recessions noted failed to get out of the fractional class. Grigsby Grunow, possibly in sympathy with its favored running mate, was in fair demand. It advanced 1⅛ to 15½ on a turnover of 16,100 shares.

Radios generally were steady, with slight changes. The Transformer Corporation of America announced that its sales for July were $210,000 as against $70,000 for the same month last year. Ross Siragusa, president of the company, said the firm is now making 3,600 sets a month and that this amount represents demand production.

In the general list Bastian Blessing, which has been fairly active of late, was off ⅜ in closing at 43. Marshall Field gained ⅝ at 38⅝ on moderate trading. Butler Brothers at 10⅞ was up ⅛ and Jefferson Electric gained 1⅛ to close at 33½. H. O. Stone dropped to a new low by closing at 5¾. Wieboldt Stores dropped 2 points to 25.

Automotives Steady.

Investment trusts continued steady, with only fractional changes. Insull Utility was off a shade on a turnover of 6,500 shares.

Automotives were fairly quiet. What few changes that took place were generally for the better. Auburn during the day advanced to 126 but closed at 24—a half point behind yesterday's finish. Bendix, Borg Warner and Cord all scored ¼ point gains and Houdaille was up ⅝.

Commonwealth Edison regained 1 point and Public Service of northern Illinois, no par, was up 3 points. As in the other issues, utility changes were fractional. Total sales for the day were 164,200 shares.

News and Gossip of Stock Marts

General Refractories.

General Refractories was among the relatively few companies to turn in a good earnings report for the second quarter of this year. It did better than it did in the corresponding period of 1929. Those who are supposed to know a great deal about the company's affairs say it should earn in the neighborhood of $10 a share this year. Unfilled orders on July 1 were 160 per cent ahead of those at the same time a year ago.

Expect Better Second Half.

Southern Railway will do better in the last half of this year than it did in the first half, in the opinion of Case, Pomeroy & Co. In view of the fact that Walter S. Case, a member of this firm, is also a director of the Southern, this view probably should be taken as official. In past years of business depression or mild recession, the firm states, Southern has earned a greater proportion of total net operating income in the second half of the year. We expect some increase in gross revenues and a decrease in transportation and maintenance expenses for the second half of 1930, it adds.

Lane Bryant Sales.

Decreasing retail prices have resulted in a lower profit margin for Lane Bryant although the company's sales thus far in the current year have been holding up well. The annual report includes operations of the Coward Shoe and Rite Corset companies from date of acquisition in January, 1930. These new subsidiaries are well entrenched in their respective lines and inclusion of their earnings for the full current year should enable Lane Bryant to make a favorable comparison with the 1930 fiscal period.

SLACK BUYING CUTS PROFITS OF LOCOMOTIVE CO.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 5.—The American Locomotive company in the first six months this year had a profit of $2,194,534 after charges. This was equal, after preferred dividends, to $1.10 a share on the common, compared with $3,075,939, or $2.24 a share, on the common in the first half of last year.

W. H. WOODIN. [Wide World Photo.]

William H. Woodin, president, reports that unfilled orders as of July 1 amounted to $15,472,948, compared with $17,834,363 on Jan. 1 and $31,727,460 on July 1, 1929.

Citing the decrease of 30 per cent in net revenues of the railroads in the first five months this year, Mr. Woodin said:

"Faced with this conditon the railroads have radically curtailed their purchases of motive power, with the result that the entire locomotive industry of the country received orders from the railroads for only 256 new locomotives during the six months under review, compared with orders for 536 new locomotives for the first half of 1929.

"Signs are not lacking that an improvement in general business conditions may occur toward the end of the year. In any event it is not unreasonable to believe that industrial progress and prosperity can not be long deferred in a country so vast in natural resources, energy, and accumulation of wealth as the United States."

C., B. & Q. SHOWS NET OF $9,231,000 FOR HALF YEAR

The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad for the first half of this year had net income of $9,231,000, equal to $5.40 a share, against $12,418,787, or $7.27 a share, in the first half last year.

The Colorado-Southern railway system reported June net operating income of $120,228, compared with a net operating deficit of $11,780 in the like month in 1929. For the first half this year net operating income was $1,154,052, compared with net operating income of $1,705,199 in the corresponding period last year.

United Verde Extension Mining.

Kindly send me information about the common stock of the United Verde Extension listed on the New York curb. What are the dividends and have they been paid regularly? Would this be a good investment at the present price?—K. C. W.

United Verde Extension Mining company was incorporated in 1910 under Delaware laws to succeed a company of the same name incorporated in 1902 in Maine. The company's property is at Jerome, Ariz., adjoining the mine of United Verde Copper company, and consists of 1,741 acres. An additional tract of 5,359 acres at Clemenceau, Ariz., has been acquired.

Earnings of the company have been irregular. Net income in 1929 was $2,988,898, equal to $2.85 per share earned on 1,050,000 shares [par 50 cents]. After dividends there was a deficit of close to $1,000,000 for last year.

Net income in 1928 was $1,020,026, against a loss of $533,772 in 1927, and net income of $250,314 in 1926.

The sharp upturn in earnings last year was due to increased production and high prices for copper which prevailed throughout a large part of the year. The company in 1929 produced more copper than in any other year in its history.

At the close of 1929 current assets were $5,267,834 and current liabilities were $447,487, leaving a net working capital of $4,820,347, which compares with $8,004,279 a year before. Surplus was $14,769,825.

In the first half of the current year copper prices were lower and production fell off considerably. In the six months ended June 30, 1930, 23,234,000 pounds were produced, against 29,779,766 in the first half of 1929.

The dividend rate has varied. At present it is 50 cents quarterly.

The stock is speculative.

Pacific Power and Light.

Kindly let me know what you think of Pacific Power and Light company's first mortgage 5s, due in 1955.—B. A.

Pacific Power and Light company $17,000,000 first mortgage and prior lien 5s, dated Aug. 1, 1930, and due Aug. 1, 1955, are secured by a first mortgage on all fixed property now owned and presently to be acquired by the company, including a new 16 story office building in Portland, Ore., and certain electric power and light and water properties.

AMERICAN BOND & MORTGAGE CO. HAS NEW SETUP

Eastern Creditors Bring Suit.

Control of the American Bond and Mortgage company, Chicago real estate investment firm, has been placed in the hands of five voting trustees chosen by the committees representing the preferred stockholders and the debenture holders.

NEWTON C. FARR. [Walinger Photo.]

This was announced here yesterday simultaneously with the receipt of dispatches from Augusta, Me., telling of the receivership proceedings brought against the company by a group of creditors who assert that payment on debenture bonds which they hold has been defaulted. The hearing was set for Aug. 11.

The petitioners claim to represent approximately $40,000 of the debentures, of which there is a total of about $5,000,000 outstanding. The action which was brought in the Maine Supreme court asks power to take over the affairs of the corporation unless payment is made at once, according to an Associated Press dispatch.

Name Trustees.

Announcement of the new setup whereby the control of the company is placed in the hands of the five voting trustees was made by Newton C. Farr, chairman of the debenture committee, and Hiram S. Cody, chairman of the preferred stockholders' committee. The voting trustees named are Holman D. Pettibone, vice president and trust officer of the Chicago Title and Trust company; Newton C. Farr, president of the Chicago Real Estate board; Hiram S. Cody, vice president of the Cody Trust company; Stuart H. Otis, vice president of the Central Trust Company of Illinois, and Arthur F. Davies, trust officer of the City Bank Farmers' Trust company, New York.

The new arrangement does not alter conditions with respect to the first mortgage bonds underwritten and sold by the company and now in default. The first mortgage will continue to be represented by a bondholders' committee headed by Craig B. Hazelwood, vice president of the First National bank of Chicago.

Will Fight Proceedings.

Mr. Pettibone yesterday stated that the proceedings brought by the eastern group would be vigorously resisted.

"Holders of more than 70 per cent of the debentures have placed their debentures in the hands of the protective committee headed by Mr. Farr. The committee will take part in the opposition when the matter comes up for hearing before the Maine Supreme court," Mr. Pettibone stated.

"Any one who has looked into the affairs of the company at all realizes," he asserted, "that the greatest protection to both holders of the bonds underwritten by the company and those of the company's own securities can come through continued operation of the company and not through receivership."

Has Large Investments.

The Chicago Title and Trust company has practically administered the affairs of the company since last summer after interest payments on a number of the bond issues had been defaulted. Control has been in the hands of the voting trustees since last month. The trustees have chosen Arthur W. Draper president of the corporation to succeed W. J. Moore. Mr. Draper is president of Draper and Kramer, real estate mortgage firm and is a past president of the Chicago Mortgage Bankers' association.

The company has large investments in properties in Chicago, St. Louis, Detroit and several eastern cities. The outstanding preferred stock which is represented on the new committee amounts to approximately $7,000,000.

Auditors of Steel Merger Terms Differ

Youngstown, O., Aug. 5.—(AP)—The terms of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube-Bethlehem Steel corporation merger should have called for 548,000 more shares of Bethlehem than the Youngstown stockholders actually were allowed, or $46,100,000 more in financial value, according to current market quotations, Hassell Tippit, of the Cleveland auditing firm of Ernst & Ernst, testified today.

With Tippit's presentation of the Ernst & Ernst audit, made for the anti-merger forces at the direction of Common Pleas Judge David Jenkins, the Cyrus S. Eaton interests reached the climax of the hearing of their suit to block the merger.

The report of Price, Waterhouse & Co., whose audit was used by the Sheet and Tube directors in negotiating merger terms of one and a third shares of Bethlehem for one share of Youngstown, is considerably at variance with the Ernst & Ernst conclusions.

Exchange Ratios Vary.

Price-Waterhouse recommended an exchange ratio of 1.203 shares, but in the merger negotiations the Youngstown directors succeeded in getting this boosted to 1.333, and then ratified it.

Tippit testified his firm found that the rate of exchange as made in the audit should have been 1.66, and, with that added by negotiation, should have been 1.79. On that basis, Tippit testified, the Sheet and Tube stockholders were entitled to 2,148,000 shares of Bethlehem common instead of the 1,600,000 shares received.

The current market value of the additional stock was estimated at $46,100,000 and, as of April 8, the date stockholders approved the merger, the value was estimated at $60,280,000.

The Ernst & Ernst audit, Tippit testified, figured Bethlehem's earnings at approximately $17,000,000 less than the Price-Waterhouse figures. The latter firm computed the adjusted earnings at $51,134,031. The Ernst & Ernst conclusion was $34,293,413.

Maintenance and repair, depreciation, values of certain stocks, computations of earnings and one adjustment after another comprised the testimony.

Reduce Estimates.

In two large items the Ernst & Ernst audit reduced the estimate of Bethlehem's earnings as compared with the Price-Waterhouse report. The largest of these, Tippit testified, was in the amount credited by the 1929 Bethlehem statement to 700,000 shares of Bethlehem common valued at $70,000,000.

The Price-Waterhouse company allowed for this stock full per share earnings of $15.98 on the basis of Bethlehem's 1929 earnings. In addition it made allowance for $20,000,000 of Sheet and Tube new plant investment at the rate of 11 per cent. For the stock and the investment Price-Waterhouse allowed about $12,780,000.

Tippit showed that Ernst & Ernst had deducted the $20,000,000 Sheet and Tube investment from the $70,000,000 valuation on the Bethlehem stock and allowed a return of 5½ per cent on the $50,000,000 balance. The result was $2,750,000, or approximately $10,000,000 less than Price-Waterhouse allowed.

The other large item making up the difference in the earning estimates was about $7,000,000 figured by Ernst & Ernst as due Sheet and Tube on account of depreciation charges. Tippit said his firm arrived at this figure by placing both steel companies on a four per cent depreciation basis.

Allis Chalmers' Unfilled Orders Total $16,674,000

Unfilled orders of the Allis Chalmers Manufacturing company as of July 31 totaled $16,674,000, against $17,926,000 at the end of June and $14,896,719 July 31 last year.

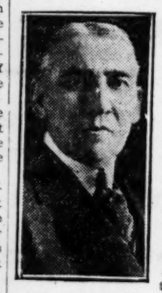
B. & O. RY. OFFER FOR ALTON'S BONDS TO BE AROUND 78

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 5—An offer for Chicago and Alton railroad first lien 3½ per cent bonds, due in 1950, will be made in a day or two at a price around today's close of 78, it has been learned. The offer will be made in behalf of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, which, as was disclosed some weeks ago, seeks the Chicago and Alton in accordance with the interstate commerce commission's consolidation plan.



WM. G. BIERD. [U. & U. Photo.]

Bankers for the B. & O. are completing final details on the offer for the 3½ per cent bonds. Arrangements have practically been completed with majority holders of the bonds, by Wood, Low & Co. The offer to be announced this week will extend to other bondholders the same terms granted majority holders.

Purchase of Chicago and Alton first mortgage 6 per cent bonds of 1932 has been completed. These were held privately by interests headed by Kuhn, Loeb & Co. The price at which these bonds were bought will be announced later. No offer will be made or is contemplated for Chicago and Alton common or preferred stock.

In early dispatches from Bloomington yesterday, William G. Bierd, president and receiver of the Alton, was quoted as having said that control of the road had passed to the Baltimore and Ohio. On his return to the city in the late afternoon he stated that he had only said Jerome J. Hanouer of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. was handling all negotiations for the purchase of the bonds, and he had no information regarding the progress of these negotiations.

PRICE OF CORN CREEPS NEARER DOLLAR MARK

Hyde Estimates Big Cut in Yield.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

The prospective yield of corn has been reduced 500,000,000 bu by the intense heat and record breaking drought, according to an estimate credited to Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, who was in Kansas City yesterday.

This was construed by traders as indicating a crop of around 2,300,000,000 bu, the smallest since 1903, when it was 2,244,000,000 bu, and is around 300,000,000 bu less than the average disappearance during the last five years.

Hyde's estimate, coupled with a statement by President Hoover that the government might undertake relief operations in the drought stricken regions, seemed to remove the last lingering doubts on the part of the trade as to whether the crop had been damaged or not and a wave of buying swept prices up 3⅞@5½c from the early low to a new high on the crop for the deferred futures, and the close was 2⅝@3c higher. September finished at 93½@93¾c; December, 89⅝@89⅞c, and March at 92⅞@93c. December at the top was up 23⅝c over the low of July 8.

Drought Partially Broken.

The bulge in corn was in the face of reports from northeastern Nebraska and parts of Iowa and Illinois showing that the drought had been partially relieved, with claims of ½ to 2 inches rain at many points. Many locals sold early, but the surplus in the pit was absorbed by commission houses, and when early sellers tried to reinstate their lines they found little for sale. Some stop loss orders were uncovered on the way up.

Claims of damage in the Ohio valley have been so sensational of late as to lead many to feel that they were exaggerated. However, R. O. Cromwell, the Lamson Bros. & Co. crop observer, after a 300 mile trip which took him through southern Ohio, across Kentucky and to Seymour, Ind., wired that it was the most desolate looking country ever seen. "Corn ranges from 50 per cent damage to a practical failure," he said. "Water is scarce everywhere; trees are losing much foliage and all weeds have dried up." As Mr. Cromwell is always conservative, his report was regarded as indicating a calamity.

Ears Filling Poorly.

Whether rains will revive the corn crop over a wide area is unknown. George M. Le Count, the Stein, Alstrin & Co. crop expert, who has covered Nebraska and Missouri in the last few days, continues to report a large percentage of barren stalks, and where pollinization has occurred the ears are filling poorly. H. C. Donovan, who is out for Logan & Bryan, wired from Boonville, Mo., that many late fields in the heart of the Missouri corn belt were now beyond hope of producing ears other than a few nubbins, although there are many good fields, especially on river bottom lands.

September corn acted tight throughout the day and at one time sold at 3⅛c over December, compared with 2⅛c on Monday. Small receipts and a good shipping demand were factors in bringing in buying of the old crop month and many of the pit element expect to see the near month sell at a big premium over the December.

Feeders Turn to Wheat as Corn Crisis Develops

BY SCRUTATOR.

Through a combination of circumstances unforseen a few weeks ago, our grain markets have leaped back under the governorship of the trite old laws of supply and demand. Wheat, produced beyond its normal market as a breadstuff, is being saved by the corn that was not capitalized by government.

A brisker air has prevailed in the grain markets since prices began to move on reports of damage to corn irreparable after nature had baked the corn belt. Doubtless there is more cheer in the wheat country and in the local elevators.

It is to be regretted that neither nature nor the federal farm board has been able to distribute the benefits that are accruing to agriculture as a whole equitably among classes. To do that by fiat would be about as difficult as to give each citizen or subject of the winning nations in the world war his due share of the reparations from the central powers.

Hides Stuffed with Grain.

The corn grower's product is advancing in price. For those that make a crop this is good news; for those whose corn is blighted it is unreasonable to suppose the prices can advance far enough to make up for their production losses. It should be remembered, also, that the corn grower is never that alone and that usually he feeds his own corn and markets it in the form of live stock. Generally speaking, cattle and hogs are hides stuffed with grasses and grains. From the economic standpoint, live stock are convenient vehicles in which to send grains to market.

Corn prices are high enough to justify the feeding of wheat at current levels. Mr. Legge of the farm board has quoted figures to show that it is cheaper to feed $1.11 wheat than 85 cent corn. On this basis, as cattle feed alone wheat should be worth nearly $1.20 now. Scientists at a number of middle western universities have strongly advised the feeding of surplus wheat. There are reports that flour mills of the hammer type in the east are engaged mainly now in grinding feedstuffs for dairy cattle instead of flour for human consumption.

But the corn grower is catching the shorter end of the stick in his cattle dealings. Lack of grass, and even, in some sections, lack of water enough for stock to drink are impelling farmers to push their supplies on to the market. Few feeders are being taken back to the farms for fattening—apparently only half as many, proportionate to the number coming into Chicago, as a year ago.

Gets Boost Upstairs.

Thirty million bushels of wheat are to be fed in the hard winter wheat belt, the Kansas State college estimates. In Indiana and Illinois and Oklahoma the estimates, while not so definite, are large. The guess is that the country will feed perhaps seventy-five to a hundred million bushels.

That reduction in surplus cannot fail to make wheat prices considerably higher than they would have been but for the damage to corn. It may go far toward changing the farm board's deficit in its wheat buying and selling toward the black side of its ledgers. The law of supply and demand has given the wheat grower and the board a boost upstairs while nature is blackjacking the live stock and corn grower.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 5.—The stock market became again today a place where business is transacted. It began to wake up with the customary flexing of its financial muscles and, although it remained in the hazy state of a man only half awake, it showed promise of clear eyed days to come. There was a slight increase in volume—1,250,000 shares—and offerings were readily absorbed, with better prices all along the line.

Since stocks touched the top of the recovery from June lows around July 18, the market has been rocking back and forth in an approximate 10 point range. The market averages have been bobbing up and down with the regularity of an old back porch pump. Each time the price range reached the upper limit on that zone it has reacted, only to run into a period of dullness which has discouraged aggressive operations for either the rise or the decline. For the fourth time this afternoon the market approached the upper level.

Here Is the News.

United States Steel common and one or two other issues actually went through their former resistance points by small margins. Right at that point Steel and its comrades met further offerings at the top, but turned extremely dull on the downside. A lot

PRICE OF CORN CREEPS NEARER DOLLAR MARK

Hyde Estimates Big Cut in Crop Yield.

Cromwell estimates that the shortage in the hay supply this season, as compared with the 5 year average, is equal to 145,000,000 bu corn.

Heavy substitution of wheat and other grains continues to be reported throughout the area where old corn is scarce, and the outlook for the new crop is unfavorable. Omaha claimed sales of wheat in carlots were being made to feeders. Damage reports are now being received from Rumania, Jugo-Slavia, and Hungary, indicating smaller exports from the Danube this fall and winter.

Wheat Prices Turn Upward.

The wheat market yesterday showed a disposition to reëstablish itself as the leading speculative grain and developed a very firm undertone, resisting pressure early when corn broke, and bulged 3¼@3⅜c from the low in the last hour of trading to a new high on the present movement, the top being 6¼@6⅜c over the low of last week. Final sales were at net gains of 2⅝@3¼c, with September 91⅜@91¾c; December, 97⅛@97⅜c, and March $1.01⅜@1.02.

Bullish news was given more attention, and it was the gossip of the trade that a leading local operator who has been talking bearish on wheat for a long time had been a persistent buyer for several days. Whether this was short covering or not was unknown, but all breaks during the day ran into aggressive commission house buying. Winnipeg was 2⅞@3¼c higher, with some buying of May there against sales in Chicago at even figures. Elevator interests bought September and sold December here, presumably changing over hedges. A spread was closed between Chicago and Liverpool December, the difference being 13c, but Liverpool absorbed the selling in good shape and finished 1⅝@1¾d higher than Friday.

Reduce Estimates.

Estimates on European wheat production are being reduced, the German figures being lowered 6,000,000 bu and wet weather prevailed in that country and the United Kingdom. Export sales in all positions were estimated as high as 3,000,000 bu, mainly Manitobas by the Canadian pool. Increased mention was made of probably black rust damage in the prairie provinces.

Outside interest in oats is broadening, and while longs and hedgers sold early the offerings were absorbed by commission houses and cash interests and the close was ⅝@1⅛c higher, with September 40c and December 43⅝c. Prices have advanced 5⅜@6c from the low of last week.

Rye was affected by the action of others grains and closed 1¼@2¼c higher for the day, with September 61½c and December 67c.

FOREIGN CROP NEWS

"Recent rains in Australia have been sufficient for present requirements and prospects in Victoria are excellent, but south Australia is in need of rain," says a Bromhall cable. "Threshing in early regions in Russia is well advanced and harvesting is extending northward. Italian threshing returns are poor and estimates from Germany reduce the wheat crop 6,400,000 bu and rye 31,450,000 bu. The official estimate issued last week placed the wheat crop on July 1 at 140,000,000 bu and the rye crop at 331,500,000.

"A semi-official report from France states that if the weather fails to improve the wheat crop will total only 220,000,000 bu. The carry-over from the old crop is placed at 36,000,000 bu. These figures would indicate imports of 72,000,000 bu for the spring season. European importers generally bought larger quantities last week and further buying will depend upon harvest weather, but recent bad weather caused further deterioration."

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw: Was easier today under more liberal offerings and a less active demand, with prices declining about 1-16th of a cent. The more liberal offerings in the spot market and the failure of demand to broaden on the recent upturn was evidently a disappointment to recent buyers in raw futures and led to renewed liquidation and selling by houses with Wall street and Cuban connections, with prices easy throughout the entire session. Approximate sales, 34,950 tons. Prices follow:

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Cotton goods were irregular today following the decline in yarns and an early weakening in raw cotton. Raw silk consumption in July was one of the largest on record. Cantons crepes and some other types of fabrics are selling for fall, but topcoatings are being shown by mills. Tropicals in staple patterns are expected immediately. More business is reported on silk hosiery in consequence of prices that will be maintained by hosiery mills to take the advantage of a reduction in other costs and low raw silk. Summer underwear is being cleaned up well in many lines due to prolonged heat.

PROBLEMS OF RETAILING TOLD BY D. F. KELLY

Merchants must make known to the public that they realize they cannot operate successfully if they fail to give expression to any change in basic commodities, said D. F. Kelly, president of The Fair, in discussing the "Present Day Problems of Retailing," last night before the convention banquet of the Interstate Merchants council at the Hotel Sherman. Mr. Kelly eased the worries of visiting merchants over chain store competition by advising them to confine their inventories to wares of popular brands and known prices.

D. F. KELLY.

Newspaper advertising was praised as superior for every day, year in and year out results for department stores. The maintenance of character and personality of a retail store and its competitive problems are the two prime problems of present day retailing, Mr. Kelly declared.

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, Cook county coroner, impressed the 2,000 visiting merchants and the wives of the cultural and civic virtues of Chicago, in contrast to her widespread reputation as a badlands for crime and break down of law. Chicago, he asserted, frankly exposes her faults by fearless publicity before the world.

Stock display and sales rooms of Marshall Field & Co. [wholesale] will be thrown open tonight to visiting merchants at an open house in the company's new quarters in the Merchandise mart. Featuring the program of the Interstate Merchants' council today will be discussions of advertising, chain store competition, and modernized selling.
